Victrolas and His Master's Voice Records

Victrola No. 10—$136

64814 When You Look in the Heart of a Rose—Gillespie-Methven, 10 in., $1.25

What sweeter message can a rose bear in its heart than the secret whispered into it by the giver—a secret inviolable to all save the one for whom it is intended? That is the subject of this delightful song of sentiment which John McCormack sings with amazing charm. His voice is never so sweet as when it is the love's messenger, and though you may guess something of the nature of the message of the rose, you will hear the record many times before you measure the depth of sincerity and heart-yearning which the great Irish tenor contrives to put into the simple waltz refrain of this fascinating song which, sung first in "The Better Ole," has so rapidly grown popular. The refrain is repeated, as if to give emphasis, and to the melody of McCormack's voice is added the enchanting strains of a violin obbligato.

MATCHES CAUSE FIRE IN AN UNUSUAL WAY
When They Were Thrown in Vestibule They Began to Blaze.

A peculiar fire started at the home of Mrs. McMahon, 30 Sydenham street, at 10.30 a.m. on Monday, through careless handling of a box of matches. Mrs. McMahon had ordered the matches from a grocer and the delivery boy, instead of laying them on the vestibule floor, threw them in. The concussion ignited them and soon the hall was filled with the sulphurous fumes of a box of matches. Mrs. McMahon had quenched the blaze. The end of every match in the box was burned, and Chief Armstrong is sending it as a curiosity to Fire Marshal E. P. Heston at Toronto.

Vesella's Band.
Ottawa Citizen.
July 7.—Vesella and his band made their debut to an Ottawa audience last night in the Arena, Laurier Avenue.

They began a week's engagement, and if the performance given last night is any indication of what is to follow, one of the finest musical treats Ottawa people were ever afforded the opportunity of hearing is in store.

The programme was one that had a wide appeal and demonstrated the versatile equipment of the band. Vesella was at his best. His conducting was masterly, and Miss Lois Peterson, who possesses a voice of extraordinary beauty and power, rendered the solo, "L'Est d'Arle," from "La Tosca," magnificently. She was twice encored, and her whole performance was a tremendous success.—Adv.

Watering Farm Horses.
Walter Moore, a well-known writer, says:

"It is a common thing for farmers to work their horses in the hayfield from morning to night, watering them only at noon. This is done even on days of excessive heat. The driver usually has two or more refreshing drinks in the middle of the morning, and again in the afternoon; but the horses, who are equally as thirsty, go without. This want of water is not only distressing, but it causes the horses to drink to excess at noon and again at night, which often results in colic, and always tends to produce a distended stomach, or what farmers call a "hay belly." Farmers who would treat their horses humanely should take water into the field for them in hot weather."
