SECOND SECTION

CANON FITZGERALD HOME

HEARD KING GEORGE SPEAK ON THE ARMISTICE DAY.

Came Back on the Tunisian, on Which He Was Chaplain—Greatly Impressed With Canadian Soldiers in England.

Canon W. F. Fitzgerald, rector of St. Paul's church, who went overseas about two months ago to act as a transport chaplain, arrived home early Monday morning in splendid health and spirits. Canon Fitzgerald "ran into" an influenza epidemic aboard the ship on which he crossed to England and performed twenty-nine burial services. He visited France and Dublin, his old home in Ireland.

The canon was in London on the day of the signing of the armistice, and had the pleasure of hearing King George speak from Buckingham place and also Premier Lloyd George at Downing street. London, he says, went wild over the termination of hostilities. He says he was greatly impressed with the bearing of Canadian soldiers in England. In the parade in honor of the armistice the Canadians were given great ovations.

Canon Fitzgerald came across on the first troopship that sailed from England since the armistice. This was the Tunisian, which carried 700 soldiers. There were other ships in the convoy, which was accompanied by destroyers only as far as the coast of Ireland. Canon Fitzgerald was chaplain in charge of the Tunisian. Eight cases of influenza developed on the journey over. The canon's companion on the voyage over was Bishop Hind of Puh-Kien, China, recently consecrated by the Archbishop of Canterbury. Bishop Hind is only twenty-eight years of age and has served for the past six years at Puh-Kien.

Col. Bell Won Contest.

Lieut.-Col. F. McKelvey Bell, M.P., with his splendid letter, "Too Vile to Live; Too Cowardly to Die," was the winner of the Ottawa Journal contest based on the question, "What would you do with the Kaiser?" This letter was selected not only for its sentiment, but for its fine English and to some extent for its widely accepted conclusion as follows: "Far beyond the pale of human punishment let memory be his eternal torment and despair."

Dr. Morahan of the National Council for Rumanian Unity writes to the London Times that of 28,000 Rumanian prisoners in Bulgaria only 18,000 returned. In Dobrudja the Bulgarians massacred thousands of Rumanians, men, women and children. Their cruelty became so bad that von Mackensen interfered and had several of the offenders shot.

SMILES FOR WHIG READERS

A SIMPLE TASK

Monk (reading jiu jitsu book)—Grasp your opponent's wrist and throw him over your shoulder.

LOOKED LIKE IT

Spider—Hey you fool bug, what do you think I am, a target?

CAUSE FOR PRIDE

Plate—What makes Mr. Egg so uppish?
Cup—Eggs will be one dollar a dozen this winter, that's what.

SO APPROPRIATE

Do you know, I heard that Mamie Brown's engagement ring is paste.
How perfectly lovely and appropriate! You know her fiance is a paper hanger.

SPOILED HIS WORK

Doctor, this is an awful bill of yours.
I saved your life, sir.
Yes, but now you've made my life not worth living.

GREAT EXPECTATIONS

Her Dad—What am I to presume your income will be at the time you expect to marry?
Suitor—Well—I hardly like to put a figure on your generosity, sir.

A HOT ONE

"That is a lovely gown, but haven't I seen it before."
"No, I think not; I have only worn it at a very few smart affairs this season."

DASHING HIS HOPE

Thin Boarder—We're going to have a feast tonight. I heard Mrs. Hammond-Egge telephoning for one extra slice of beef liver.
Dyspeptic Boarder—Forget it. She's just taken in three new boarders.

BROKEN PROMISES

Faraway—Yes, married life has its disappointments.
Longsuffer—Lots of 'em. My wife has said hundreds of times she'd never speak to me again.

CANNOT RENEW FIGHTING.

Even Operations Against French Alone Impossible.

Berne, Nov. 26.—Field Marshal von Hindenburg, according to the semi-official Wolff Agency, has telegraphed the Berlin Government, asserting categorically that the German army, because of the hard terms of the armistice and of the internal situation, is in no position to renew fighting. The German military leader, added that even operations against the French army alone would be impossible.

YESTERDAY'S ANSWER
Right side down above heads.

The circle represents the actual body-building Power of an amount of Bovril corresponding to the small black bottle.

Bovril Creates Power

Bovril creates power as surely as heat steam; the Power to think, the Power to do. It is having its effect on the whole race, building sturdy men and women, increasing happiness, supplying that energy and vitality which makes the mere fact of living a pleasure.

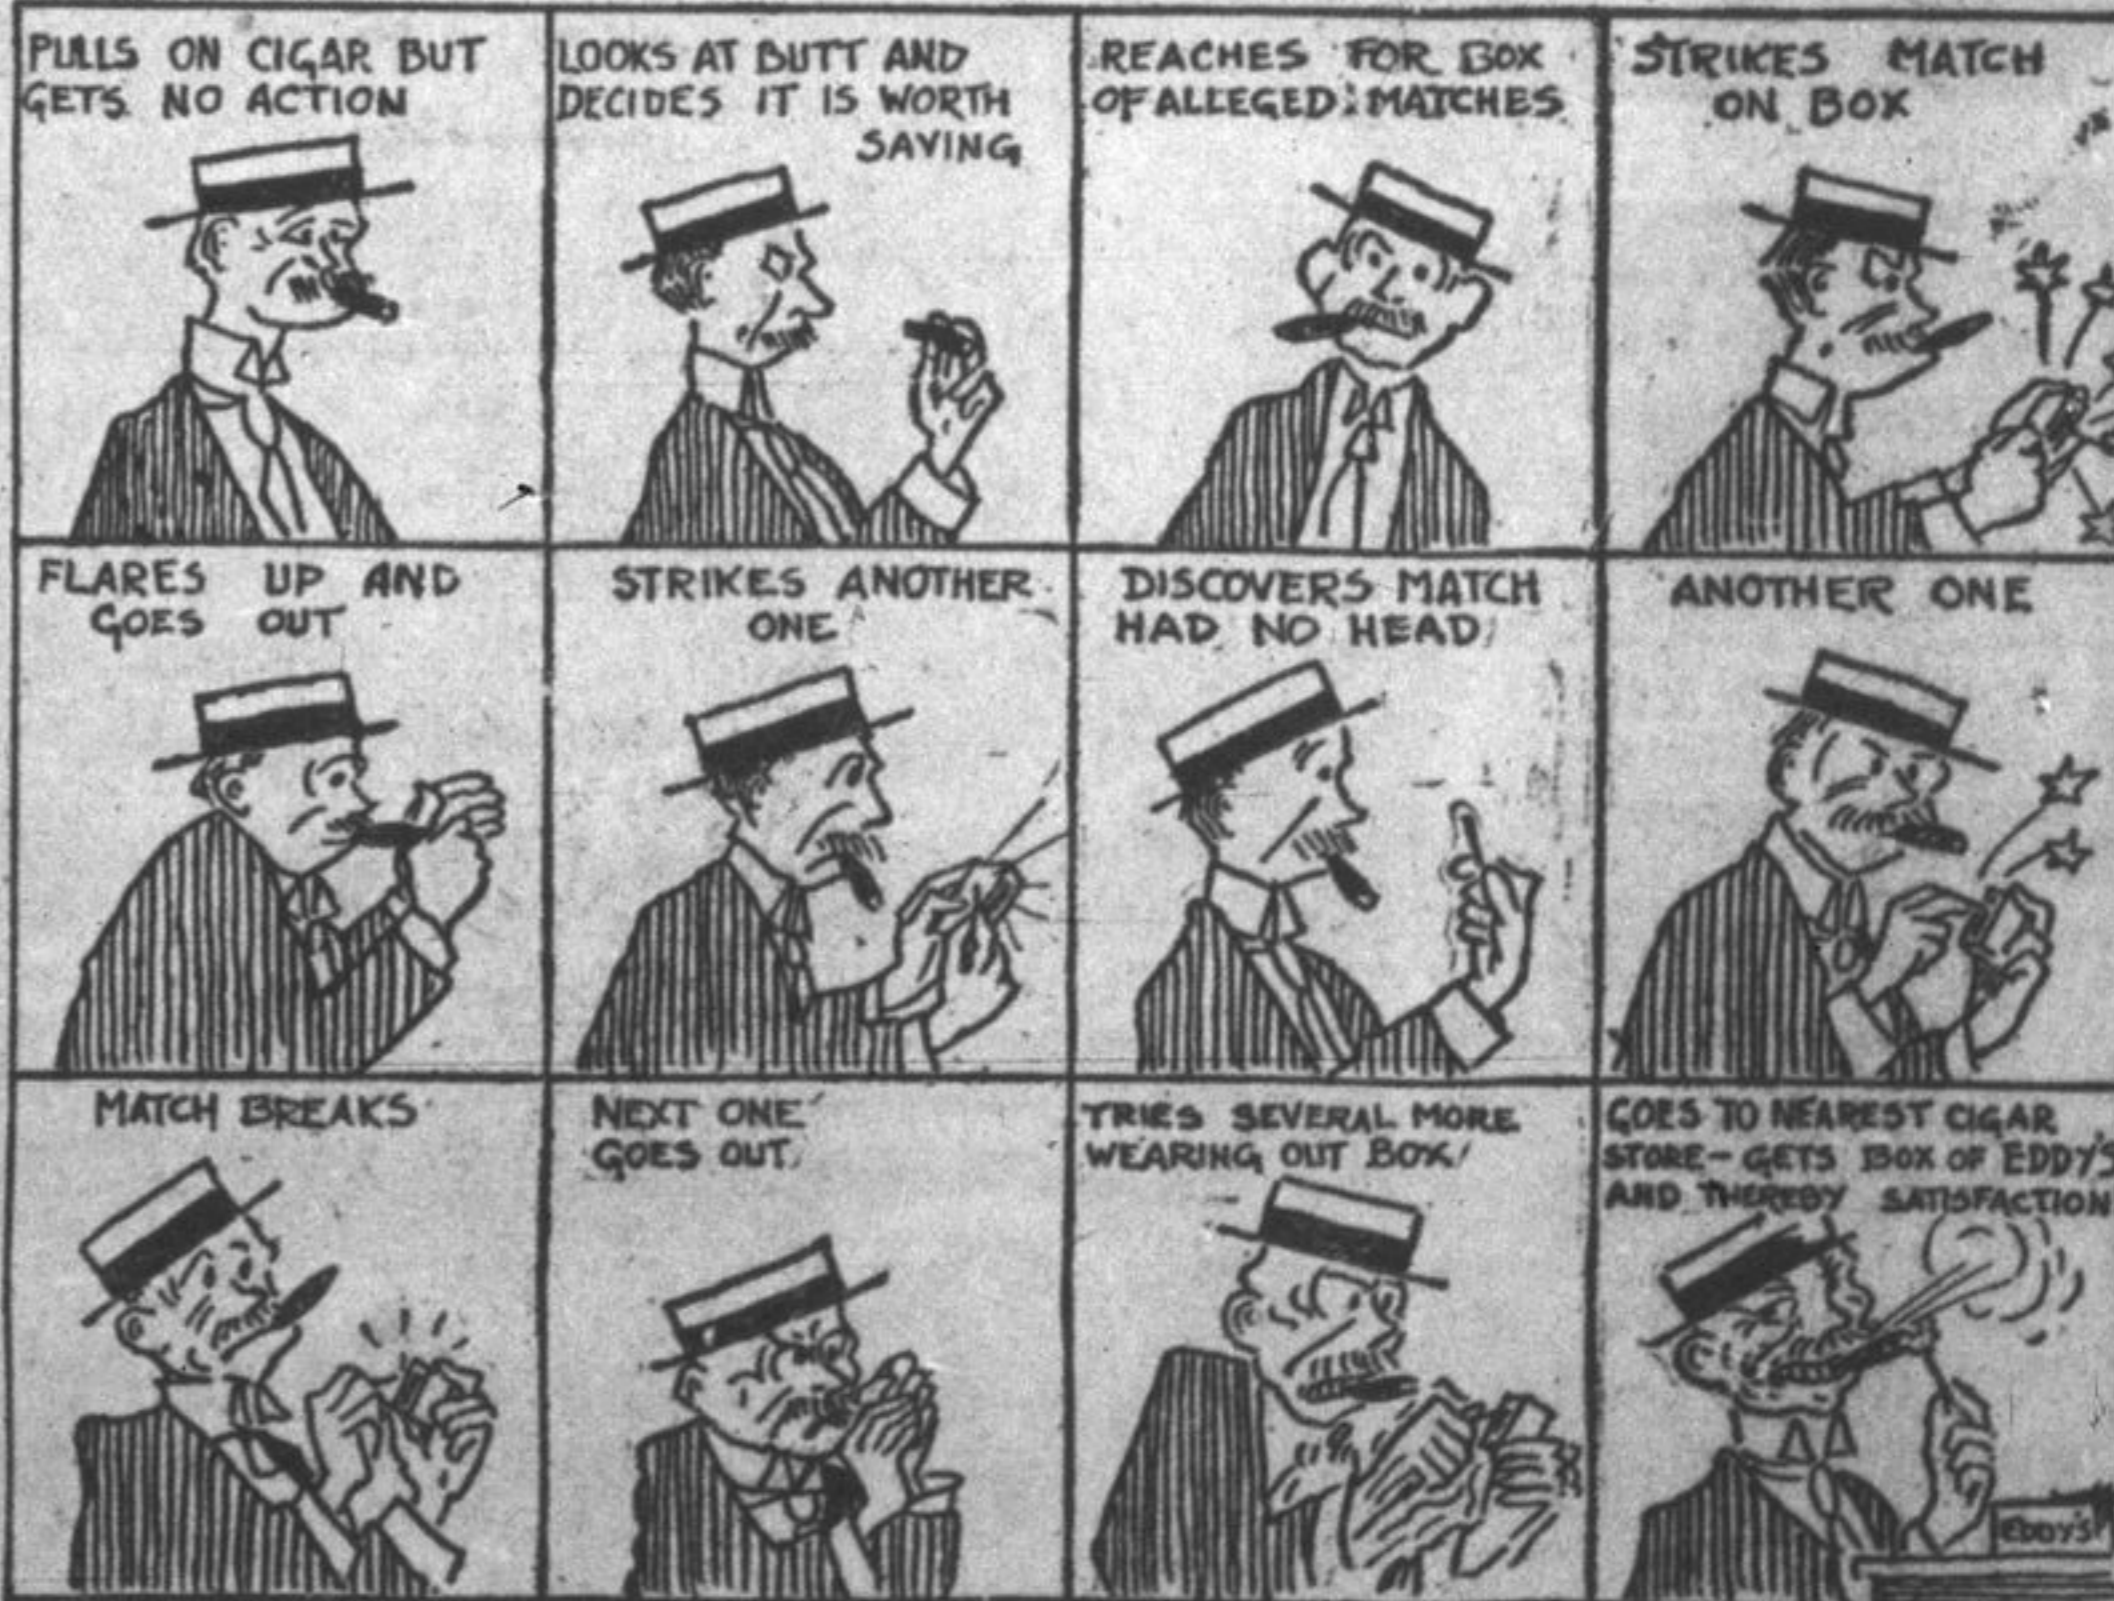

Just as a tiny speck of Radium radiates light, so a little Bovril radiates Power. In each of these precious substances immense energy dwells.

The wonderful body-building properties of Bovril were conclusively proved by one of the premier physiologists of the world, Professor Thompson. The tests were reported to the British Medical Association, and they showed that the Body-building Power of Bovril is 10 to 20 times the amount taken.

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY

WHEN you want a quick, sure light, remember this: Eddy's Matches have been standard in Canada since 1851; and since the assessment of the heavy tax on all matches (good and bad alike) it is more to your interest than ever to see that Eddy's name is on the box.

Tired in the Mornings

IT is only natural to be tired at night. And sleep—Nature's sweet restorer—usually comes with soothing rest to him who is naturally tired out after the work of the day.

But to be tired in the mornings is an unfortunate condition, since it tells of sleepless nights and of nerves that refuse to rest.

Unless the nerve force, wasted in the process of living and by the corroding worries and anxieties of the day, is replenished by nightly rest and sleep, there must sooner or later come a day of reckoning—a day of bankruptcy—for the human machine cannot operate without nerve force.

You may not have realized just what was the cause of your wretched feelings in the mornings, of the headaches and digestive troubles, of the restlessness and sleeplessness.

But all the time Nature has been using her danger signals to warn you that nerve force is being exhausted more rapidly than it is being replaced.

Your digestive system fails to supply to the starved nerves the nourishment required, so it is necessary to seek aid in condensed and easily assimilated foods such as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

There is no lack of evidence to prove the restorative influence of this food cure. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is so universally known and used that few people are ignorant of its merits, but this knowledge cannot help you unless you obtain the Nerve Food and use it regularly.

It is not a narcotic or opiate. It will not produce sleep. But when you have used it for a few days you will find the nerves so strengthened that you will be able to enjoy natural, restful sleep. You will not be so easily irritated and annoyed, and will obtain relief from headache and other pains and aches consequent on the exhausted condition of the nerves.

Naturally it takes a little time and patience to rebuild a run-down nervous system, but so long as you can see little improvements you will be happy to follow out this treatment until you are thoroughly restored.

In order to protect you against imitations of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food the portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M.D., the famous Receipt Book author, are on every package. Price, 50 cents a box, all dealers, or Edmansons, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.
