THEATRICAL.

At the Grand.
Capacity house greeted the feature picture at the Grand yesterday, which was "Brown of Harvard," and started Tom Moore and Hazel Daly. In the role of a college man the famous comedian had a part to which he was well suited, and all the scenes of college life are faithfully re-produced on the screen from the championship football games right down to the hazing of the poor freshman when he enters college. Running all through the play is a very pretty little romance that adds a touch to the whole production that makes it much more interesting to the average person, and the film from beginning to end is just chuck full of young life, breeziness and the "pep" that makes the enthusiastic boy at college. Not only was this attraction good, but also the other reels on the bill, which were the Pathe News, a Judge Brown story and a very laughable comedy. For the vaudeville, Bob and Jeanne, eccentric dancers, gave a novel and amusing little entertainment that is well worth seeing. This programme will be shown again to-night and also to-morrow, both matinee and night.

At the Strand.
Hale Hamilton, Metro's newest star, who appears in "$5,000 An Hour," at the Strand theatre on Tuesday and Wednesday, was born in Chicago and educated at the Shattuck Military Academy and the University of Michigan. His first appearances were with Louis James and Kathryn Kidder, Wilton Lackaye and Nat Goodwin. It was as Wallingford in George Randolph Chester's famous story dramatized for stage purposes which first brought Mr. Hamilton into the limelight. In fact there were a trio of hits for him, the other two being, "The Fortune Hunter," and "The Ne're Do Well." Mr. Hamilton's popularity does not lie alone in America. He is a tremendous favorite in England and Australia as well. He made his London debut at the Drury Lane Theatre with Fanny Brough in "Sealed Orders." He played an extensive engagement there in "Get Rich Quick Wallingford" and it was during the run of this production that he received the unusual distinction of being requested to give a royal command performance of that farce at Windsor Castle. After a tour of the world in "Get Rich Quick Wallingford" Mr. Hamilton returned to America and appeared in that exorcisingly funny farce by Edward Peple's, "A Pair of Sixes." Mr. Hamilton bids fair to be the man of the hour in film circles. He's of medium complexion, is six feet tall and weighs one hundred and seventy-five pounds. Master O'Connor delighted the crowded house with his splendid rendering of "The Rose of No Man's Land."

At Griffin's.
Appearing in what may be aptly termed the best photoplay in which she has been seen in many months, Dorothy Dalton, the charming Paramount star, proved a delight to a large and enthusiastic audience at Griffin's last night. Her newest vehicle is "Green Eyes," and as the title indicates, it deals with the vital monster provokes in the lives of many men and women in this modern day. The story has unusual heart appeal, and is filled with intensely dramatic situations. Another highly successful photoplay is "The City of Dim Faces," starring the celebrated Japanese actor Sessue Nakayama. This is an absorbing story written by the famous screen author Frances Marion, and if a most hearty reception in any criterion, this is perhaps one of the best vehicles in which this sterling Japanese star has thus far appeared.

BOYS STILL IN CUSTODY.

No Information Yet Concerning Youngsters Picked Up Here.

The two boys arrested several days ago, and who, it is believed, ran away from their home in Welland, are still being held at the police station, awaiting word from Welland. No word has been received regarding the boys, and it may be that the youngsters do not belong to that place.

The lads are taking their experience quite good naturedly, although they would like very much to be removed from the police station.

Stole Money and Ran Away.

On Tuesday afternoon the police received word that the mother of one of the runaway boys from Welland would arrive in the city to take her boy back to Welland, and it is understood that the other youngster will return with her, too. One of the boys is alleged to have stolen $40 from his home.

Full Value.

In its operations among the troops, the Salvation Army never posed as a philanthropic institution. It had comforts for the soldiers which it had to buy, and which it sold at a margin of profit, not exorbitant, but something to help carry on the work.

But thousands of returned soldiers can testify that the Salvation Army never withheld a pint of coffee or a sandwich or a doughnut from a tired fighting man who did not possess the price.

That is the kind of religion that appeals to the casual man and woman.

Military Matters

A string orchestra has been formed at the Mowat sanatorium, under the supervision of Sergt.-Major Hall, W.O. There are some splendid musicians amongst the patients.

It was noticed that some of the men who returned to the city on Sunday and Monday from overseas were wearing red, white and blue ribbon of the Mons star. On being questioned they stated that they have been notified officially in England that they were to be awarded that unique medal. On Monday an order was published from headquarters, stating that all Canadians who reached France previous to the 31st of December, 1915, are to be awarded the Mons star. By this order, every man of the original first and second divisions who went to France will be eligible for this honor, including the men of the original 21st Battalion. Several others who went to France in auxiliary units and reinforcing drafts during the year 1915 will also receive the decoration.

Major G. Garnet Greer, M.C., C.A. M.C., arrived from overseas on Monday, and proceeded to his home in Toronto. Major Greer graduated from Queen's in arts and from Toronto University in medicine.

Brigadier-General V. S. Williams, accompanied by Major McManus and Lieut. K. Taylor, were at the Barrfield barracks on Tuesday forenoon. They inspected the quarters and the administrative staff of the 1st Depot Battalion, E.O.R., and the Engineer Depot, M.D. No. 3. The general also visited the barracks of the casualty company, and showed his great interest in the welfare of the men by gathering them around him in one of the rooms and talking to them personally. He showed special interest in some men from the Canadian Mounted Rifles, who were in his brigade at the time of the battle in which he was taken prisoner. The new general is very popular with the men, who love an officer who talks to them in this way.

One of the dormitories at the Barrfield barracks has been dismantled, and is being made into office quarters for the District Depot. As soon as the offices are ready for occupation, the staff will move from their present offices in the old business school, and will take possession at Barrfield.

Captain Lewis, chaplain at Barrfield barracks, is doing good work in arranging for entertainments for the men there. He is arranging to have concerts every Tuesday and Friday, and exhibitions of movies every Wednesday. A suitable platform is being erected, and the recreation otherwise improved. Any donations of pictures, pennants, newspapers and magazines for the boys will be greatly appreciated, and should be sent to Major McManus at the Barracks, or Captain Lewis at the Barracks.

Lieut. J. Sutherland, R.C.H.A., having been transferred to No. 5 Artillery Depot, Quebec, has been struck off the strength of the R.C.H.A.

Major E. H. Lancaster, C.F.A., has proceeded to Belleville on court-martial duty. During his absence Major C. S. Wilkie has assumed command of the R. C. H. A. Depot.

Lieut. C. Askwith, No. 3 C.A.S.C. Service Company, has proceeded to Belleville on duty, and during his absence Lieut. L. Gordon will act as officer commanding the company.

Sergt. M. Silver and Acting-Corporal A. E. Hanson have returned to Kingston for duty on the closing of the supply depot at Belleville.

The S.S. Aquitania, due at Halifax on the 24th, has 12 officers, 6 cadets and 53 non-coms, and men for the 3rd Military District.

May End by April.

Paris, Jan. 21.—French newspapers, which have been consistently pessimistic regarding the probable length of the Peace Conference, to-day predict that it may end by April. They base this prediction on the appointment of Premier Clemenceau as chairman. He is noted as a "speeder-up."
