COLLINS FIELD LEADER.

Famous Leader Again Appointed Captain of White Sox.

With the spring training of all big league clubs on in full swing it begins to look as though the Chicago clubs will be very much in the limelight in both the American and National leagues during the coming pennant campaign.

Down at Mineral Wells, Texas, the White Sox, under the leadership of Kid Gleason, the new fighting manager, are well past the canary-horse stage of the training trip, and have already started on a strenuous schedule of exhibition games, steadily moving north for the opening of the season's grind.

Manager Gleason is especially well pleased with his pitchers, as Red Faber, the hero of the 1917 world series, who is back on the job after service in the navy, is gradually getting up steam and he expects to be a tower of strength to the White Sox aggregation in their fight for the American league gongalon. Lefty Russell is also living up to expectations.

Manager Gleason has appointed Old Reliable Eddie Collins as field leader of the team for the coming season.

This will be Collins' third year as captain of the Sox, a position which he is ideally qualified to fill because of his experience and his position as the keystone of the infield.

Fred Mitchell, of the Cubs, has not pushed his men along quite as fast as the Sox leader, but things are progressing satisfactorily, and his men will be in the best of shape when the opening bell rings. Mitchell's Big Five pitching staff will be depended upon to carry the Cubs along in the early season until their sluggers strike their stride and start piling up runs.

WILL RESUME ROWING.

The Ottawa Club Will Start Free of Debt.

At the annual meeting of the Ottawa Rowing Club it was decided to resume operations along the lines pursued before the war, and to begin at the earliest possible date the grooming of crews for the Canadian Henley regatta at St. Catharines.

Harvey Pulford was requested to take the duties over as honorary coach, which he consented to do, and it was announced that the question of securing a professional instructor would be decided later on. Alf Dunne was chosen as captain and Eddie Codd as deputy captain.

Dr. Nagle declined, owing to pressure of his professional engagements, to continue as president, and his successor was named in Percy S. Roberts.

It was announced that the club had been cleared of debt, and that the members would return, for the first time in many years, with a clean sheet. The club house will be opened in the course of a week or so, and a campaign for new members is to be launched. Over forty of the Ottawa Rowing Club members served in France or in other war theatres, and the club had a heavy toll in killed, wounded and missing. Eddie Phillips, Felix Sowden, Jim McCuaig and other veterans are expected home shortly, and will get back into rowing, it is expected.

A Second Jim Thorpe.

Another full-blooded Indian athlete has loomed on the athletic horizon, and promises to fill the notch in amateur sport left vacant when Jim Thorpe, famous Carlisle Indian, was declared a professional several years ago. His name is Akichipa Okshela, and he is at present stationed at the Boston base of the United States Shipping Board's Marine Training Station. Akichipa has adopted the name of Charles Morse. He is a Slour, a grandson of Red Cloud, and a great-nephew of Sitting Bull, both famous Indian chiefs.

Morse chose a sea career when the United States entered the war. In naval athletic meets he has attained an enviable reputation. Morse is an all-around performer, and has returned creditable records in track, swimming, and baseball.

Mrs. Sammis Submits "Poser."

When the Walker-Maione Sunday baseball bill was being discussed in the New York State Legislature, Mrs. Ida B. Sammis, Republican Assemblywoman, said that the bill should not pass because it was contrary to "the divine law on which all law is founded, and you can't have local option on the Ten Commandments."

It will be necessary, before the law becomes operative, to have it endorsed by the ratepayers of the various cities in which it is proposed to play on the first day of the week. The urban communities have always been favorable to Sunday ball, practically all of the opposition coming from rural constituencies.

SHAG TO GET SURPLUS.

Hamilton Manager to Be Helped by Toronto.

Manager Frank Shagbessy, of the Hamilton Baseball Club, will likely get the surplus men from the Toronto Baseball Club. He has the confidence of the powers in Toronto, and, though farming and optional agreements are things of the past, it is recognized that Shag has the ability to lead and develop, and he will be given all that are not needed in Toronto and he can handle.

Moses N. Frank, former president of the Baltimore club of the International League, is dead.

The Rhode Island Senate has passed a bill legalizing the playing of professional ball on Sunday.

English Clubs Seek Canadians.

English professional soccer clubs after another Winnipeg player. Preston North End, one of the most famous soccer clubs in England, has offered a contract to Walter Simpson, the 27th Battalion net goalkeeper, who helped Norwood Wanderers, of Winnipeg, win many honors before going overseas.

Simpson intends to return to Winnipeg this summer for his discharge from the army, and then return to England next year to play soccer.

Doug Thompson, one of the cleverest forwards that ever played in Winnipeg, and who went overseas with the Princess Pats, is playing regularly for Millwall in the English soccer league.

Contrast establishes value in everything. You can't feel especially blessed with two arms till you run across a poor chap who has lost an elbow. You learn to appreciate what you've got through a knowledge of what the other fellow hasn't got—comparison brings out the difference. Now it works the same way with our suits. The more you size them up with what others have to show you, the more you will appreciate what we have to show you. This is true, not because I say so, but because I can summon an army of men right here in Kingston who will look you squarely in the eyes and tell you so. They are well known men, that are not on our payroll. They care nothing about me or the way I make a living. But they care a lot about where they buy their clothes—and so the Lion is their store, all of which is said to drive home the point that somebody has got to steer you straight in the matter of suits, and it ought to be the Lion Clothing House. You can't buy anything better than the best, and you can't get more value than the most. You will realize the best and the most when you ask to see Lion suits. Conservative styles for the man who goes to church with his wife; sporty looking models for young bloods. All of them in the latest patterns as worn in New York. Investigate. An ounce of looking is worth a pound of reading.

So come to the Lion for your Easter suit. You'll be a loser if you don't.

Match up that coat with a pair of those good odd trousers, which have just arrived for Easter trade.

Your Easter hat—here you will see all the tints and tones of the season budding—all of them breathing the very breath of a victorious spring. See our classy range.

Our Anniversary offer holds good till Easter. With every suit we will give you an extra pair of real good odd trousers. Your own choice; get in on this.

Classy negligee shirts with the right pep, at those same low prices.

See these fine blue serge suits we are selling in the new high waist; fast indigo blue, beautifully made and well tailored. So come to the Lion for your Easter suit. You'll be a loser if you don't.

Rivers Disappointed.

Joe Rivers, the Mexican lightweight, suffered a great disappointment when he was barred from the ring in Wisconsin by the boxing commission of that state. Rivers, say the boxing solons, is no longer physically fit to enter the ring. The Mexican was matched to meet Ritchie Mitchell, who is trying once more to reach the top. Rivers took part in many sensational battles during his career in the squared circle. He came closer to winning a championship than any other lightweight that missed. When Rivers met Ad Wolgast the Mexican knocked Ad down at the same time that he himself was felled. The referee, however, picked the champion up, and, holding him erect, counted Rivers out.

Sporting Notes.

Pitcher Slim Salloe, of the Cincinnati Reds, has been ordered to a hospital to take the "hot air cylinder" treatment for a strained muscle of the spine.

The Pacific Coast League season opened on Wednesday. "Bill" Clymer's Seattle Club lost to San Francisco.
