THEATRICAL

At the Grand.
For to-night, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, something out of the ordinary in the line of pleasant entertainment has been arranged at the Grand Opera House. Two feature pictures and comic and scenic reels will be shown along with high-class vaudeville. George Walsh the greatest athlete in slindom will appear in a five reel feature "Never Say Quit," a play filled with the stunts that has made Mr. Walsh famous. Miss Billie Rhodes will be seen in a five reel feature "Hoop La." This photoplay is entered about the circus ring. Miss Rhodes does excellent work in this production among which is bare-back riding, trapeze work and other gymnastics. Other reels to be shown are a Mutt & Jeff cartoon "The Tonsorial Artist," the screen magazine and a two reel comedy. Superior vaudeville of singing and dancing girls will be presented.—Advt.

At the Strand.
The most baffling mystery drama, "The Life Mask," will be presented at the Strand theatre this afternoon and evening. Madam Olga Petrova is the star. Ten of New York city's best operatives in detective work and thoroughly experienced in the unravelling of mysteries involving crime, were called into consultation by Madam Petrova and her staff of assistants, in order to make the play a success. So cunningly was the story of "The Life Mask" worked out that it is impossible for the average movie fan to even guess who committed the murder. The play was selected by the Polish actress as a proper vehicle for the display of her high talents. The scenes were photographed in the beautiful grove at Miami, Fla. and the array of luxuriant palms form a most attractive tropical background for the picturesque white uniforms of Red Cross workers. The results achieved in the production of "The Life Mask" as a mystery play of absorbing interest have far exceeded the expectations of all concerned.

Mr. Wilson, manager of the Strand, has made important improvements in the way of ventilation for the comfort of summer patrons, involving considerable expenditure. Nine oscillating and suction fans have been installed so that on the hottest days outside on the street, patrons may find the air cool and refreshing in the theatre. The work was done by the H. W. Newman Electric Company and in all wiring in the building the regulations of the Ontario Fire Underwriters Association were strictly carried out.—Advt.

At Griffin's.
Thomas H. Ince has produced another drama of big city life in "The Law of Men," the latest starring vehicle for beautiful little Enid Bennett, in which Niles Welch, plays the leading male part, heading a fine cast. The feature of this picture which will headline the bill at Griffin's for to-day, Tuesday and Wednesday, are among others the role of the star, as a model in clay, who also moulds several human lives; the romantic atmosphere of Washington Square, New York; a trap in a roadhouse near the city; a sensational murder trial and a dramatic confession. Miss Bennett is supplied in this production with one of the strongest roles she has ever had. A Sunshine Comedy entitled "Oh What a Knight" lends just the right touch of variety to our excellent programme, and provides much mirth, which will be sure to please all who see it. Don't miss this programme.—Advt.

ORANGE SERVICE HELD.

In Orange Hall Sunday—Rev. W. T. G. Brown Spoke.
The Orangemen of the city lodge attended divine service in the Orange Hall on Sunday. There was a large attendance of the brethren and a splendid musical programme was rendered. A. D. Bankier rendered a solo, Rev. W. T. G. Brown was the special preacher for the occasion. He took for his text Romans XIII 1-8.

"It was," said the speaker, "shown all through the New Testament that Jesus Christ and his disciples were always loyal to the Roman government and power." While revolution cannot always be condemned, yet the Christian man cannot be forward in revolution and is always an example of self-restraint and control. Mr. Brown then took up the subject of loyalty in its wider aspects, showing the splendid loyalty of the British Dominions during the great world war. "Loyalty to the state," declared the speaker, "is always loyalty to God, and for the Christian this is not difficult." The speaker said the Orangemen were celebrating the memory of a great man who fought the battles for democracy when the Stuart kings were obsessed by the idea of divine right and had he failed then, democracy in England would have been secured by a bloody revolution at a later date. In conclusion the preacher counselled his hearers to be loyal to country, to God and to duty.

A cornice stone falling from the roof of the confectionery store occupied by N. R. Grimm, Princess street, nearly injured pedestrians early on Sunday afternoon. Several were close to it when it fell.
