The Beechleaf, bound from Baton Rouge, La., to Iceland, took fire off the Ozores Islands a week ago when an oil fuel liner broke. Her engines were quickly put out of commission by the flames, her rudder control disabled and her wireless send ing equipment destroyed.

The French steamer Chaleur stood by, but after working two days in a heavy sea to get a line to the Beechleaf, sent out a wireless call for assistance. The West Haven responded, and despite the rough weather, Capt. C. W.
