THE COST OF LIVING.

A short time ago the Whig pointed out in these columns that the present exorbitant price of butter was the result of what amounts to fraudulent manipulation by those who have the facilities at command to hold up the distribution of available supplies.

SOME COMPARISONS.

Residence in England, for about three years, on military service gives reasonable opportunity, for those so inclined, to observe social and municipal differences between the old country and the new, and to draw comparisons that may be useful.

Owing to the mildness of the climate in the southern counties the soil pipes are usually installed on the outside of the house walls.

The housing of the masses is a difficult matter, and overcrowding is a serious menace to the public health. The population of the cities and towns is so dense that the improvement of these conditions is a never-ending task.

The roads are a revelation to the Canadian. They are well built and maintained, and make getting about, either for business or pleasure, an easy and desirable matter. Of course, they do not have to stand the stress of frost, which the Canadian roads are exposed to. But, if the Canadian roads were as honestly built, drained and maintained as the English roads are, the adverse influences of frost would be reduced to practically a negligible quantity.

An Empire Calendar.

Seringapatam, May 5. India has become a part of the British Empire by a process of evolution. Much blood has been spilled and many lives sacrificed to ignorance and prejudice.

Chestnut Coke

The ideal fuel for household purposes. It is coal with all the smoke and gas producing substances removed—leaving pure carbon—no dust, no soot, little ash—lots of heat.

We do not claim this to be the best fuel because we handle it; on the contrary, we handle it because it is the best.
