

Applying This Paste Actually Removes Hairs

(Beauty Notes) Merely applying an inexpensive paste to a hairy surface, say beauty specialists, will dissolve the hairs. This paste is made by mixing a little water with some powdered delatone; after about 2 minutes it is rubbed off and the skin washed. This simple method not only removes every trace of hair, but leaves the skin free from blemish. To insure success with this treatment, be careful to get real delatone.

NO DELAY IN DEMOBILIZATION

The Minister of Militia Makes a Statement in the Commons.

CANADIANS IN SIBERIA

WILL RETURN HOME SOON, GENERAL MEWBURN SAID.

Major Cooper, of Vancouver, Makes an Attack Upon Sir Sam Hughes Regarding Letter's Charges Made Last Week.

Ottawa, March 11.—Steps which the Government has taken to facilitate the demobilization of the Canadian expeditionary force and the reabsorption of its members into civil life were passed in review by Hon. S. C. Mewburn during the debate on the speech from the Throne in the Commons yesterday. The Minister of Militia and Defence replied effectively to the suggestion of some members of the Opposition that the Government had neglected to face the problems of demobilization until the armistice which ended hostilities was signed. On the contrary, he pointed out, the Government had been making preparations for the return of the troops as long ago as 1916. Early in that year it had established the Military Hospitals Commission which later grew into the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment. The object of this department was to help the soldier back to health and profitable employment. Gen. Mewburn said that he still thought soldiers should have been brought back in accordance with the length of their period of service, overseas, those who had been longest abroad coming home first. At the earnest solicitation of the Canadian corps, however, the present system of bringing home troops by units had been substituted. Lack of ocean tonnage and the fact that the railways declared they were unable to handle more than 30,000 men a month during the winter had so far limited the rate at which the soldiers were being repatriated. Gen. Mewburn hoped that in the summer, when the ports of Quebec and Montreal could be utilized, the rate would be increased to 50,000 a month.

General Mewburn devoted some of the Dominion Government in sending a military force to Siberia.

The Taking of Mons.

Major Richard Clive Cooper, of Vancouver South, presented the suggestion that the lives of Canadian soldiers had been needlessly sacrificed at Cambrai last summer, and again at Mons on the morning of Nov. 11, the day the armistice was signed. Replying to Sir Sam Hughes' statements during the debate, Major Cooper said that Canadian soldiers' exploits at Cambrai would be a worthy subject for an epic, and the capture of Mons in the early morning of Nov. 11 would remain indelible in the memory of every soldier who fought there. The victory, which was attained at a cost of 75 casualties among Canadians of all ranks, was a fitting end, Major Cooper asserted, to the great deeds of the Canadian corps. He attacked Sir Sam Hughes, asking if the latter was as anxious to save life when he placed the Ross rifle in the hands of Canadian troops as he was at the present time, and asserting that the Minister of Militia should have known that the Canadian corps at Mons was "just a cog in the wheel."

DRIVING SPARTACAN BANDS FROM BERLIN Government Troops Are Executing All Who Take Up Arms Against Them.

(Canadian Press Despatch) Berlin, March 10.—Government troops were busy to-day in driving the Spartacan bands from various sections of Berlin and in preparing for a determined effort against the Spartacan stronghold of Lichtenberg, a suburb to the east of the city. The Spartacans are reported to have large depots of weapons and ammunition in Lichtenberg. Government troops sent to Lichtenberg on Sunday to protect the post office and police station were annihilated by the Spartacans. All soldiers and police officials who were not killed during the fighting for the post office and police station, or who did not escape from the buildings, were murdered by the Spartacans. Many were tortured and killed in the streets. At least one woman was among the victims of the Spartacans. The police archives in Lichtenberg were burned, and $9,000 marks were stolen from the post office. No attempt has yet been made to ascertain number of persons killed in the present uprising, but the number is believed to exceed 150. Reports of Spartacan atrocities continue to pour in and resulted to-day in the issuance of an order by Herr Noske, the Minister of Defence, that all found opposing government troops with weapons shall be shot at once. Many Spartacans were taken prisoner during the forenoon and summary executions began at once, the order of Herr Noske being welcomed by the embittered government troops.

The damage resulting from the fire which started early last week on the Santos docks, Rio Janeiro, and which is supposed to have been of incendiary origin, is estimated to reach $5,000,000. The damage was principally to coffee and jute. In the opinion of Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, amnesty should now be granted to religious, conscientious objectors to military service. He has given notice of a resolution to this effect, which he proposes to have discussed in the House of Commons. Sir Thomas White announced on Monday afternoon that all restrictions on imports from all part of the British Empire to Great Britain have been removed.

POPE WANTS SPEEDY PEACE.

As He Feels the Spread of Bolshevism in Germany. (Canadian Press Despatch) Paris, March 11.—It has become known that Pope Benedict has addressed an appeal to the powers emphasizing the urgency of the speedy conclusion of peace with Germany. It is understood that the Pontiff states that the situation in Germany, socially and economically, is very grave and that he fears the spread of Bolshevism. The Pope is reported to have said that he feels that the only way to avoid such an eventuality is a speedy peace, a peace, he says, which will not humiliate the German people.
