BATTERSEA SPAT ON KAISER

AND THEN BURNED THE EFFIGY IN A BONFIRE.

A Wild Celebration Took Place in That Village on Monday Over the Armistice News.

Battersea, Nov. 14.—When the G.N.W. wire announced the news of the armistice on Monday morning the local telephone lines took it up and it was soon heralded in every direction by wildly jubilant people while those living remote from the lines were quickly apprised by the frantic ringing of bells, the blowing of horns and whistles, and the firing of guns. About eight o'clock Rev. E. Codling marshalled his choir to the village square, where they led the people who assembled in a service of praise and thanksgiving. Then everyone who owned a car decorated it with all kinds of bunting and flags, filled it full and started for the city. Those remaining at home began preparations to "go over the top" at night.

By 9 p.m. a huge crowd, wild with jubilant excitement, had assembled on the square. A huge bonfire was started, a fine display of fireworks was let off around a splendid effigy of the ex-kaiser, erected by Pte. Bert Hartley and his brothers. After "his satanic majesty" had been roundly reviled and cursed and spat upon and buffeted and shot at he was liberally soaked with kerosene and then hoisted over the bonfire, which had been made "seven times" hotter for his reception, and there while the crowds cheered and yelled themselves hoarse, and the band played "There's a Hot Time in the Old Town To-night," he quickly paid the penalty of his misdeeds. A procession was then formed, and headed by the band, it marched to the Orange hall, where patriotic music was discouraged and impromptu speeches were made.

The Sunbury Ladies' Aid conducted their monthly meeting at the Orange hall on Wednesday afternoon. Clarence Hanley has disposed of his village property and mail stage business to "Tony" McKendry. The former intends moving to Milburn to farm with his brother, Fred, who lately lost his wife.

George Holder has gone to Sault Ste. Marie, where his wife and child were ill with the epidemic. Harold Clark has returned home and will assist his father on the farm. Miss Martha Clark, who has been training at the General Hospital, has also returned home.

George Kirkpatrick has built a fine new horse barn on his village property. Charles Holder recently purchased a purebred Oxford Down ram to replace the one he lost. A trio of local sports went skating for big game lately and one of them, Bennie Ruttan, brought down a fine buck. Our big sports up north are expected home on Saturday. Word came that they had already killed ten deer.

Mary Boyd, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Boyd, Mattland, and beloved wife of James W. Campbell, Winnipeg, formerly of Brockville, died on the evening of Nov. 11th in Winnipeg.

YARKER'S PROCESSION

In Honor of Victory—Women Took a Big Part.

Yarker, Nov. 14.—When the news came early Monday that the armistice had been signed there was great rejoicing. Doubt was expressed by some owing to the former hoax, but when it was confirmed by the phone and telegraph the bells were rung and the C.N.R. locomotives started their whistles blowing. The factory whistles were kept going most of the forenoon. The ladies of Yarker were the first out, as they started from one house to the other calling out the female occupants to join them, taking with them anything they could procure to make a noise, and they certainly did make it. They were joined by a band of boys carrying flags and singing patriotic songs.

The men not to be outdone, by the women, were called out for muster at one o'clock in front of the Commercial House. In the meantime effigies of the Kaiser and Crown Prince were strung on two wires across the street and bombs placed inside of them. Word had gone by phone of the meeting and by 1:30 p.m. the roadways were filled with men, women and children and autos. The procession moved off headed by J. F. Connolly carrying the Union Jack, and S. Winter with the American emblem. Then came the Yarker band. The procession was a long one and the school children were looked after by their teachers and sang patriotic songs as they marched. A number in the procession carried rifles and gave fusillades as they marched. The line of march ended at point of starting, when the reveille, Cyrus Edgar, took charge and placing a chair in the centre of the roadway he gave an address. Shots Prince's effigies. Fuses were ignited and the two world-wide troublemakers were blown to pieces as the crowd cheered over the event. The reveille then called for addresses from Rev. Mr. Everson, B. S. O'Loughlin, D. Smith, W. B. Quinn, J. Foster and S. Winter. Cheers were given for the Canadian boys who are overseas. The national anthem was then heartily rendered and the celebration ended.

Tamworth's Celebration.

Tamworth, Nov. 13.—Monday, Nov. 11th was one of the biggest days this village has ever seen. Just as soon as the word came over the wire that the armistice was signed all the bells began to ring. School was dismissed and the streets were filled with boys and girls. All the guns and ammunition were brought out. All the returned soldiers and others were lined up with school children and paraded the streets with flags. Guns were fired. The crowd lined up in front of a stand erected for speakers. W. J. Paul acted as chairman. William Lott was called to the front and presented with a gold watch and chain for his bravery in going to the front as the first man from this part of the country when war was first declared. Rev. Mr. Roark, Rev. Mr. Herrington and Mr. Rowell all delivered addresses. The soldiers fired a salute. In the evening there was a big bonfire.

Bugler Hackett recently composed these verses:

"WHERE DO I SLEEP NEXT!"
I've slept on steamboats
With my feet on the deck,
And I've slept in church
With a drink in my neck.

I've slept in fields,
Under the stars, Willets Rogers,
And I've slept on trains
In old box cars.

I've slept in fields,
Of purple and gold,
I've slept out in Flanders
In the mud and the cold.

I've slept in dugouts
With the rat and the louse,
And I've slept in France
In a fairly good house.

I've slept in barns
On beds of straw,
I've slept in sheds
With nae bed at a'.

I'm sleeping now
On a stretcher of wire,
And I pray my last sleep
Will be near a fire.

I'm tired of the wet,
The mud, and the cold,
And I won't be sorry
When I sleep in the fold.
