A Filet Crochet Case for Napkins and Linens.

By KATHRYN MUTTERR. A Filet crochet case is a utilitarian thing, especially when made in convenient size. Originally the model shown here was intended for table napkins and small linens, but a hundred and one other uses have been found for it, all attractive and practical. If used for table linens, the case should not be lined and the correct measurements are 4 by 7½ inches. It is an irresistible temptation not to impress the case into service in the boudoir, however. Lined to correspond with the color scheme of a lady's boudoir it becomes at once an ornament and an article of service. The case makes a pretty stowaway for odds and ends of lace, handkerchiefs, ribbons, etc. By adding plain mesh stitches the case easily may be enlarged so that it may be used as a glove or veil case. As pictured, however, the case requires only one ball of crochet cotton.

The design is the ever-attractive wild rose, foliage being included only on the flap. The edges of the flap are just in solid filet, though, if used for the boudoir an additional border of silk may be added, or even a bit of cluny lace edging.

No. 72—Filet Case for Small Linens or Personal Articles.

In making filet most amateurs crochet too loosely, making the motifs too large for the pattern. The stitches in filet, as in Irish crochet, should be made as firmly and closely as possible, and the finer the hook and the thread the more beautiful the work. Where an article is to be used generally, however, it is well not to have the cotton too fine because it will wear so well. Careful workmanship counts very perceptibly in filet, especially when the pattern is extremely simple. Frequently in a complicated design inaccuracies may be concealed, but where there is an unpretentious motif with an open background, every little mistake asserts itself like the carrying on a cameo.

Doctors Stand Amazed at Power of Bon-Opto to Make Weak Eyes Strong—According to Dr. Lewis

Guaranteed to Strengthen Eyesight 50% In One Week's Time in Many Instances

A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home

Victims of eye strain and other eye weaknesses, and those who wear glasses, will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope and help for them. Many whose eyes were failing say they have had their eyes restored by this remarkable prescription and many who once wore glasses say they have thrown them away. One man says, after using it: "I was almost blind. Could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without my glasses and my eyes do not hurt any more. At night they would pain dreadfully. Now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady, who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for 15 days everything seems clear. I can read even fine print without glasses." Another who used it says: "I was bothered with eye strain caused by overworked, tired eyes which induced severe headaches. I have worn glasses for several years both for distance and work, and without them I could not read my own name on an envelope or the type-writing on the machine before me. I can do both now and have discarded my long distance glasses altogether. I can count the fluttering leaves on the trees across the street now, which for several years have looked like a dim green blur to me. I cannot express my joy at what it has done for me."

"He is, if he doesn't look out."

One of the strongest forces underlying the forward movement of Mexican womanhood is the Great Mexican Feminine Confederation, established on June 30th, 1916, after a reunion in the city of Mexico of more than 1,000 women representing Mexican intellectuality and spirit of progressiveness, the majority of whom consisted of school directors, teachers, and the alumnae of the best schools.

Note: Another prominent Physician to whom the above article was submitted, said: "The Bon-Opto prescription is truly a wonderful eye remedy. Its constituent ingredients are well known to eminent eye specialists and widely prescribed by them. I have used it very successfully in my own practice on patients whose eyes were strained through overwork or night glasses. I can highly recommend it in case of weak, watery, aching, smarting, itching, burning eyes, red lids, blurred vision or for eyes inflamed from exposure to smoke, sun, dust or wind. It is one of the very few preparations I should be kept on hand for regular use in almost every family. Bon-Opto, referred to above, is not a patent medicine or a secret remedy. It is an official preparation, the formula being printed on the packages. The manufacturer guarantees it to strengthen eyesight 50 per cent in one week's time in many instances or refund the money. It can be obtained from any good druggist and is sold in this city by George W. Mahood and others."

Canadian Candy and Chocolate

IN recent years, it has been demonstrated to the world that in most lines of manufacture the Canadian product is equal to, and in many, superior to foreign-made goods.

In the manufacture of candy and chocolate, Canada is at the top. The Pure Food Laws guarantee a wholesome product, while skill in manufacture has produced a quality and deliciousness unequalled in any country.

Within the last few months a tremendous demand for Canadian candy and chocolate has grown up in England and Europe. The large supplies sent to our men overseas during the war gave to many Europeans their first opportunity of appreciating the high qualities which the Canadian product possesses. European merchants and candy lovers are now clamoring for Canadian candies.

There may be some Canadians who do not realize that the most wholesome and delicious candy and chocolate are made here at home—but this is true.

You can eat Canadian-made candy and chocolate with assurance of their high quality and wholesomeness.
