TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

SINCE WORK WAS STARTED ON PRESENT WHIG BUILDING.

Buildings Over Seventy Years Old Were Demolished to Make Way for An Up-to-Date Newspaper Office—The Contracts Awarded for the Work.

It is just twenty-five years ago this week, to be exact, on July 25th, since a start was made on the erection of the present Whig building. The files of the Whig contain the following reference to the building, which will be read with interest:

"The contracts for the Whig building have been awarded to George Wilson for masonry and carpentry; Elliott Bros., for steam heating and plumbing; McKelvey & Birch for metal work, and T. McMahon & Co., for painting and glazing. The building will have floor feet width, which nearly equal, and will show a front of Credit Valley stone, and red pressed brick; have sub-basement with three floors above, both electricity and gas for lighting and motive power; and be arranged and fitted up with modern ideas of convenience and facility for dispatch of work.

The demolishing of the buildings on the site will commence at once. They are at least seventy, probably eighty years old, having been in their present shape when the late William Ford leased one in 1837. It has been used for the building he founded ever since. It was occupied about 1826 by Soutlebury, manufacturer of leather breeches, then a very common part of gentlemen's wardrobe. This part of the block was the original site of St. George's church, a wooden structure, shown in the old engravings of the city. The Town building, previously the Baker property, was once the home of the Kingston Patriot, published by Dalton, the miller, who contested Frontenac for the provincial parliament.

The rectory of Kingston still holds the whole front—no one will say how honorably or honestly—save the lots sold to Jacob Bajus and R. Town and held by their heirs.

Letters to the Editor

Military Baseball.

Portsmouth, Ont., July 22.—(To the Editor): I would like to make a few observations on the baseball game played between the G.W.V.A. and the so-called District Depot team last Friday evening.

It seems to me that one or two of the Military League teams in this city are not playing the game, and I would like to take this opportunity through the columns of the public press to point out why in my humble opinion they are not playing the game.

Under Military League rules no man is allowed to play unless he has been overseas, and I know that the District Depot played men who had never been overseas, and while I have no personal animosity against them for this fact, I am sure, show wherein the District Depot has erred. It did not play the game, in so far as they played men who were not entitled to play under the Military League Rules.

I think that the District Depot will agree with me that they were severely stung in their supposition that Friday night's game would wipe the G.W.V.A. off the map as a baseball aggregation, for they reckoned without their customers, as the G.W.V.A. team, as all will agree, played the game of their lives and won a richly deserved game.

It was said on the diamond that if the G.W.V.A. chose to play City League players so much the better for them but it must be remembered that the very organization of the G.W.V.A. forbids them playing any member not eligible under Military League rules, as the Association can only play its own members. I can assure the District Depot that the G.W.V.A. will play the game if they will, and as only by playing the game, can baseball be brought to the standard that will reflect credit on the military and other leagues in this city, it is up to the central executive of the league to take steps to see that only eligible players are allowed to go on the diamond, and as these rules were drawn up by the managers of the teams themselves, it is to be hoped that they will not exemplify by playing the game themselves.

Thanking you for any space that you may deem fit to give me in your excellent paper.

Very truly yours,
—FRANK E. ANSFIELD.

A Very Successful Conference.

A. W. Street has returned from the annual conference at Guelph. There were forty-five district representatives present from all parts of the province and the conference was one of the most successful ever held. In addition to the usual routine of hearing reports, etc., new features of an educational character were introduced, such as the grading of wool, culling of poultry, etc.

GAVE A FOWL SUPPER.

The Catholics Used the Equipment of the Orange Order.

On Wednesday evening last the Catholics of Frankford gave a fowl supper. They needed tables and dishes for the event and knowing that the Orangemen of the village possessed the required furniture they went to the Orangemen and asked for a loan.

In response to the request the Orangemen replied: "Why, sure! and if you want the picture of King William you can have that too." And so the furniture was loaned and the Catholic feast chicken was served on Orange plates, and the Catholics sat around the Orange tables and felt no worse for the association. And, what is more, the Orangemen and their wives and sons and daughters turned out to the supper and they all had a good time together.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE.

George Hillier Located His Deer Hound As Result of Whig Limer.

George Hillier is a firm believer in the old doctrine, "It Pays to Advertise."

Mr. Hillier lost a deer hound which he prized very highly. He put an advertisement in the Whig this week, and as a result he found his much-prized dog. A man giving the name of Gordon found the dog, noticed the advertisement in the Whig, and now the canine is back with its owner. Mr. Hillier was more than pleased over his good luck and informed the Whig.

"There's nothing like advertising when you lose anything," he said, "just let the citizens know how I located the dog."

AWARDED THE D.C.M.

A Patient at the General Hospital in Kingston.

Sergt. Albert James, late of the 49th Battalion, C.E.F., now a convalescent in Queen's Military Hospital, has been notified that he was awarded the D.C.M. for conduct in action around Contrail. Sergt. James enlisted in the 21st Battalion, but had to undergo an operation in the General Hospital and when he recovered the unit had left for England. He was severely wounded in the right thigh and invalided to Canada. He has lost the use of his right leg.

Act of Vandalism.

Late Friday night or early Saturday morning, some person or persons unknown climbed the gates of "Thorntonville," A. C. Hardy's residence in King street east, says the Brockville Recorder and Times, and smeared the marble lions surrounding them with some form of black paint and shellac, to remove which will cause much trouble. No ground for the act of vandalism can be assigned. The matter was reported to the police.

Great Assortment To Choose From. Provoct, Brock street, has a great assortment of tweed, Canadian and Scotch, blue and black serge and flannel for his order department. People in need of clothing would do well to examine his goods before purchasing elsewhere.

Cottages All Occupied.

Never in recent years have the cottages at Terrace Park, near Brockville, been so fully occupied as at the present time. It is a regular colony of people there this summer. There is not a cottage to rent and the owners are flocking in daily. Terrace Park is a lively place this season.

Decorating the Police Quarters.

The police station has been in the hands of the painters and decorators for the past few weeks. The work is now completed and there is a great change in the appearance of the rooms. The police station had been sadly neglected for many years, and the work done was greatly needed.

A RECORD TRIP.

Steamer America Carried Crowd Through Thousand Islands.

The steamer America made a record trip with a record crowd through the Thousand Islands to Ogdensburg on Tuesday. The capacity was reached long before the time of departure and scores were disappointed at not having the opportunity of going to the "burg."

The time made by the steamer was very fast and all the passengers were off by eleven o'clock at night. The ship made a very pretty sight as she steamed through the harbor with all the lights shining and the searchlight playing on the water.
