FOOL THE ALLIES A LITTLE LONGER A Wireless Sent to Bela Kun, Hungarian Leader, by Trotsky.

Vienna, May 23.—"Hold out at all costs," is the wireless word sent to Bela Kun, the Hungarian Communist leader, by Leon Trotsky, the Russian Bolshevik Minister of War. In a new code arranged by airplane a week ago, so that the allies might not intercept messages. "Keep on presenting a fair face to the Allies, thus fooling them until we are in possession of Roumania."

Nikolai Lenin, Russian Bolshevik Premier, is also sending words of hope to Bela Kun. The Hungarian Red army has orders, it is affirmed here, to burn Budapest and slay all hostages, and then scatter to the four winds, in case the attacks of the Bolshevik army in East Roumanian fail and also if the Serb-Czech advance succeeds.

General Franchet D'Esperey, who is in command of the allied forces in Macedonia, and whose headquarters were transferred to Constantinople, has arrived at Arad from a standpoint for the purpose of directing a new attack on Budapest.

He was a quiet, unassuming and lived alone, working his farm with-out help. The police are holding a list of sixteen years, named Gagnier, as a material witness.

SOLDIER COMES TO LIFE. Floating Upon the Body of a Dead Mule. Huntsville, May 23.—Lieut. P. McLean Jackson, late of the 10th C.M.R., reached Huntsville yesterday, having crossed in a hospital ship. He had been nineteen months in a British hospital, the result of shell shock at Passchendaele. In the final charge, which rendered him unfit for further service, he was blown up by a huge shell, and, when regaining consciousness, found himself afloat on the dead body of a mule in the fortunate landing he made and the buoyancy of the dead mule's body. He is a son-in-law of Robert McNairny, and enlisted as a soldier with the 122nd Battalion.
