WOODEN SOLES

Wood enters more and more into shoe-making. The high price of leather has led to the use of wooden soles, and these wood makes good soles, it is stated, and the advantages of wooden soles are great.

The wood is a better non-conductor than leather and serves better to keep the feet warm and dry. It is said that in Paris fashionable footwear is often provided with wooden soles, with small pieces of leather to deaden the sound in walking.

People with tender feet, accustomed to soft, pliable leather soles, might find discomfort in wooden soles, but there are many who wear them without apparent discomfort.

IT'S HOT, ALL RIGHT! EIGHTY-SIX DEGREES

The Warmest Spell in Many Years For the Month of June.

The weather man gave the citizens a great "scorching" on Tuesday. And evidently there is no let up to it, as he says it will be "fine and decidedly warmer to-morrow." So cheer up, get your electric fans going, live on ice cream, lemonade, two per cent. food, something else stronger if you can get it, but above all don't worry.

At two o'clock on Tuesday afternoon the thermometer in front of L. T. Best's down town drug store showed 86 degrees. At noon it was 81 degrees, so it took quite a jump in two hours' time.

Old residents state that this is the warmest spell they have ever experienced for the month of June.

When Mr. Patten was asked if it wasn't due to the public to lower the price he said: "Our mill was not built for the glory of God or anybody else. It was built for the benefit of the shareholders."

MAY RECALL ORDER FOR RAILWAY STRIKE

Canadian Wage Question May Be Taken Up With That of U.S.

(Canadian Press Despatch.) Montreal, June 17.—The recall of the strike order issued to Canadian members of railway shippers of America last night was a possibility today, it was learned in labor circles. Secretary Rickie of the Union has left Montreal to confer with the executive officials of the United States at Atlantic City and it is hinted here that he may be urged to call off the strike, due to start at ten o'clock tomorrow morning, so that the question of wages and hours both for the United States and Canadian shippers could be taken up at the same time and not at a later date.

SOMETHING WILL DEVELOP.

Civic Committee Has Addressed Both Parties. Negotiations for the settlement of the strike at the Canadian Locomotive Company's plant have not yet taken place, but it is expected that something will develop very shortly. The civic committee met on Saturday and addressed a communication to both parties to meet and discuss the matter.

When interviewed, the president of the Metal Trades Federation stated that the committee's letter had not yet been received, but the explanation is that it was addressed to the secretary of the Trades and Labor Council and will probably reach them through the secretary.

The men state that they are quite ready to negotiate a settlement of the strike and their representatives are appointed for that purpose. From what can be learned in a general way it is evident that the position of the company is unchanged, that any concession in respect to hours of work and wages will be determined in some measure by the action of similar large companies whose competition must be met on the market. This is quite apparent for the cost of production is an important factor and if our locomotives cost more than those of other companies there is small prospect of orders being received. Where the company can meet others in the matter of cost they can hold their own.

THE GERMAN PARADOX

Walter Lippmann in July Yale Review. One of the objects and one of the results of the war was to destroy the discipline and obedience of the enemy. One of the necessities of the peace is the most rigorous discipline and obedience if the economic demands are to be executed. The terms laid down at Versailles require for their enforcement in Germany an intensity of effort similar to, if not greater than, the effort of war. They require a loyalty and a sense of personal sacrifice to the government which signs the peace such as few governments can command except in the earlier stages of a patriotic war. In the relaxation of peace there is no example to be found of a comparable self-effacement. It is, therefore, quite an interesting speculation as to how any government which signs the peace can keep its population from slipping away, idling, or doing listless work. The experiment of forcing a generation of educated people to produce for their fathers' enemies has not been tried before, and yet if the experiment fails many poignant expectations will remain unfulfilled.

OFFICIAL STATEMENT.

THE DUKE AT GANANOQUE.

He Proclaimed a Half Holiday For the Schools. Gananoque, June 17.—The Duke and Duchess of Devonshire arrived here this morning. After the civic address their Excellencies held a short reception. The ladies of the auxiliary of the G.W.V.A. and the War Workers' League and many men and women of the town were present. A school half-holiday was proclaimed by the duke. The Boy Scouts were inspected and Scoutmaster Horace Gould, James Sampson, Stanley McCormick and Gordon Bishop were duly appointed by the Duke. The party re-embarked at 11.30 a.m. The party re-embarked at 11.30 a.m. for Brockville. The park was packed to its limit. Factories and stores closed from ten to twelve o'clock.

Her Complaint.

He was fond of playing jokes on his wife, and he thought he had found a winner. "My dear," he said as they sat at supper, "I heard such a sad story today about a young girl. They thought she was going blind, and so a surgeon operated on her and found—"

"Yes," gasped his wife expectantly. "That she'd got a young man in her eye," finished the husband with a chuckle.

For a moment there was silence. Then the lady remarked slowly: "Well, it would all depend on what sort of young man it was. Some of them she could have seen through easily enough."
