HALF MILLION MEMBERS WITHIN FIVE YEARS

Aim Set Before Grand Lodge of Orangemen by H. C. Hocken.

Winnipeg, March 21.—At yesterday's session of the Orange Grand Lodge here H. C. Hocken, M.P. of Manitoba, Grand Master of British America, set an ideal of 500,000 of a membership in Canada and Newfoundland within the next five years, and if this is accomplished it will mean that the present membership will be about doubled by that time. Mr. Hocken spoke most optimistically of such a possibility, and stirred up much enthusiasm among the 250 delegates who heard his address.

Rev. K. H. Palmer, of Guelph, who gained some prominence some months ago over the Guelph Novitiate affair, also delivered an address.

Dr. Edwards, M.P. for Frontenac, Deputy Grand Master, outlined his position with reference to questions placed on the order paper of the House of Commons, which are to come up for discussion in the House.

Bulldog Beatty.
"Early in everything." That is the motto of Admiral Beatty, Britain's naval hero in the destruction of his ships. Beatty is simply repelled: "The battle-cruiser fleet is alive and has a very big kick in her." Fortunately for them the Huns did not wait for the kick.
Beatty's naval record is amazing. He was a commander in twenty-seven, a captain at twenty-nine, and rear-admiral at thirty-eight—the youngest on record. Nelson was a year older when he was promoted rear-admiral.

All His Fault.
One witness in a recent police court case was an old Irishwoman. Immediately the prisoner's lawyer asked her a question she began talking, and talked and talked and talked.

"Stop! Stop!" ordered the magistrate, hammering on his desk.
But the old woman still talked on.
"Here, you in the witness box, do be quiet!" thundered the magistrate again.
"Oh, do stop for a minute," And the old woman still went on. Then the magistrate turned angrily on the lawyer.
"Look here, Mr. Muggs," he shouted, "you started her—now stop her."

TWO STORES WERE ENTERED

SUM OF MONEY AND TOBACCO TAKEN FROM EACH PLACE

Robbery At Hopkinson's Grocery On Division Street Was Discovers By Sergt. Saml. Arnie—Store Doors Pried Open With An Iron Bar.

It looks as if an organized band of burglars are at work in the city. Two more stores were entered some time during Thursday night.

Entrance was secured to Hopkinson's grocery, at the corner of Division and Ellice street, where $3.50 was secured from the till, and tobacco valued at about $7.

The store of John W. Gilbert, Barrie street, was also entered, the thieves getting away with about $6 or $7 left in the till, and a quantity of cigarettes.

As in the case of the robbery at Hoag's drug store, and Proulx's drug store a few nights ago, the entrance was effected by prying open the front door, presumably with a bar of iron.

People living near Gilbert's store, so it is stated, heard some person getting into the store shortly before midnight, but they were under the impression that Mr. Gilbert or some of his staff were in the store, and did not give an alarm.

The robbery at Hopkinson's store was discovered by Sergeant Samuel Arnie, while the latter was on his way to the police station early in the morning. Passing the store, he noticed the door open, and on making an investigation, he found evidence of the door having been pried open.

Mr. Hopkinson left his store about 11.30 o'clock and everything was all right at that time.

LIFE OF THE REPORTER.

Daily Newspaper Chronicler's Work Useful and Unselfish.

It is the calling of men who follow the most unselfish and ungratifying life of the newspaper man.

The reporter of the daily paper brings us our knowledge of everything going on in the world. He writes in sympathy and antipathy for men and things. He makes us weep over the misfortunes of fellow men, over catastrophes that have visited cities and countries. And he makes us joyous in the goodness, charity and compassion of others.

Through his eyes we see the world. Through his pen we see the good and the evil, the right and the wrong. His pen incites us to take up arms, to sacrifice our lives for principles and ideals. The newspaper man is the supreme judge of the mighty of this world. He is the great ambassador of the masses that constitute the nation. He walks into the offices and into the homes of the powerful and of the rich, and makes them tremble in their bad consciences. The newspaper man is the great detector and avenger of the crimes committed by the powerful against the weak, the greedy against the poor. The newspaper man tells the voter whom to elect at the polls. It is he who impeaches the men high in office for betraying the trust of the people.

Who are these men who create celebrities, who make people famous, who tear the sheep's cloth from the backs of wolves, who make you cry and laugh every day, who are your companions in the morning and in the evening, whom you quote as authorities?

No one ever knows their names. The glory of his brother the actress writer is denied the reporter. The names of the man who paints life for you in its true and vivid colors is not featured in big type on the headlines of his stories. He lives a lonely life. From eight to twelve hours he works daily; it is his personality that gives him the prestige to interview people successfully. His great knowledge of life enables him to talk to labor leader and railroad magnate on equal terms; to report the court proceedings against the man who stole a loaf of bread, as well as a senate inquiry into war profiteering. He has observed the emotions of so many thousands that he feels the truth beneath sham, and arouses your emotions without writing emotionally.

The life of a newspaper man is nerve-racking. The pay he receives is that of a clerk. And the newspaper man has no private life. Always and ever at the disposal of his paper, no romance, no expectations for the future. Just work, hard work in the interest of his paper.

There they remember a great murder mystery solved by such and such, the great political coup of another. There his efforts are appreciated and his name lives until the very last one of his generation is called away on an assignment whence due does not return to report at the city desk.

Even if classified advertising cost twice as much as it does—it would be worth it! It is the least expensive service you can buy.

FRENCH REBUKE TO GERMAN UNIVERSITIES.
Paris, March 21.—Bordeaux University yesterday sent the following reply to a letter from Leipzig and Heidelberg Universities addressed to all French universities, asking that pre-war relations be resumed.
"Please make a trip through the devastated regions of Northern France and ask the people there how long they would wait to resume relations with the Germans. The entire present generation in your country is guilty of these atrocities and abominations, and does not deserve any honor with mankind. Perhaps we may change our mind regarding the next generation."

SHEEP BREEDERS CO-OPERATE.

Government Showing Them Difference Between Good and Bad Wool.

The Department of Agriculture is working to secure a greater production of sheep in Ontario and are giving much assistance to the movement of having sheep-breeders sell their wool on the co-operative plan.

An educational campaign is to be started to show the farmers the great difference in the market value of wool which is of the best quality and the money loss in bulking all wool and selling as one grade. There is a wide difference according to the quality, and the old method does not bring the best results to those who are careful in breeding the best sheep and careful in preparing the wool for the market.

Mr. Street, district agricultural representative, states that there are now twenty-three sheep-breeders in the co-operative movement out of a total of 456 in the county. Over 7,000 sheep are bred in this county last year.

BOLSHEVIKI SEEK CONTROL

Of Odessa, the Great Grain Shipping Port of Russia.

(Canadian Press Despatch)
London, March 21.—The Bolsheviks apparently are engaged in a strong effort to subdue the Russian opposition in Ukraine and to drive the Allied forces from that region before spring. The Ukraine is the granary of Russia, and Odessa before the war was the greatest grain shipping port in Russia. If the Bolsheviks can control the great agricultural region of Ukraine, they might be able to relieve the serious food shortage in Moscow and the north. Aided by Ukrainian Bolshevik forces, the troops of the Moscow Government in the last three weeks have occupied Kiev and Zhitomir, in the centre of the Ukraine, and driven the peasant government of General Petlura from Kiev to Winnitza and thence to Podolia, forty miles east of the border of Galicia.

Russian wireless messages received in London Wednesday reported that non-Bolshevik forces, after being repulsed by the Bolsheviks, were retiring on Odessa. In centre of front between Odessa and Riga the Bolsheviks apparently have been giving ground.

105 and Born in Canada. Manchester, N.H., March 21.—Louis J. Raymond, Goffstown, presented a birth certificate yesterday while appearing as a witness in a case on November 13th, 1813. Notwithstanding his 105 years he is able to work his farm at Goffstown regularly, according to his testimony.

The French steamship line Compagnie Generale Trans-Atlantique will re-establish its Canadian service between Montreal and a French port as soon as conditions permit, so as to give a direct Franco-Canadian service similar to that maintained before the war.

Some authorities say advertising is a service—others that it is a commodity. As to classified advertising, both are right.
