WATERTOWN JAZZERS MAY REMAIN IN U.S.A.

Musicians' Union Trying to Prevent Entrance of American Orchestra.

It is understood that the local Musicians' Union is making efforts to prevent an American orchestra from Watertown, N.Y., from accepting an engagement at a social function to be held in the city on June 20th. This orchestra, which made a hit in the city on several occasions during the winter, was to have been engaged for the forthcoming occasion, but representations have been made to the authorities to have them stopped at the border should they attempt a landing.

Alexander Fowler, local immigration inspector, was asked whether the musicians would be permitted to enter, and he stated that under the law, which had been recently interpreted, it would be extremely unlikely. The Immigration Act permits the entrance of members of dramatic, musical, athletic, artistic or spectacular organizations temporarily for the exercise of their respective callings, but the Department of Immigration has issued a ruling that it is a violation of the Dominion Alien Labor Act for such persons to enter unless their profession is their sole means of support. Whether this be so in the case of the Watertown band is not known, and the local musicians' union is making inquiries.

An interesting event will be held at the residence of Mrs. J. A. Brehler, 650 Princess street, left on Monday, June 2nd, to attend the reception of the graduation class of '19, also the graduation of her daughter, Miss Agnes Brehler. The reception proved to be a very entertaining event.
