WELCOME, VETERANS!

To-day is another red letter day in the history of Kingston, a day to be remembered for many days to come. Once again the streets resound to the tramping of marching feet. Once again the flags wave and the banners toss from the buildings.

To-day the survivors of that gallant first contingent, together with many of those who followed them overseas, are returning to us. We welcome them as citizens of a city which has contributed largely to their ranks.

Words are too feeble to express the measure of the welcome we extend to you. Our arms and our hearts are opened to you, and we want you to feel that you are coming home to a people who are worthy of the sacrifices you have made.

THE THIRD-CLASS COACHES AND ARE PROVIDED FOR THE PAYING PUBLIC.

Story of the C.N.R. Wreck Near Elgin—Hon. Dr. Reid Explains and Apologizes. Ottawa, April 23.—Are the plain people to sit up all night in a day coach while Cabinet ministers jaunt about the country in luxurious private cars? The question was asked in the House of Commons last night by Archie McCoig, the Liberal member for Kent, who vigorously protested against the arrangement that loaded down the Toronto-Ottawa train on the Government railway with the private cars of ministers and Government officials while mere members of Parliament and business men, hurrying to the Capital to attend to their duties, were denied accommodation or the best given standing room in a third class car.

Sir Thomas White, the Acting Prime Minister, had a private car all to himself; General McBurn, the Minister of Militia, had a special car for himself and party, and D. B. Hanns, president of the C. N. R., had a private car. Sir Henry Drayton, chairman of the Dominion Railway Commission, also would have had a special car, but the train of eleven coaches was all that the locomotive could haul.
