CANANOQUE

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
May 5.—Another daring burglary was attempted here on Friday night or early Saturday morning, when some party or parties entered Sine's drug and book store. The tills were gone through and the cash register tampered with, but the safe, so far as can be ascertained, was not touched. No valuables, so far as known, were taken. Samuel Stuchen's front door was also tried, the marks of a jimmy being quite noticeable, but an entrance was not effected.

Gananoque Lodge No. 114, I.O.O.F., turned out in goodly number yesterday morning, and paraded to Christ church, where Rev. W. Walter Cox, Grand Master of that organization for Ontario, gave a very able sermon.

In Grace church yesterday morning Rev. W. S. Lennon conducted a reception service for seventy-five new members, of which number about a dozen were taken on probation, being under twelve years of age.

Capt. D. J. Kenney has been engaged during the past week putting the Yonck II in commission for the season on the Gananoque-Clayton ferry route.

Rev. W. S. Lennon, pastor of Grace church, was in Montreal the fore part of last week attending the meeting of the board of governors of the Wesleyan Theological College.

The Y.P.S. of Grace church have arranged to produce the humorous play, "The Minister's Birthday," in Kingston, on May 14th.

Mrs. Nea Gauthier, North street, undergoing treatment for some time past in the Hotel Dieu, Kingston, has returned home to recuperate.

Mrs. C. E. Beerman and daughter, Mrs. C. N. Palmer and little daughter, Miss Dorothy Palmer, spending the past two weeks here with the former's mother, Mrs. Bullis, King street, left for their home in Brockville today.

Township Councils

HINCHINBROOK.
Parham, April 25.—Council met; members all present. Minutes of last meeting adopted. Moved, Babcock-Quinn, that Arch. Leslie be appointed Road overseer at $3.50 per day and by-law be passed confirming the appointment, carried. Moved, Babcock-Reynolds, that council purchase a stone crusher before January 1st, carried. Moved, Cronk-Reynolds, that rate of wages for men and team be 40 cents per hour and for men 20 cents per hour, carried. Moved, Cronk-Reynolds, that the following cheques be drawn: Geo. Ayerst, $5; J. N. Smith, $39.65. Council adjourned to meet at Piccadilly on Monday, May 25th, for court of revision, etc.

Notes From Denbigh.
May 1.—Andrew Ready arrived home from New Ontario, and with his brother Lorne intends to go into farming, having leased the farm of Ferdinand Stein on the Addington road. Henry Dool and Frederick Stein also arrived home from overseas. They also had enough sightseeing to do them for a while, and are going to remain in their quiet former home, the latter to assist in working his father's farm. Several "welcome home" parties were lately given at the home of returned soldiers, which were well attended and much enjoyed. Miss Katie Marquardt, who is teaching school in the Wingle Settlement; Miss May Ball, who is teaching in Little Ireland, Renfrew county; and Miss Gladys Stein, who is teaching in Eagle Hill school, have enjoyed their Easter vacation with their parents at their respective homes, but have left again and resumed their duties. Miss Lily Rodgers, who also spent her vacation at home, has returned to Renfrew and resumed her studies at the Collegiate Institute. William Gilmore has been engaged as cheese maker in the Denbigh factory for this season, and is to commence operations on the 19th inst. Miss Martha Stein, who is engaged as stenographer with a publishing firm in Regina, Sask., when informed of her father's serious illness, obtained an extra leave of absence from her old home, but since he is improving and considered out of danger she has returned to her work in the western city.

Acquire Mexican Eagle.
Royal Dutch Shell Oil interests have acquired control of the Mexican Eagle Oil Company, Limited, a Lord Cowdray property, with oil concessions in five states in Mexico, according to a cablegram received at the New York office of the latter concern.

Kingston's Fault.
Regarding the Kingston Collegiate-London basketball championship game Saturday night, the Toronto Globe says: "The winners handled the ball cleanly and fast, while the eastern boys held the ball too long. The Kingston team showed a marked improvement over last year."

The executor's accounts in the estate of the late Miss Arabella Anderson, Wellington street, were passed by Judge Lavell on Monday morning.

RETURNED FROM THE SOUTH.

L. J. Williams and Family Spent Winter in California.
Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Williams, Misses Marjorie Williams and Isabel Knox and Knox Williams returned on Sunday from Los Angeles, Cal., after having spent the winter in the south.

While in California a number of Kingstonsians were seen, among them being Edward Crumley, who resided there. Mr. Williams expressed to the Whig his appreciation of the boosting spirit of the Los Angeles people. Six years ago it was a place of about 50,000, and now it is six times that size. This growth had been due mainly to the enthusiasm of the people for their home city, and it had become so well advertised that it is now a mecca for Canadians who wish to spend the winter months in an all-weather summer climate. The Canadian Club was well attended, and at the meetings Canadians from all parts of the Dominion are met.

REFUSED TO VACATE HOUSE.

Tenant Had No House and His Wife Was Sick.
As a principle, Judge Lavell gives a landlord only "cold justice," but in a case on Saturday it was shown clearly that the landlord was not to blame for a bad condition of affairs. A tenant, whose wife is sick, and who has five children, refused to vacate a house or to pay rent. The landlord showed that the man owed four months' rent and now refused to leave the property, even when the excuse that his wife was sick had been taken away by an offer to pay for an ambulance so that she might be removed to hospital. The man in reply had simply said that he had no other house to go to. The judge after hearing the evidence adjourned the case for a week to give the tenant a chance to vacate.

DINING ROOM FOR QUEEN'S.

Present Military Equipment May be Taken Over.
A plan is being considered whereby the fine big kitchen and dining-room now used by Queen's military hospital will be used as a dining-room for the students at the university as soon as the hospital moves to the new quarters on the Onwananda property.
The dining-room and kitchen are equipped perhaps better than any other in the province. Every detail, without regard to expense, was installed to make it the very best possible for cooking for the wounded and sick soldiers. Queen's University has long felt the need of a dining-room for its students. If arrangements are carried out, this equipment will remain in its present building and the dining-room scheme for the students put into operation.

An Australian Fur-Bearer.
The wombat, or "pouched rat," of New South Wales and South Australia, is a marsupial animal. In appearance it resembles a little bear, and is sometimes classed with the badger, because of its burrowing habits. It is two or three feet long, plump, with a thick coat of long, grayish-brown woolly hair. The head is large, wide, flat, and rabbit-like, with upper lip cleft, and small eyes and ears; its legs are short and nearly equal in length, and the feet are five-toed. The tail is about half an inch long, nearly bare. The wombat is easily domesticated. In the mountainous districts of Australia its flesh is preferred to that of many other animals.
