SPOKE TO METAL WORKERS

HIGH COST OF LIVING COMMITTEE CALLED A BLIND.

Late Organizer Declares That Government Knows Perfectly Well the Cause of the High Cost of Living.

Mr. Noble, international organizer of the Electricians, addressed the Confederation of Metal Workers on Wednesday afternoon. He said it was not the work of the organizer to settle troubles that was the duty of the rank and file. He dealt in an extensive manner with the labor situation at the present time. He said that nothing was to be hoped from a parliamentary committee appointed to investigate who is responsible for the high cost of living. Such a committee was merely a blind because the government knew perfectly well the cause of the high cost of living and who got the profits. He did not approve of the personnel of the committee appointed as all the members outside of the labor members were representatives of the manufacturers. It was impossible to get a majority report favorable to the workers—all that could be hoped for was a minority report.

One member of the opposition in the House of Commons advocated compulsory arbitration to be forced at the point of the bayonet. It was clearly evident that labor could not depend upon any political party, the workers must elect their own representatives. The speaker of the work of the late food controller who was a magistrate and never made any effort to reduce or control the price of food. He denied that labor received any German gold, the manufacturers were the men who got it. He did not think they were entitled to the profits they were getting at the present. The promise of better wages, the homes and conditions of work was never fulfilled and if never would be. The workers had to get them by their own action. The workers could do no worse than the capitalists, but they can do a great deal better.

The workers produced the surplus earnings in all industry and the industries were represented in labor. If an animal becomes sick it is looked after but it is not the case with the worker because the manufacturer does not have to pay anything to replace him.

"At the coming dominion election you have got to select the men to represent you—not the lawyers who pass legislation purposely defective in order to obtain litigation."

The organizer told of lawyers who played false. The workers can legislate just as well as the lawyers. Seventy-five per cent. of the law on the statute books is of no value whatever.

He declared that the workers have a right on their hands now that they have got to join. He warned his hearers not to be led astray by the news reports from Winnipeg strike. The strike is going to continue until the workers win out. They are not getting a living wage. The manufacturers are fighting for one open shop—nothing else, and if they win, it will be longer hours and lower wages.

The Canadian reconstruction committee is composed of Lord Strathcona and other unscrupulous. The reconstruction of this country is right tariffs so that the manufacturers will get bigger profits. Mr. Noble explained that the workers in the United States got higher wages than those engaged in the same work in Canada, and how the tariff operated to keep up prices while wages were kept down. There is no reason why electricians should not have a dollar an hour, the same as the electricians in Detroit where the cost of material is the same as in Canada.

The cost of living has gone up 83 per cent. but the average increase in wages was only 38 per cent. according to the government's own statistics.

You are told that the cost of living will come down and that wages will have to go down with it. You were told that all had to suffer while the war was on but it is not so now. Everywhere the workers are determined that they are not going to be paid according to supply and demand. The eight-hour day will soon not be long enough to employ all the workers. Every worker is entitled to a job, and if it is necessary to reduce the hours of labor to a six-hour day to eliminate all unemployment. If reconstruction means anything to the workers it means that they will have more time to rest and study and get acquainted with their wife and family. Now they don't know their own children. At a recent board of arbitration one witness told that he never saw his family except when they were asleep. He was left to put the children to bed one night and one child had to be whipped before it would go to bed. When his wife came home she told him that the one he whipped was not their child but that of their neighbors.

In all strikes the workers were always in the right never in the wrong. They never got a living wage, but they are going to get it. Mr. Noble told of the old age pension schemes of some firms. Their workers are invariably working for less than a living wage and as a fact they die before reaching the age of sixty. It is designed to hold the workers in bondage to the companies. Only one man in Toronto draws an old age pension and he gets $27 a month. The companies always find an opportunity to get rid of the workers before they are entitled to retire on pension. It is a means to keep them out of trade organizations. The state is the party to provide pensions, as well as against unemployment and sickness. This will never come while the financial people are in control. Few people of the operation of state insurance in New Zealand asked about the situation in Toronto and Winnipeg he replied that the sympathetic strike was called off. It was a mistake from the beginning and the metal trades were strong enough to win out alone.

ETHEL BARRYMORE'S PLAY.

Was Greatly Enjoyed At the Grand On Wednesday Night.

Ethel Barrymore and her company of artists made the audience at the Grand last night forget that the temperature was eighty-five degrees, so interestingly did they present R. C. Carton's comedy "The Old Chance." The Barrymores have been for several generations known to the American stage, the women folk as well as the men, and Ethel Barrymore to-day occupies a foremost place among the comedienne of the finer and subtler sort. In the role of Lady Cordell, Miss Barrymore achieves a great triumph. She is the artist always, but her personality is charming throughout the play. She is happy and unconventional in her acting. The audience liked her and was generous in its applause.

The company associated with Miss Barrymore is as near perfect as it could be. Edward Emory as Mayor Bagleby, reminded many of an aged Kingston colonel. He played his role in a way that made him a prime favorite. Two other very clever actors were Mr. Phinney as Lord Cardonwell and Mr. Brennan as Bayne. Mr. Percival as Brunson, a solicitor; Mr. Boyd as the Duke of Burchester, Mr. Ashford as the praiseworthy father, Mr. Roussillon as Maria and Eva Le Gallienne as the young duchess all played their roles in a way that made them fit into a perfectly produced play. The minor parts were also well taken. The production is beautifully staged and the scenes are laid in England. The play tells the story of a threatened divorce and how it was averted, and is full of wit, particularly the role played by Miss Barrymore, who has a velvety way of delivering lines of subtle humor and keen repartee.

THE COUNTY COUNCIL.

Considers Question of Memorial for Fallen Soldiers.

At the meeting of the County Council on Wednesday afternoon it was decided on motion of Councillors Reid and Matland that the matter of erecting a memorial to perpetuate the memory of Frontenac soldiers who made the supreme sacrifice in the great war should be left over for a future session to permit ample time for its consideration. N. T. Lyons of the N. T. Lyons Plate Glass Co., Ltd., addressed the council on the subject.

Lieut. Carnegie made a short appeal for assistance for the Navy League of Canada.

Councillor Clark has given notice of motion for the borrowing of $65,400 for the building of county highways.
