OBITUARY

Death of Mrs. McDonald.

Deceased was born in this city, N.Y., and was the last surviving member of the family. She spent her early days on Wolfe Island, and is well known to the older residents of this district. Her husband was in business here for over forty years on the site where the Whig office is now located, was one of Kingston's most prominent citizens, and served as an alderman. VOCATIONAL TRAINING.

For Minors Broader in Scope Than For Disabled Men.

The new order-in-council regarding vocational training for minors who enlisted before they reached the age of eighteen is far broader in its scope than the system of vocational training for disabled men. It is arranged that these boys, if they were serving an apprenticeship, can go on serving and receive government assistance to do so. The period of assistance is not fixed, but is on a sliding scale according to the monthly amount of assistance given. A sum of $480 has been allotted to each case of a minor being given vocational training, and it will be handed over to him as required during his apprenticeship. The sum guaranteed to each boy is sixty dollars a month. If he is taking straight vocational training at the school, he receives an eight months' course at sixty dollars monthly. Should he be working as an apprentice, and his employer pays him thirty dollars a month, he will receive from the department of soldiers' civil re-employment an additional thirty dollars a month for sixteen months, or until the $480 is entirely disbursed. Should his employer pay him forty dollars a month, the government allowance will be twenty dollars a month for two years. As the wages paid by the employer increases the government allowance decreases in its monthly rate, and is extended for a greater length of time, with a guaranteed wage of sixty dollars a month to each boy being trained. This is a splendid scheme, and it will be of great assistance to those boys who broke their apprenticeships to go overseas.

UNDECIDED ON THE TRIP

KINGSTON MUSICIANS' UNION LODGED A PROTEST.

Immigration Law a Bar—Ward Says Musicians He Planned to Take to Kingston Depend Wholly on Their Playing for Support.

Watertown, N.Y., Times.
Stanley H. Ward, leader and manager of Ward's jazz orchestra, said today that he had not decided what will be done with reference to the protest lodged by the Musicians' Union of Kingston, Ont., against the Ward orchestra playing at a social function in Kingston, Friday, June 13th.

The Kingston organization is opposed to the Watertown musicians playing in Kingston on the grounds that it is a violation of the immigration act. This act permits the entrance of members of dramatic, musical, athletic, artistic or spectacular organizations, temporarily for the exercise of their respective callings, but the department of immigration has issued a ruling that it is a violation of the dominion alien labor act for such persons to enter unless their profession is their sole means of support.

Mr. Ward said today that the six musicians he will take to Kingston will be men who depend wholly upon their talent as musicians for support. He, himself, is pianist of the orchestra, but is employed as clerk of the city board of public works. It is believed that this one exception can be adjusted to the satisfaction of the immigration authorities.

If affidavits showing that the members of the orchestra depend upon their musical talent for their livelihood these will be prepared, it is said.

AT THE COUNTY COURT.

All Criminal Cases on Docket Have Been Disposed Of.

The four criminal cases on the docket at the county court have been disposed of. The petit jurors were discharged Thursday night, and the grand jury submitted its report and was discharged on Friday morning. The jury reported having made an inspection of the jail and found things satisfactory. Repairs to the roof of the jail were recommended.

There are three non-jury cases yet to be heard, and when the court opened Friday morning the case of E. W. Mullin vs. Carrie Martin was taken up. In this case the plaintiff is seeking for an injunction restraining the defendant from obstructing the right of way and for discharging water on plaintiff's lands and for damages for so doing. The hearing in the case was concluded during the morning and judgment reserved.

The case of Cohen & Co. vs. Baker & Betcherman was adjourned till Oct. 7th, and two other cases on the docket were also postponed. The case of Cohen vs. Baker & Betcherman is one for $800 damages for failure to carry out an agreement for the sale of goods.

The court finally adjourned at noon on Friday.

What To Do When Nerves Go Wrong

A Specialist's Advice

Men and women who suffer from weak nerves, who tire easily, can't sleep, have brain fog, low vitality, general weariness, loss of strength, dulled ambition, lack of will power, or any of those symptoms that so surely arise from poor, unsteady, unstrung nerves, or nerve force run low, should try taking a little Ferris-Peptide with their meals for a few days and note results. This preparation is the greatest finger-tip stimulant and nerve vitalizer ever known for putting the good old "pep" energy into a tired, run-down and shattered nervous system.

Here is a test worth trying. The next time you feel tired, blue or when your nerves are fairly crying out, take a Ferris-Peptide nerve tablet. Then wait for just ten minutes, and note results. Ferris-Peptide seems to go straight to the nerve cells and starts work in five minutes. It reaches them. It brings a ten-minute change from that awful dull, weak, lazy, don't-give-a-hang feeling, to brightness, strength, clear-headedness and courage. It calms and strengthens the nerves of people who suffer with "jumps" and "fidgets," and gives them poise, power and tremendous reserve energy. Ferris-Peptide Tablets are absolutely harmless, contain no dope or habit-forming drugs, and are always safe, easy, pleasant and efficient. All druggists in Kingston and vicinity sell it in large boxes—42 tablets to a package—on an absolute guarantee of satisfaction, or money back.
