QUEEN'S STUDENTS' DAY

VALEDICTORY ADDRESSES DELIVERED TUESDAY AFTERNOON

John Boss Spoke For Science and J. Courtland Elliott for Arts—Criticism Made of the Courses.

Tuesday was "Students' Day" at Queen's University and there was a good attendance to hear the valedictory addresses by the representatives of two branches of study. Stewart McKercher, B.A., presided.

John Boss spoke on behalf of the science students and gave a very interesting talk on the way that Queen's was preparing to meet the after-the-war needs of reconstruction. Science graduates would take a tremendous part in this vast work and their training at the university would prove a great national asset and reflect continued glory on the university. He referred to some deficiencies in the course and the methods of training, and suggested improvements. Reference was made to the need for the supervision of study by the students.

J. Courtland Elliott spoke of the arts work. He referred to the great amount of good which Queen's had accomplished along educational lines and the sacrifice many students had made to accomplish that good. The sacrifice, however, was not to be compared with the splendid and undying record that so many students had made for the country by going overseas and in many cases giving their life for the country. He criticized the staff, and mentioned ways in which it might be improved. He also referred to the need for closer supervision of the study hours.

During the afternoon a violin solo was rendered by Miss Godelie Bartels, and a duet selection by Misses Mary Werte and M. Cruikshank.

RECITAL AT ST. LUKE'S

A SPLENDID PROGRAMME RENDERED TUESDAY EVENING.

Mrs. J. E. Madden of Napanee Was Solo Organist—The Vocal Numbers and Anthems Well Rendered.

A grand recital was given at St. Luke's church on Tuesday evening and the choir gave a number of splendid selections in which the chorus work and solo passages were admirably rendered. Bert F. Couper, organist, was assisted by Mrs. J. E. Madden of Napanee, who before her marriage was organist at St. Andrew's church, so that she is well known in musical circles. She never fails to please, and her work last evening was of the best. Her first number was "Grand Chorus" by R. G. Halling, and she played it with much feeling and technical ability. The selection too, was admirably calculated to bring out the qualities of the instrument, which is an organ that the congregation might well be proud of. Mrs. Madden also played "Concert Rondo," by Hollis, "Concert Mezzo," by Dethier, "Concert Overture in B minor," by J. H. Rogers. The choir gave two numbers, "Like as the Heart," Scott, was the first, and Mrs. T. W. Morris took the solos in good voice. The second anthem was "Holy Father, Cheer Us, Way." The music for this was composed by Mr. Couper, the organist. The harmony is beautiful and the piece reflects much credit upon the composer.

Miss D. Johnson gave a violin selection "Beethoven (Lobelia), by Godard, and showed great taste and skill. The principal vocal part was soprano solo, "With Verdure Clad," (creation) by Hadyn. This was sung by Mrs. A. D. Nelson with great effect. Mrs. Nelson showed a high degree of talent. She received her training in Boston, Mass., and in addition to her natural ability a great love of the art. Her rendering of this famous passage of Hadyn was highly appreciated, every note being perfect. The other soloists were Mrs. H. Horton, Mrs. T. J. Turner and Mrs. G. Graves. Mrs. Horton possesses a rich contralto voice and she sang "O Rest in the Lord," (Elijah). Mrs. Turner took the solo in the anthem.

St. Luke's church has one of the best choirs in the city, as was evidenced by its work on Tuesday evening. The church was filled, showing the appreciation of the people of Mr. Couper's efforts to give the best possible in sacred music.

MAKING GOOD PROGRESS

On the Contracts For the Canadian National Railways.
The Canadian Locomotive Company is making good progress on the contract from the Canadian National Railways for twenty-five switching locomotives. Some of them have been delivered, three are well on the way to completion, while in the erecting shop frames have been set up and the work is being rapidly pushed forward under the direction of Superintendent Masters. The plant is in its highest state of efficiency. The rearrangement of departments effected some years ago, by which a sequence from the raw material to the assembling shop is carried out with the utmost precision, enables the company to fill orders with the maximum of speed.

Alberta Will Not Break Away.
That Alberta is not entertaining the thought of breaking away from the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada, and that the present movement on foot to revive athletics throughout the west is directed at the complete reorganization of the sport of a strictly amateur basis, with the understanding, however, that amendments be made in the constitution which will eliminate vetted professionalism, with its attendant perjury and hypocrisy, were the facts brought to the notice of Tom Boyd, president of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada, at a meeting of athletic representatives from all over Alberta in Calgary, Saturday.

VIEWS OF THE BANKER AND THE BUSINESS MAN

With Regard to Semi-Ready System of Label Prices.

"Hammer home that label in the pocket—there's no merchant in Canada can beat that price and give as good cloth and tailoring quality!" said the vice-president of the Semi-ready Company on a visit to David J. Will, who owns the Semi-ready Store on Princess street.

"There was a Banker in Port Arthur to whom the label price in the pocket was explained in detail, and he said, 'If the public know those facts fully you should do all the business.'"

"Lord and Lady Algy."

William Faversham and Maxine Elliott will present R. C. Carton's sparkling comedy of "Lord and Lady Algy" at the Grand Opera House to-morrow night for the one performance only. Maxine Elliott returns to the local stage on this occasion after an absence of seven years, appearing as Lady Algy and Mr. Faversham is seen in his original role of Algy. "Lord and Lady Algy" is a comedy in three acts. Lord and Lady Algy are a Cretan, through still in love with each other, have separated, chiefly because of financial difficulties and their disagreements over race horses and cigarettes. Algy, since the separation, has undeservedly won a reputation for easy living, and is out of favor with his father. Algy's elder brother, supposedly a model recitator, is infatuated with Mrs. Tudway, and takes advantage of Algy's position to meet her at Algy's flat. Mrs. Tudway is a harmless, innocent young woman, romantic and flighty, who imagines she does not love her husband. Through a misunderstanding, Algy is accused of the flirtation, and is drawn into complications which almost wreck any possibility of a reconciliation with his wife.—Adv.

Gus Hill's Minstrels.

That Manager Gus Hill has established a precedent in minstrelry is evidenced from the reception accorded his big minstrel troupe, and which is to be the next attraction at the Grand Opera House on Saturday next, both matinee and night. This organization, built on different lines, but affording an entertainment of gigantic and stupendous proportions, has made a tremendous hit and bids fair to out-rival any similar institution promoted during the past decade. The press all over the country has been unanimous in its praise, claiming that it is the best show of its kind offered to the American public in the last twenty years. There are sixty white men in the company, all selected for their particular ability and talent. It is headed by that peer of all minstrels, George Wilson.—Adv.

"The Better 'Ole."

Announcement of the forthcoming engagement of the Boston Company in "The Better 'Ole," at the Grand Opera House on Monday and Tuesday, May 5th and 6th, with a matinee on the 5th, will be greeted by theatre-goers of this city with great expectancy. The fame of this unique play, following its New York presentation this fall, has promoted throughout the United States. It is described as "a fragrance from France in two explosions, seven splinters and short gas attack," by Captain Bruce Bainsfather and Captain Arthur Elliot, based upon Captain Bainsfather's inimitable war cartoons. A dozen or more catchy musical numbers by Herman Dawowski and Percival Knight add to the attractiveness and charm of the production.—Adv.

INVESTIGATING TWO FIRES.

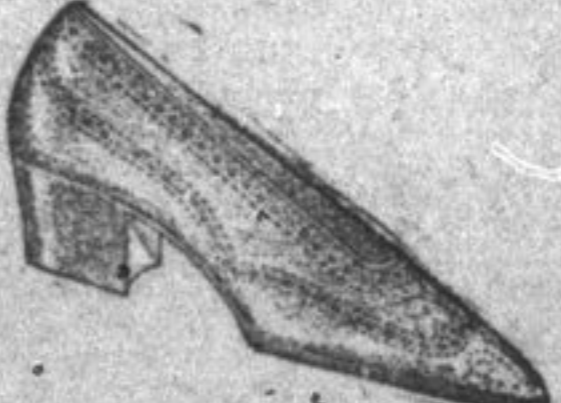

Deputy Fire Marshal Dean, of the ronto, is in the City. Deputy Fire Marshal Dean, of the provincial fire marshal's office, Toronto, is in the city, and will conduct an inquiry into the fire at Queen Street Methodist church, and that at St. Mary's-on-the-Lake Orphanage.

The general opinion is that the fire at Queen street church was caused through the furnace, but the fire at the orphanage appears to be a mystery. The blaze broke out in a room used for storing clothing and no reason can be assigned for the fire.
