TO RESTORE RACING ON PERMANENT BASIS

Francis Nelson Forecasts a Bright Future in Canada Under New Regime.

That racing in Canada is to be restored eventually after such regulation as will constitute a basis of permanence is the essential matter of Sir Thomas White's statement, and one is left to suppose that such racing as goes on this year will be under the old conditions following the close of the present session of Parliament, the new regulations being promised for next session, so writes Francis Nelson, of Toronto, well-known authority on the sport, and C.R.A. presiding judge, in Racing Form. He adds: For such opportunity some may be grateful, and others may feel that it is time something was done to lighten a burden which they consider should never have been imposed.

The real grounds of complaint are the multiplication of race courses at various points beyond the natural requirements of the communities and the inordinate profits of some of the racing organizations. It is beyond question that the multiplication of courses is due to the laxity of the authorities in the matter of reorganizing charters, and the departure, both in Ontario and Quebec, from the policy of Sir James Whitney's government, which refused to allow the use of moss-grown charters for purposes for which they were never intended when granted.

That the associations should endeavor to make all the money they could each season was the natural result of the failure of the authorities to take action that would give the clubs any assurance that each season was not their last. So far as the federal authority has power, it may be taken for granted such a state of affairs will be dealt with in a manner to remedy known evils and provide against new ones. At the same time, it is well to remember that these evils arise not from the Miller bill, but from the failure to enforce the Miller bill.

Favor Sunday Ball.

The ordinance permitting professional baseball after 2 p.m. on Sundays was passed unanimously by the New York Board of Aldermen. It now goes to the mayor for his approval, and it is more than likely that he will approve it before the end of the week. He has already made known that he is in favor of the measure.

The ordinance provides that the admission prices shall not be in excess of those charged on weekdays. In the expectation that the aldermen would take favorable action on the ordinance the management of the three local teams—the Giants, Kinties and Robins—were prepared to play, provided they were scheduled to be at home on the Sunday following the passage of the measure. In the event that Mayor Hylan signs it this week it will be possible for the Giants and Phillies to play Sunday at the Polo Grounds.

Windsor Club Play No Favorites.

With an authorized capital of $200,000, a new company has been formed in Windsor to organize a rowing, tennis, automobile, swimming and golf club for men of moderate means. The incorporators of the company are: William C. Kennedy, M.P.; Gordon McGregor, vice-president of the Canadian Ford Motor Company; Charles S. King, mayor of Walkerville; A. P. Healy, president of the local Chamber of Commerce; Hon. J. O. Reame, registrar of deeds for Essex county; E. S. Wigle, and R. D. Morand.

Property along the Canadian shores of Lake St. Clair has been secured, where ample facilities for all kinds of sport will be available. The promoters are laying special stress on the fact that the club is not to be "a millionaires' affair," but an organization that will cater especially to men with limited means.

The Age Of Pugilists.

Jess Willard's age has been put down anywhere between thirty-three and thirty-eight. The champion naturally picks the younger mark, but that doesn't mean an awful lot. He looked to be over thirty when he fought Carl Morris six years ago. Willard weighed 240 pounds when he fought Morris in 1913. He weighed 260 pounds when he fought Moran in 1914. In the last four years he has boxed only one ten-round competition, which will hardly help him a terrific amount for his fight with Dempsey. Quite a number of people believe he can never be knocked out. Quite a number of people believed the same thing about Sullivan, Jeffries and Johnson. It's merely a question of time, the place and the punch—if they only stick around. Which they always do.

Many Long Term Managers. This is Conny Mack's twenty-second year as a major league manager. McGraw's twenty-first, Griffith's nineteenth, Jennings' thirteenth, Stallings' twelfth, Robinson's seventh, Huggins' seventh, Moran's fifth, Fohl's fifth, Barrow's fourth, Mitchell's third, Bezdek's second. Mack, Jennings, Stallings, Robinson, Fohl, Burke and Barrow are the men who have managed teams in the minor leagues.

McGraw and Mack each have won six pennants, Jennings has landed three and Moran, Stallings, Robinson, Barrow and Griffith each have captured one. McGraw has finished second six times, Griffith four times, Mack three times, Jennings, Stallings and Moran each twice and Fohl once. Leo Alexander would have had two red ribbons to his credit had he not sent his star pitchers to look over the Reds prior to the Ohio series in the fall of 1917.

The Wellington is more than a good pipe—

it's a WDC Pipe, a genuine French briar; it's a good smoke; it's peace; it's comfort; it's quiet meditation—all done up in one sweet brown package. The well catches all moisture and the top-opening bit sends the clean, dry smoke up away from your tongue. Good dealers have the Wellington in the shape and size you want, at $1.00 and upward.

DEPENDABILITY IS THE KEystone OF SUCCESS. LION CLOTHES, BESIDES BEING STYLEFUL, ARE DEPENDABLE AS THE SUN

You Be the Judge

Take any suit from our stock, put it on the witness stand. Let Mr. Faultfinder be the prosecutor and the Lion suit be "Counsel for the defence." Pick a jury of twelve Lion suit wearers of Kingston and open court. Cross examine it from cuff to collar, put it to a third degree of abuse, and accuse it of the most nefarious things a suit could do or not do. If you can find a witness for the prosecution—get him. But we don't think you'll find any. Frame up a case if you will—but the Lion will refute all charges because the good book says: "As ye 'sew', so shall ye reap," and Lion suits have a sewed in quality, value and style. You'll find it "not guilty" of anything else when all evidence is in. The court record will read: Only evidence given is that Lion suits are the lowest priced, the best for wear in Kingston; nothing about them warrants criticism—case dismissed, plaintiff paying costs.

Five clubs make up the circuit of the N.L.U. this season, they being Shamrocks, Nationals, Ottawa, Cornwall and Caughnawaga.

Ottawa Loses Good Athlete.

Ottawa is losing one of its crack athletes with the removal of Ernie Dunn, the all-round athlete, to Albers. Dunn is a champion paddler, a good swimmer and fine skier. He has been with the Ottawa-New Edinburgh Canoe Club for seven years, and during that time he has won no less than one hundred and seventy-five canoe races.

The latest towns to announce a lacrosse revival are: Barrie, Woodbridge, St. Mary's and Shelburne. Ottawa is in favor of a six-club circuit for the N.L.U. Cughnawaga and Cornwall may be taken in.
