Big Event To-Night.
Tonight will be the opening night of the new policy at the Grand and a bumper crowd is looked for as many favourable comments have been heard about the special and extra high class bill will be presented. For the feature picture, charming from Arthur, the famous American actress of stage and screen will be starred in the most interesting and dramatic picture ever produced, namely, "The Case of Nurse Cavell." It deals only with the events that led up to the execution of that heroic nurse and the picture is entirely made so as to show how women took their great part in the war. For a completion of this programme there will be special comedies, news weeklies and additional reels, but the big part of the attraction will be the three acts of vaudeville, that will form the part of the performance that everyone is waiting for. Don't miss this added attraction when it will be shown to-night and also on Friday and Saturday.—Adv't.

At Griffin's.
Portraying the role of a poor lawyer who is in love with the beautiful daughter of a millionaire, but who weds an ugly widow "with a past" to win a reward of $100,000, John Barrymore, the talented comedian, will be seen in one of the most humorous roles of his recent career in "Here Comes the Bride," which will be displayed at this theatre to-day, Friday and Saturday. The heroine of the story is portrayed by Fair Binney, a charming actress who won popular favor by her characterization in the Aircraft special picture, "Sporting Life." All who have seen John Barrymore in former photographs such as "Are You a Mason" and "On the Quiet" will know what kind of an entertainment to expect in "Here Comes the Bride," and any person who has missed his former pictures should take this opportunity to become acquainted with the ideal exponent of humorous roles.—Adv't.

IMPROVED "POLICEMEN."
Motorist Favors One That Will Not Damage Cars.

It will soon be time to replace the silent policemen as guardians of the traffic on the local streets. The Whig has been advised of an improvement on these which other cities are adopting, and the matter would seemingly be important to Kingston. The policemen now in use can smash a car very badly if a motorist runs into it unintentionally or to avoid an accident. The new ones are of a rubber preparation which makes them pliable. A car can strike and pass without injury to either. In view of the number of cars which were damaged last year, the purchase of this new kind in the future should be considered.

PHILIP GIBBS' ARTICLES PLEASE
"I have just read No. 1 article by Phillip Gibbs, and I must write at once to say that, although I was a pretty faithful reader of the war news for over four years, I have got more real satisfaction from that first article than I received in all the time of the war. I will look forward to the following articles with keen interest."—A. C. Abbott, Mountain Grove, Ont.
The second article from the pen of Phillip Gibbs will appear in the Whig on Saturday next, the 8th inst., and each Saturday thereafter until the series of ten or more articles are completed. Nothing better has been written of the war than these articles of Mr. Gibbs. No reader can afford to miss them.

ELLIS WHITMAN HERE.
"Human Rattlebox" Praises Queen's Hospital in France.
Ellis Whitman, of Montreal, known as "the human rattlebox," in view of his ability to disjoin the bones of his body, was a visitor to Kingston Thursday. He served in France with the 14th Canadian Battalion, and was wounded and gassed. Mr. Whitman paid a splendid tribute to the No. 7 Canadian (Queen's University) hospital, in which he spent three months. He declared that it was the "cleanest hospital in France and rendered the most efficient service." "It was the hospital that all the boys wanted to get into, owing to the splendid treatment it gave and also because of the excellent food it served to the patients," declared Mr. Whitman, who paid tribute to the admirable management of Col. Etherington, who was in command.
Mr. Whitman is demonstrating bone manipulations of the shoulder, hip and spine and visited the Queen's hospital here.

First Vessel To Clear.
The steamer Waffle, commanded by Capt. Beaupre, cleared Thursday for Oswego, to load coal. This is the first vessel to clear from Kingston harbor this spring.

Military News

Sergt.-Major Inst. Brown, W.O., R.C.H.A., has received his discharge from the army after a long term of valuable work as an artillery instructor. He plans to settle in Pembroke.

In the reorganization of the permanent force there has been much difficulty in securing bandsmen for the R.C.H.A. Ten of the band have been discharged and a number of others have requested their "ticket," but so far no successors have been found. It is now suggested that the bandsmen who wish to return to civilian life be given that privilege, and the idea of keeping the band intact be abandoned until the troops return from overseas.

The whole personnel of the R.C.H.A. is being boarded this week, including the band, as the authorized permanent force must be composed of men in category "A." Many of the members are of a lower category than "A," and it is likely that they will be granted their discharge as recruits possessing the required physical qualifications are received.

Lieut.-Col. A. W. Winnett, who recently returned from overseas after three years' service in France and England, was assistant director of dental service for the Seaford area before returning. The colonel went overseas as a captain in the 12th Field Ambulance, being recalled from France to become adjutant of the Dental Corps. He returned to France and was again recalled to become A.D.D.S. of the London area, and finally after another term in France to become A.D.D.S. of the Seaford area. Col. Winnett had Capt. J. M. Wilson as an officer on his staff at Seaford and spoke highly of the work he was doing. Capt. Wilson was formerly lieut.-col. and A.D.D.S. here. He was lately transferred from Seaford to Bramshott.

Brig.-Gen. V. S. Williams on Thursday morning, received an autograph letter from King George, who expressed deep appreciation of the service rendered by the Canadian officers to the Empire during the war. He expressed his admiration of the courage shown, the sacrifices made and wished the general every success and a full measure of happiness in the future.

Among the soldiers who returned to the city this week was "Bob" Stanton, the well-known hockey player who served overseas with the artillery. He will be ready for the game next winter and should make a good addition to some local line-up.

The Esquimaux is due at Portland, on April 8th, with three convalescent officers and thirty-eight N.C.O.'s, and men, which includes six amputation cases.

To Help Erect Signs.
As a result of T. M. Asselstine interviewing the county roads committee, that committee has promised to place short posts and erect a number of the road signs which the Kingston Motor League has secured for the guidance of motorists and others on the highways. The signs point out dangerous parts of the roads, such as narrow bridges and sharp curves and also the direction of roads at forks.

IN MEMORIAM.
In loving memory of Mrs. Joseph Duck, who died April 2, 1919.

In a graveyard sweetly sleeping,
Where the flowers gently wave,
Lies the one I loved so dearly,
In her lonely, silent grave.
She will never be forgotten,
Never shall her memory fade;
Sweetest thoughts will always linger
Around the grave where she is laid.
