Sporting Notes

Dan Howley, former manager of the Toronto International League team, has been appointed coach and scout of the Detroit American Leaguers.

Brantford, Simcoe, Paris and Galt are organizing a soccer league of six teams to replace the Brantford-Paris League, which lost most of its players by enlistment early in the war.

"Kaw" Sutherland, who played on the defence for the Barrie Juniors last winter, is now working in the Bank of Commerce at Belleville, and is playing hockey for the O.H.A. intermediate team of that town.

The Ottawa Hockey Club is notified that Cyril Denny has been fined $15 as a result of his fracas with Ken Randall in last Tuesday's game at Toronto. It is understood that Randall was also fined. Match fouls were likewise attached so if either player gets another he will be automatically suspended indefinitely.

MUSE CHANGE INTERNATIONAL
 Fultz to Revise Circuit—Toronto Club Wins.

The Toronto Globe says:—With his pockets bulging with applications for the job of manager of the Toronto International League team, President McCaffrey arrived in town yesterday. Included in the lot of several well-known pilots "Wild Bill" Donovan was considered for a time, but his appointment yesterday to the management of the Jersey City team takes him off the list.

The National Commission aroused the ire of the Toronto club by announcing that Schultz and Lalonde, who jumped Toronto for Kansas City, were free agents, but President McCaffrey has arrived at a satisfactory arrangement with the Kansans. Frank Truesdale who was also declared a free agent, and who jumped to Boston Americans, has been adjudged the property of the Leafs.

President McGill of the Indianapolis club has been ordered to show that he did not interfere with a player under contract when he negotiated with Lajoie, then the property of the Toronto club, to become manager of the Hoosiers.

Several major league teams have been engaged to play the Leafs here during the season and a number of games have also been arranged between various teams of the American and National Leagues. No dates have been fixed because of the fact that the International League schedule has not yet been drafted.

There will be some changes in the composition of the league, but that entire matter has been placed in the hands of President Fultz.

New Baseball Agreement.

The concluding session of a week of conferences between major and minor league baseball club owners was held in New York Saturday, the principal business being the signing of a new working agreement to take the place of the national agreement of the two major organizations and the Association of Minor Leagues. The minors now will be under control of their own board of arbitration until 1921. All players must be purchased from the minors for cash and drafts, and optional agreements with the National Association have been discontinued.

In case of future disputes, it has been proposed that minors and majors each appoint a representative, and these two will appoint a referee. This committee of three will adjust all differences which may arise.

With the decision to return to a normal salary list, in the National club owners are planning to be more liberal with their spring training plans.

Three Brothers Killed.

One of the greatest tragedies of the war from a golfing standpoint is that recorded in connection with the Cottrell family of professional players. William Cottrell was for five years with the Plymouth Country Club, a well-known organization in the States. Enlisting with a Canadian regiment last April, he was killed in France in September. His two brothers, two well-known players, were both killed during the Suva Bay landing at Gallipoli. Henry was wounded first, and Albert missing him, went back, and while binding his brother's wounds was himself killed. A second, and this time fatal bullet found Henry a minute later. Fine, stalwart young Britishers, the trio will be long remembered both in the States and in England.

To Nationalize Boxing.

Former U.S. President Taft, Major-General Leonard Wood and Provost-Marshal-General Crowder are reported to be interested in a project to nationalize boxing under new laws which will provide state contests for championships and later a national tournament to decide national championships. Organization of a board of control is among the changes suggested, this board to establish weights and rules. Colonel Roosevelt, it was said, had agreed to head the board.

Are All New York Men.

The passing of the control of the Giants into the hands of Stoneham, McGraw, Magistrate McQuade and their associates, all New York men, means that for the first time in six years the New York club really has their associates, all New York men. That means the attainment of a highly desirable state, which unfortunately does not exist in many major league clubs.

The devil's favors always turn into debts.

Outfielder for Braves.
 The Boston Braves evidently have picked up a player who may be worth much to them next season. He is Joe Riggert, who is an outfielder, took part in all the games played by his club last season and finished with a batting average of .326. He made a total of 191 safe swats and 29 of them were for extra bases. He was credited with making six home runs. He accepted 218 chances in the field out of a possible 220, giving him a fielding average of .991. A few years ago Riggert received a tryout with the Red Sox, but he was unable to make the team. He came to the Red Sox as a left fielder, but was outclassed by Duffey Lewis. The American Leaguers sent Riggert to the American Association.

New Scale of Weights.
 An amendment to the rules of horse racing, calling for a new scale of weights with a general revision upward, has been proposed to the New York Jockey Club for use on the tracks under its jurisdiction. It is announced. A meeting will be held soon to act upon the proposed change. The proposed increases will bring the scale up to and, in some cases over, that in operation in Eng-

One Employment Agency for All Canada

THE Dominion and Provincial Governments are co-operating to distribute employment quickly and fairly. Employment Offices are being set up throughout Canada—a single, complete chain from East to West.

In all, some 60 Employment Offices are being established. They will be located in all centres of 10,000 people and over—and wherever the need for them exists. One-third are already in operation.

Through these Government Employment Offices, all persons in need of employment, both male and female, will secure such positions as are available.

Through this same source an employer's particular needs will be promptly filled.

Indeed, the service rendered by these Government Employment Offices will be such as to warrant the heartiest co-operation and support on the part of employers of labor.

They will endeavor to supply only such help as an employer can confidently take on—the right man for the right position.

Thus, to the small employer of labor, they will take the place of the Employment manager. To the large employer of labor they will be of appreciable assistance.

The service of the Employment Offices will be given both to employers and to those who seek employment entirely without charge.

How They Work.

A superintendent is in charge of each local Employment Office.

Inside the office he has interviewers, to confer with those seeking employment and to direct them to positions. In the larger cities he also has canvassers or salesmen to call on the employers and show them the value of the services rendered by the Employment Office.

In this way the work-seeker and the work-giver are quickly brought together.

Every effort is made to secure up-to-date, business-like offices, conveniently located.

For the Soldier.

The same Employment Offices are used to provide positions for returned soldiers as well as for every other person in need of employment.

In each employment office there is a representative of the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-Establishment—a man who has served overseas. He introduces the returned soldier to the regular officials and gives him every assistance, both as to employment and other matters.

The Organization.

The local offices in each province are linked together by a provincial clearing house in the capital city.

They are directly supervised by a general superintendent who receives daily wired reports from each office. These reports state how many have sought work, how many have been placed in positions, how many and what classes need work, how many positions vacant. The general superintendent has each day a complete picture of the employment situation in the province under his care.

With the same idea in view, the Dominion Government has three national clearing-houses—established at Halifax, Ottawa, and Winnipeg. Those who plan to move from one locality to another can thus go "with their eyes open," because these clearing-houses show from their daily reports just what the employment prospects are—everywhere.

National Advantages.

With the completion of this single chain of Employment Offices the Government will be exactly informed on employment conditions.

Expert field agents will call on the lumbering, mining, shipbuilding and other industries to secure information as to anticipated requirements for labor.

Weekly reports sent in by trade unions provide additional information.

Finally, every concern with 25 or more employees will mail each week a post-card showing (a) the pay-roll of the previous week; (b) changes in staff and the nature of the occupations.

Advisory Councils.

Each local superintendent in the larger cities will be assisted by an advisory body composed of employers and employees.

Each province will have a similar advisory body.

There will also be a Dominion body—the Employment Service Council of Canada—to co-operate with the Department of Labor. This council will be composed of representatives from all those classes interested.

In addition to the above, the Government is co-operating with those who provide employment—so that as far as possible every willing worker will have work to do.
