Military Matters

Sergt-Major Pennie, with R.S.A. has just received a letter from Banff, Scotland, wishing him a hearty Christmas wish, "with a safe, speedy, and victorious return home to the old royal burgh." The letter was accompanied by a cheque for $10 signed by Adam Walker, provost, and James Grant, town clerk. The sergent-major is very proud at being remembered. Every Bank boy in active service was similarly treated. The population is only over 4,000, and has 1,000 men in service.

The funeral of the late Pte. Harte took place from Corbett's undertaking parlors to Cataract cemetery at 2.30 p.m. to-day, with full military honors. Major W. J. McManus, garrison adjutant, was in charge. The R. C. H. A. band was in attendance, and the firing party was furnished by the C. G. R.

The troops who left Halifax on Friday morning have all been granted furlough, and will be dropped off at the station nearest to their destinations. It is not yet known how many of them will arrive in Kingston.

Five officers, fifty-seven other ranks, and forty-seven civilians for Kingston and district are due to arrive in St. John on the S.S. Tunisian on Dec. 31st.

The following are the Kingston men who arrived in Halifax on the S. S. Northland on Christmas day, and are now on their way to this city: C. S. M. H. Ware, Sergt. H. Duffour, Pte. E. J. George and Pte. H. C. Brown. They will probably arrive in Kingston late on Saturday or early Sunday.

Lieut. Charles Askwith, No. 3 C.A. S.C. Service Company, having returned from leave, assumes command of that unit.

Sergt-Major H. Black, W.O. has been granted leave of absence for the New Year holidays.

Owing to the necessity for the conservation of fuel, orders have been issued that all ashes from stoves and furnaces must be carefully sifted before being placed in the ash-pit.

Brig-Gen. V. A. S. Williams, who is promoted to the post of General Officer Commanding M. D. No. 3, succeeding Brig-Gen. T. D. Hemmings, C.M.G., visited headquarters to-day, and met all the officers of the different departments. He returned to Ottawa this afternoon.

The twenty-five members of the Arsenal Guard doing service at the plant at London since its opening, have returned to Kingston. Just what disposition will be made of the men is not known.

The S.S. Carmania, with four officers and 296 other ranks, is due to reach Halifax on December 28th. It was stated in error in Thursday's Whig that these troops were to arrive today.

The following men arrived in Kingston on Friday from Halifax, having returned from overseas on the S.S. Gramplan: Pte. A. C. Campion, Goderich; Sgt. J. L. Kenny and Sapper O'Reilly, New York, and Sapper Chambers, Aneroid, Saskatchewan. They are all on furlough in the city.

LANCE-CORPL. W. HOLLAND

Has Returned Home—His Ankle Smashed Near Lens.
Lance-Corporal William Holland, late of the 146th Battalion, C.E.F., and the 4th Canadian Rifle, returned home on Monday. He is listed in the 146th Battalion in 1916, and went overseas in October of that year. The battalion was broken up in England and drafted into units in France, and Corporal Holland was sent to the 4th C. M. R. He served with this unit continuously up to April, 1917, when his right ankle was fractured by the explosion of a shell before Lens. He was invalided to England, where he was eight months in hospital. After recovering he was made trench instructor. His voice gave out, and he contracted chronic laryngitis. He was expecting to return to France when the armistice was signed. Lance-Corpl. Holland speaks in the highest terms of the hospital treatment given the soldiers. Mr. Holland is a son of the late William Holland, of the Portsmouth penitentiary. His wife and children reside in Kingston.

DRIVER WAS HELD UP,

But He Escaped Highwayman by Frightening Horse.
Lindsay, Dec. 27.—Fred Parker, delivery driver for Dundas & Flavell's drygoods, was held up at the point of a revolver on Tuesday night and goods and money demanded. By frightening the horse he managed to get away. The highwayman is supposed to be one of three wanderers from Cornwall, two of whom were apprehended Tuesday for stealing a car at Frieson Falls. Their collateral includes gramophone records, jewelry, ladies' underwear, etc.

DESTROYED BY FIRE.

Lakefield Was Visited by a Disastrous Fire.
(Canadian Press Despatch)
Lakefield, Ont., Dec. 27.—The town hall, library, fire apparatus and lock-up, all located under one roof, were destroyed by fire early this morning. The loss is fifteen thousand dollars, partly covered by insurance. There was an entertainment in the hall last night and it is thought a cigarette stub started the blaze.

THEATRICAL.

At the Grand.
No better offering has been seen at the Grand in a long time than was presented there last evening, when charming and vivacious Jackie Saunders was shown in one of her latest pictures, "Betty Be Good." This was a story of a young girl who just had to have lots of fun even though as her father said, "she ought to have known better." Of course the whole film is not concerning the fun, but a great deal of it is, and the rest concerns what happens from the antics of this girl. She brought about the capture of a band of crooks, and many other things that made her amusement well worth while. Don't fail to see this picture, for it is first class entertainment and combines the laughs with the more serious moments. There was also the best News, an O. Henry story of the best kind and excellent comedy reels that rounded out a fine film programme. For the vaudeville, Hag and Wilson delighted their audiences with a class musical novelty of many instruments, and it was a real treat. This bill will be repeated to-night.

At The Strand.
The film version of the great stage play by Earl Derr Biggers, "Inside the Lines," will be shown on Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Strand theatre. The film version is even more dramatically intense and interesting than the stage play. "Inside the Lines" is a spy play. It tells the story of a German spy who is sent by the chief of the German imperial spy system to blow up the British fleet at Gibraltar. This spy dopes a British captain and gets into his uniform. He takes the British captain's papers and with them wins his way into the Fortress of Gibraltar. There the spy has many surprising encounters and the most surprising thing of all—the spy proves to be none other than Cavandish, of the British Secret Service, who has taken this desperate method of working his way into the secrets of the Wilhelmstrasse.
There is a delightful love story running through the picture. Lewis S. Stone, who played the stellar role in the New York production, stars in the film version. He is supported by Marguerite Clayton. "Inside the Lines" is corking good screen entertainment. See it.

At Griffin's.
The fame of Mme. Lina Cavalleri, the celebrated beauty and singer, who will be seen at Griffin's Friday and Saturday, in her latest photoplay, "A Woman of Impulse" is international. She has been declared to be the most beautiful woman on the stage, and the secrets of her beauty have been sought in every quarter of the globe. "A Woman of Impulse" is a masterly production that will live long in the memories of all who see it. It is a dramatic story of intense interest and deep heart appeal, and one of the most remarkable pictures ever displayed in this city. (Continued on Page 5.)

GETTING RID OF GOODS.

Wool Actions Soon; Trade Very Jubilant.
New York, Dec. 27.—The woolen clothing, knit goods and a number of other industries dependent on wool were elated to learn that the U.S. Government had definitely decided on a method of disposing of wool stocks in its possession and especially that the auction plan has been adopted. Last week a similar announcement was given out by officials in Washington, but was considered ambiguous inasmuch as the Government reserved the right to withdraw stocks offered providing a satisfactory price was not bid. According to the last report, the Government will determine values for the various grades of wool which will be announced and buyers will then know that at least the net figures must be offered if they expect to get possession of the desired grades of wool.
