Through the Canadian Alps

Between Banff, the popular summer resort in the Canadian Pacific Rockies and Lake Windermere, the head waters of the great Columbia River, lies an Alpine ridge of spectacular beauty, forming part of the Great Divide. This ridge is penetrated by two comparatively easy passes, the Simpson, and the Vermilion which lead into the Valley of the Kootenay River, a region abounding in game on account of its being well south of the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway. Between the Kootenay River and the Columbia River is a small range of mountains through which the Sinclair Pass and Canyon provide an easy road. When the first surveys were made for an automobile road between Banff and Windermere it was planned to use the Simpson Pass, named after Sir George Simpson, Governor of the Hudson's Bay Company, who made this crossing in 1841. But the route over the Vermilion was found to be easier and at the same time more beautiful, and construction of the Highway of the Great Divide was commenced from opposite Banff in this direction. At the same time the road from Windermere through the Sinclair Canyon was also commenced and at the time of the outbreak of war a gap of only thirty miles separated the two roads. War put an end to construction, and a great washout destroyed several miles of the western end, so that the project seemed to have been abandoned. Now, however, the Dominion Government has made an arrangement with the British Columbia Government by which the route of the road comes under the jurisdiction of the Dominion Parks, and a substantial appropriation has been allotted to finish the work. In this way there is every prospect of the early completion of what will be the most wonderful automobile road in Canada, opening up an Alpine region of entrancing beauty. It will be possible to motor from Calgary to Windermere between sunrise and sunset through a hundred miles of the most glorious scenery in North America. A good automobile road runs south to Fort Steele and Cranbrook, and from Cranbrook there are excellent roads to Spokane, or eastwards through Crow's Nest Pass, and back to Calgary. The Good Roads Association of Alberta is enthusiastic over the prospect as this will mean the advent of many tourists from all over America. The new road will also be of great benefit to the Upper Columbia Valley which has many attractions for visitors on account of the fertility of the soil and suitability for mixed farming. This valley is served by the Kootenay Central Railway, a recently constructed branch of the Canadian Pacific.

MEETING OF THE G.W.V.A.

Preparations Are Being Made For Carnival Week. Twenty-two new members were received into the local branch of the G. W. V. A. Monday evening, their having made application for membership since last meeting. It was resolved that arrangements be made, if possible, to have the G. W. V. A. hold on the cricket field at the baseball match on Wednesday. Notice of motion was given to the effect that the question of resuming weekly general meetings would be brought up at next meeting. The action of the military Y. M.

C. A. in supplying baseball bats, etc., to the Military Baseball League was reported and is much appreciated by this association.

Action taken regarding the G. W. V. A. carnival week was reported, and many members volunteered their services during the week to co-operate with the committee. Comrade H. L. Howe received final instructions regarding representing the branch at the Dominion convention to be held in Vancouver commencing June 30th. A special general meeting is to be held on Friday for the purpose of making final arrangements regarding carnival week.

A BUCKET BRIGADE SAVES CHEESE FACTORY

An Exciting Time Occurred at Seeley's Bay on Tuesday Morning. The cheese factory at Seeley's Bay caught fire at 11 o'clock on Tuesday morning, but the prompt work of the people of the neighborhood, who formed a bucket brigade, saved the factory. The damage will only be slight. The factory is owned by Joseph L. C. Alonon. It is believed that a spark from the chimney caused the fire which was breaking through the roof, when detected. The factory whistle was blown and "Central" ran down on the telephoning, with the result that a bucket brigade was quickly formed, and the building saved. Luckily, there was no wind at the time or perhaps the factory would have been wiped out. The fire will not interfere with the making of cheese.

BUSY BOAT SEASON.

Passages Are Being Booked Ahead on River Steamers. The excessive heat of the cities in Canada and the United States is having a very beneficial effect upon the great lakes and River St. Lawrence traffic. It has been a good many years since the boats have had such extensive lists of passengers, and practically every berth is taken on each trip. The fact that business conditions are unsettled has also boosted the traffic, as holidays are being taken somewhat earlier than usual. On Tuesday morning the steamer Toronto made her regular trip, and every available berth was taken on the boat. Passengers are being booked ahead for the trips through the islands, and on Saturday next the steamer Kingston is expected to carry the Buffalo Board of Trade on a special trip through the islands, stopping off at Brophy's Point for a few hours on the return to Toronto.

SINN FEIN LEADER APPEARS IN NEW YORK

Greeted by Wildly Enthusiastic Followers—Says He's Been in Boston. New York, June 24.—Edward de Valera, president of the Sinn Fein "Irish Republic," emerged dramatically last night from the seclusion in which he had kept himself since his arrival in the United States. In a statement to the press at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, where he was greeted by wildly enthusiastic followers, he declared he had come to America "to speak for the Irish nation." Mr. de Valera, 55, tall, smooth-faced, clear-eyed young Irishman, was born in New York in 1882, but said he "renounced" his American citizenship when he became an Irish soldier. He declined to tell how he contrived to reach America, but said he came here from Boston several days ago. It was stated that during his stay in New York he had been living at the Carmelite, prior to East Twenty-sixth street.

MANHATTAN GIANTS COMING.

Colored Aggregation to Be Here for Dominion Day. Arrangements are being made by the board of management of the City Baseball League to provide the fans with a superior brand of ball on Dominion Day. The Manhattan team, one of the finest colored aggregations in the United States, is being brought to the city and a double header is scheduled. In the morning they will meet "Buff" Palmer's Athletics, which hold the premier position in the City League at the present time. In the afternoon they will play the "Red Sox" who will clash with the southpawers and both fixtures are expected to provide some of the best ball of the season. The line-up of the Giants will be: Cooke, c; Eusey, p; Ransom, 1b; Paris, 2b; Allen, ss; Griffin, 3b; Brown, rf; L. Daurin, lf; White, cf.

DEATH OF MAJOR PORTER.

He Was For a Time Provost Marshal in Kingston. His many friends in this city were sorry to learn of the death of Major James Porter, who died in Collingwood, on Saturday, and who was for a time engaged as provost marshal in Kingston. The deceased went to Valence with the first contingent, served in France, and was severely shocked. For a time he was "barged master" of a town in France. Major Porter was fifty-one years old, and is survived by his wife and a sister. Death was caused by shell-shock, which brought on other ailments.

Another False Alarm.

The firemen were given a long run all for nothing, on Monday evening about 7:30 o'clock, as the result of a pair joke on the part of some persons. The call was sent in by telephone for a fire to the corner of Johnson and Spring streets, but when the firemen arrived on the scene they found that there was no fire. It was a long run for the firemen, and especially hard on the horses. When a humor gives a patient hope he expects pay for it.
