BANKS TO CHANGE TIME

ON MAY 12th WILL GO BACK TO PRE-WAR SCHEDULE.

Are Running On Daylight-Saving Which is Inconvenient to Some Farmers—Close Early Saturdays.

The banks will on May 12th go back to the old hours before the war, namely, opening at 10 a.m., and closing at 3 p.m. As a war measure the hours were changed so that the opening came at 9.30 a.m., and the closing at 2.30 p.m.

It is reported that owing to the complaints of the anti-daylight saving element to the Bankers Association, and the number of farmers who were inconvenienced by the adoption of daylight saving by the banks, a change would be made so that all banks would run on standard time. There has been no notification of this to the local bankers and under the instructions now in force, the new schedule will be adopted on May 12th on day-light saving time.

The early closing, particularly on Saturdays when the banks close at noon, has proved inconvenient to the farmers who have much banking business.

Those who have been using the old time now find that on Saturdays they must reach the bank at 11 o'clock, standard time, to be there before the closing hour. There are not a great many, however, who are bothered by this arrangement and it will probably remain unless all of the banks go back to standard time.

ACCUSED OF THEFT

Young Woman Taken Into Custody on Stepmother's Charge.

On a charge of theft, laid by her stepfather, William C. Chandband, queen street, Alice Urmsion, a waitress at Beefsteak Jack's restaurant, was taken in charge on Tuesday afternoon by Sgt. James Bateson. The young woman is accused of stealing $53 from her stepfather's home.

To Run to Cape Vincent. The steamer Misalsqui will commence her regular trips from Kingston to Cape Vincent on Thursday. The Rockport Navigation Company have arranged the schedule for the present a little differently from the hours of last year, and the public are asked to note the change. The steamer will leave Kingston at 3 o'clock every morning except Sunday, reaching Cape Vincent two hours later. The return trip will commence at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, and the boat docks at Kingston at 4 o'clock. This schedule is effective from Thursday, April 10th, until the 1st of May, after which two trips will be made daily. Special accommodation is available on board the steamer for automobiles, and close connections are made with the New York Central Railway lines for all points in New York State. This service is a popular one with Kingstonians, and it should be well patronized during the summer.

Roads Improving.

The motor stages are now reaching the city in spite of the poor roads which are the lot for most of the routes. The frost coming out of the ground, particularly on the high level roads, make them very bad. There is little snow in the immediate vicinity, but there is some on many cross-roads.

The Harrowamth stage made the trip via Mervale on Tuesday morning in an hour and a half. This is the fastest time since the roads began to improve.

Civil Service Results.

The successful candidates in the examinations for the Civil Service held during February have been announced. The results of Kingston candidates are: Messengers, carriers, etc., Alfred Rollings, Manford V. North, Arthur Roy.

Clerks, Grade C: Frank H. Stayner, Alex. J. Stevenson, Edna Dawson.

Clerks, Grade B: Hugh E. Browne.

A Laborer Injured.

J. Laronge, a corporation laborer was struck by a car in the yard of Dalton & Sons hardware warehouse, on Monday, when he entered to get a drink of water. He sustained an injury to his leg, a bruise on the back of his head and injury to one eye. He was taken to the General Hospital by Dr. MacCallum where his injuries were dressed, but was able to be taken to his home on Colborne street.

On Serious Charge.

On Monday night, Sgt. James Bateson and Constable Leslie Clark placed under arrest Frederick Joseph Richards, on a warrant. He is charged with a serious offence against his daughter under fourteen years of age. When arraigned in the Police Court on Tuesday morning, he pleaded "not guilty" and the case was enlarged for a week.

Marine Opening.

The warm weather is proving particularly good to the marine men who are working hard, putting their steamers and vessels into shape for the season trade. Most of the boats are being made ready so that they can start shortly after April 15th, on which date the insurance is usually started.

Golf Club Officers.

The first directors' meeting of the Cataragui Golf and Country Club was held on Monday evening. A. B. Cunningham was elected president; T. J. Rigney, vice-president; J. Hunter, honorary secretary-treasurer; and James Newman as professional for the season.

Division Court.

Judge Lavell presided over Division Court on Tuesday morning and heard seventeen account cases and ten judgment summonses. There was only one case of general interest and that was between the two Andre brothers who sued each other for a number of small items. This case was dismissed.

Dragging for Body.

The body of Kenneth Burshall, who was accidentally drowned on Saturday night while out in a canoe in the harbor, has not yet been found. Search parties are working in the vicinity and it is understood that a diver will be secured if dragging is unsuccessful.

May Cosmopolitan on Sale Thursday

AMERICA'S GREAT EST MAGAZINE

Watch for the magazine with the Salvation Army Girl cover. Another tribute to this magnificent organization by Harrison Fisher. Among fifteen short stories, serials and special articles the May Cosmopolitan contains:

Cynthia Stockley
 Some writers understand politics, some know war, quite a few understand men; very few know women. Cynthia Stockley does. She has shown this in one story after another, but never to quite such advantage as in the short novel, Lost Lorraine Loree, which begins in the May Cosmopolitan. It is the story of a beautiful, impulsive bride left alone in the temptations of the African diamond-fields.

Rupert Hughes
 Here's good news for the more than a million buyers of Cosmopolitan: Rupert Hughes' short stories are to be a month-to-month feature hereafter. His first story for you, a story called Read It Again, comes in the May issue. You'll want to do just what the title suggests.

James Oliver Curwood.
 Don't let any mischance cause you to miss reading his story, The Hungry Horde, in the May issue. You'll be as impatient to get it as the thousands of Curwood "fans" throughout the country are for each new red-blooded story of the Great Outdoors from his pen.

A New Writer
 Cosmopolitan doesn't introduce many new writers to its pages. We demand the best and will consider only the best. Which generally means the work of the famous in writing. But now and then the stories of a newcomer are so startlingly excellent as to warrant a place in America's Greatest Magazine. Remember this when you read The Last Adventure in the May issue. It is by Frank R. Adams, who used to write such attractive light operas as "The Time, The Place, and the Girl," and such popular songs as "I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now." Mr. Adams—his Lieutenant Adams, on duty in France these days—has gone in for fiction, and he has been a success from the start. His stories will be a feature of our future.

And Then Some
 These are only a hint of the May Cosmopolitan. John Galsworthy, Donn Byrne, E. Phillips Oppenheim, Judge Lindsey, Samuel Merwin, George Randolph Chester, and others of distinction will be among those present as usual.

That "as usual" means a lot. Cosmopolitan doesn't have the best now and then; it has the best always. And that is the answer to—More Than a Million Copies Each Issue.
