SOLDIERS' AID COMMISSION

WANTS GOVERNMENT POSTS FILLED BY RETURNED MEN.

Ex-Mayor J. M. Hughes Appointed Chairman of the Employment Committee—Monday Meeting Largely Attended.

The first meeting of the Kingston Branch of the Soldiers' Aid Commission was held in the council chamber on Monday afternoon. About twenty-five of the members attended and Ex-Mayor J. M. Hughes occupied the chair. The names of Mrs. H. P. Smith, of the Victorian Order of Nurses and Mrs. John Wright, of the Poor Relief Association were added to the committee. The secretary reported that there are on the lists of the commission twenty-one returned soldiers from Kingston and district who are looking for employment, and that at present there are only three vacancies on the books. J. M. Hughes was appointed as chairman of the employment committee and was given power to name his own committee.

The financial statement gave the amount of money on loan to soldiers, and showed a balance in the bank of $182.83. The mayor, Ald. N. Smith, J. Litton, W. J. B. White, and F. M. Hughes were appointed to act as finance committee.

Short addresses were given by Prof. Manley Baker, district vocational officer, and H. C. Nickle about the problems of the soldiers and their pay and allowances, and urging that great care be taken in giving financial assistance to soldiers to ensure that their cases are genuine.

The policy of the Civil Service Commission was discussed, cases being cited of injustice to soldiers in filling government positions, and the following resolution was passed, to be forwarded to the member for Kingston to be brought up in the House: "That this Commission goes on record that a more easy method of securing government positions for returned men than at present observed, and that the Civil Service Commission fill all temporary positions with returned men so that they will have a fair chance of obtaining a permanent position."

THEATRICAL.

At The Grand.

A crowded house testified to the wisdom of the management of the Grand Opera House in bringing to this city for its first showing last evening the all-British film, "Kiddies in the Rules." The production is a splendid successor to "The Better Ole," and the cast selected by the company for this picture, both "kiddies" and "grown ups," is made up of screen artists who at all times were surrounded by the paths and atmosphere of the ruins of pastoral France. The keynote and plot of the picture was voiced by "Alf" of the "Better Ole" when he answers: "What is this blinking war about? Why this war is to save the kiddies, my kiddies—our kiddies." But not only was this film on the programme for there was also the Pathe News, a good two reeler and additional excellent comedy reels that along with Dixon and Bell in an eccentric vaudeville act completed a fine entertainment that will be shown again to-night and also to-morrow both matinee and night.

"Pretty Baby."

The one or less per cent. of our population that pronounces drama with a broad "a" and that believes the mission of the theatre is, or should be, solely educational, will probably not like the big song sensation, "Pretty Baby," which Jimmie Hodges will present at the Grand Opera House on Saturday, March 15th, matinee and night. On the other hand the ninety-nine per cent. who pay money to be entertained will say that it is a rattling good musical comedy and one that lovers of good clean wholesome musical comedy should not miss. Amongst the musical comedy favorites of past seasons who will be seen with the big show are Howard Myer and Bernice La Barr, Edna Jacques, George Twyman, Joe McAnallen, Norman Coudy and the famous Jimmie Hodges' Dixie chorus of sixteen singing and dancing nymphs dressed in costumes which will be the envy of every feminine heart in the audience.

At Griffin's.

Appearing in one of the most charming stories of her screen career, Dorothy Gish, the beautiful and sprightly Paramount star, who won fame as the Little Disturber in D. W. Griffith's superb picture "Hearts of the World," made a deep impression by her artistic portrayal of Sheila Moore in a splendid impersonation of Mark Lee Luther's novel "The Hope Chest." This is in every respect a charming photoplay and a fitting vehicle for the display of the delightful personality of Miss Gish, and her buoyant nature, her effervescent youth and above all, her artistry, are constantly in evidence.

Another photoplay of distinct merit, and which proved highly pleasing to the large audience last evening is Taylor Holmes in "Two Bit Seats," a delightful comic drama, in which the gifted star is seen to the best advantage, and he makes the most of the opportunities afforded him. A mirth provoking Mack Sennet comedy completes an unusually well balanced bill, which is sure to grow in popular favor at each showing.—Adv.

Military Matters

Principal R. Bruce Taylor has gone to Montreal to take part in the reception being given to the 42nd Battalion Royal Highlanders of Canada. Principal Taylor served in France as the captain of this unit with the rank of major, and he is naturally greatly interested in meeting his old unit on its return. The city of Montreal gave a monster reception to the highlanders to-day, a public holiday being declared.

Lieut.-Col. G. E. Kidd, M.C., C.A., M.C., arrived from overseas this week and reported at headquarters to-day. Lieut.-Col. Kidd went overseas with a Queen's medical unit in 1915 and served continuously up to the close of the war.

In the reorganization of the militia units under the recent order the general officer commanding has caused a circular to be issued to the commanding officers, asking for information in order that due consideration may be given to each unit in carrying out the scheme.

PREMIERS OF POWERS A STEERING COMMITTEE

Provide an Effective Organization For Rapid Discharge of Business.

(Canadian Press Despatch.)
Paris, March 11.—The presence of Premier Lloyd George in Paris is permitting of daily conferences of the premiers of the powers as a sort of steering committee to direct the course of the main work of the conference. The session yesterday was attended by Premiers Clemenceau and Lloyd George and Colonel E. M. House, representing President Wilson. Premier Orlando of Italy will join the other Premiers to-day, and when President Wilson arrives it is expected that these conferences of government heads will gradually take the place of the council of the great powers, which experience has shown to give too much time to speeches. The conferences of the premiers, on the other hand, are providing an effective organization for the rapid discharge of business. This rapidly insures the drafting of peace within the limit fixed a week from next Thursday.

No Divorce For Italians.
Rome, March 11.—A movement to introduce divorce in Italy met with defeat in the chamber of deputies. The question came up during discussion of a measure concerning the legal status of women. An amendment was proposed providing for the introduction of divorce in Italian legislation, but it was rejected by a large majority.
