Petawawa Camp Quiet This Year.

Petawawa, Aug. 5.—Unlike the last four or five summers, hardly a soldier is to be seen about the Petawawa military camp this year. So quiet is the place, in fact that it has an air of melancholy about it, and reminds one of a phantom camp. Horse lines, where artillery horses stamped and kicked during past summers are all unoccupied, while not a tent is to be seen on the grounds. A permanent staff of a few dozen men are queuing things in order.

Entrance Examinations.

TO THE PUBLIC

In view of the inadequate and interrupted supply of the gas service furnished to the public on different occasions, I feel an explanation should be made to our many consumers, stating the reason for our inability to furnish an uninterrupted supply.

The additional consumers taken on in 1914 and 1915 warranted the installation of additional manufacturing equipment, but in a general way, all industrial appliances of this nature were side-tracked in the one great endeavor to win the war, and the prices which we received for new machinery at this time would not justify the expenditure.

During the last few years, the Commission, with a much over-taxed plant, endeavored to furnish a supply as best they could under existing conditions until the steel and iron market became normal.

Contracts are to-day in the hands of the Manufacturers for new Purifiers and Generators, capable of supplying a continuous service and every expediency will be brought to bear to have these various machines erected with the least possible delay.

In the meantime, we sincerely trust you will bear patiently with us in our endeavor to furnish the best supply possible under our very much crippled condition.

NO KINGSTON SHELTER NO CIVIC BURDEN

Kingston Finds Foster Homes For Children's Aid Society Wards.

At a meeting of the Children's Aid Society executive on Tuesday afternoon, Inspector John Pollie read communications from a couple of cities, Belleville included, asking for information with regard to the city's children's shelter. In those places the shelters are filled to overflowing, and are a source of big expense to the municipality. It was pointed out that Kingston had no civic shelter, as the society finds it better to secure foster homes without delay for its wards, who are temporarily housed in orphanages till disposed of. At present all the local society wards are in good homes, and not costing the city or county anything. Last month the inspector dealt with four cases.

The delightfully cool dances at Lake Ontario Park every Tuesday and Thursday evenings are attracting hundreds of the younger folks of the city. On Tuesday evening the pavilion was crowded and the music provided by the Social Guide orchestra, was greatly enjoyed. There was no session of the Police Court on Wednesday morning. Golden Heart Celery, Carnovsky's.
