COOKE'S EXTENDS A CALL INCIDENTS OF THE DAY

TO REV. W. TAYLOR DALE, OF COOKE'S CHURCH, TORONTO.

Salary Fixed at $2,000 a Year—Recently Received Call from Church at Long Branch, Near Toronto.

A congregational meeting was held in the school room of Cooke's Presbyterian Church after the evening service on Sunday to discuss the filling of the vacancy in the pastorate of that church. Prof. W. J. Jordan presided over a large gathering. It was decided to proceed with a call, and the unanimous choice of the congregation was Rev. W. Taylor Dale, assistant minister of Cooke's Church, Toronto, who preached here yesterday. There was not a single dissenting voice. The salary to be paid was fixed at two thousand dollars per annum.

Rev. Mr. Dale is an Irishman, so that for the first time in nearly twenty years Kingston's Irish church is calling an Irish minister. He was born in Omagh county, Ireland, but received his education at Nottingham College, England. After graduating there he was for some time assistant minister at St. Augustine's Church, Edinburgh, Scotland. From there he came to Canada and spent some time on the mission field in British Columbia, and also at Little Current, northern Ontario. About eighteen months ago he was appointed assistant minister at Cooke's Church, Toronto, assisting the Rev. William Paterson. He recently received a call from the church at Long Branch near Toronto.

REV. J. W. STEPHEN'S APPEAL

IN ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH FOR THE VICTORY LOAN.

In a Sermon on "The Investment of Life," He Told His People of the Need of Buying Victory Bonds.

Rev. J. W. Stephen, of St. Andrew's Church, in the course of his sermon last evening on "The Investment of Life," referred to the Victory Loan as follows:

When a business man has money to invest there are certain questions he asks: Will it be safe? and will it pay? Investment in Victory Bonds stands both of these tests. There is no securer thing under the sun for all the resources of this Dominion are at its back. The man who subscribes to the Victory Loan truly lays up his treasure in heaven, where neither moth nor rust can corrupt and where thieves cannot break through and steal. I do not hesitate to say that it is unsafe for the man of means not to avail himself of this opportunity. For in this case "he that saveth his life shall lose it."

Not less is it a paying investment, for we are not asked to give, but to lend, and that at a remunerative rate. But on the higher ground of loyalty to Canada and interest in its development and prosperity it will pay us to subscribe. Canada needs this loan for the present maintenance of her industrial activities, and not less for the work of reconstruction, on which her future so largely depends. Consider what the failure of this loan would mean. Unless we can guarantee the credits the Empire requires in this country to obtain supplies she must look elsewhere. This would inevitably result in hard times for the Dominion for many years to come. On still higher grounds it will pay to invest in this loan. We must keep faith with the boys "who have climbed the steep ascent through peril, toil and pain."

At Ypres the Somme, Vimy Ridge, Passchendaele and Cambrai they gave their lives a ransom for many. "They saved others, themselves they could not save." That the guns are not thundering on Canadian soil is in no small part due to the fact that they stopped the gap against tremendous odds. However much we have done at home, our contribution is insignificant when compared with theirs. Thus if we are to be fair to the men who have given their all, we must not fail to seize this opportunity of placing our resources at our country's disposal, for in no other way can we so effectively help to bring this war to a triumphant conclusion.

In this regard it may be well to remember that, although victory is in sight, the war is not yet won. The enemy is still fighting on foreign soil. This is not the time to relax our grip on the foe, but rather to tighten it. This is the time to speed up and deal the decisive blow that shall make the world safe for democracy. This ideal cannot be speedily realized apart from a vast expenditure. Every Victory Bond purchased now will bring us nearer that day.

"When the war drum throbs no longer, And the battle-flag is furled In the parliament of man, the federation of the world."

NORMAN WILSON KILLED. Meets Death Four Days After Returning to the Front.

BLUE MONDAY SESSION. Two Thirsty Ones Were Fined by Police Magistrate.

Harold Levitt, who took an overdose of "flu" preventive, was taken in charge by Constable Leslie Armstrong and walked the cage in the Blue Monday session, before Magistrate Farrell. He got his medicine from a man on the street, who was kind enough to let him sample a quart bottle he was carrying. It tasted so good that Levitt drank about half a pint. The Court imposed a fine of $10 and costs.

William Pluff, who also took an overdose of the same medicine that Levitt sampled, was also fined $10 and costs.
