AFTER THE OFFICES.

Said F. M. Hugo is Agreeable to Various Candidates.

Secretary of State Hugo, who is an outspoken aspirant for the gubernatorial nomination on the G. O. P. ticket in 1920, is seeking to get a complete state ticket to run with him, according to reports in Republican circles. Hugo has already made overtures to ex-Senator George H. Whitney and to Lieut.-Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, who is a candidate for assembly in Nassau county. Whitney, Hugo would like to see as his candidate for secretary of state to succeed himself, and Roosevelt is his choice for lieutenant-governor.

Friends of Secretary Hugo said that he had participated in no framing of a ticket, and that his ambition does not extend beyond the head of the ticket, although he frankly says that he desires a strong ticket named from top to bottom. "I knew nothing about the candidacy of Mr. Whitney for secretary of state until I read it in the papers," said Mr. Hugo, who was in the city to-day. "He never discussed it with me."

VETERAN CAPTAIN CELEBRATES EVENT

Capt. and Mrs. W. J. Vincent, of Clayton, Married Sixty Years.

At Clayton, N.Y., Capt. and Mrs. Wilber J. Vincent on Thursday celebrated the sixtieth anniversary of their marriage. Clayton relatives and friends of the veteran lake captain and his wife called between 2 and 5 o'clock in the afternoon. Invitations to attend the gathering had been sent to those not living in the village.

On Aug. 14th, 1859, Miss Doriliska Dean, then a young lady of seventeen, whose home was near St. Lawrence, was married to Wilbur Vincent, twenty years old, of Clayton. The ceremony took place in Depauville, and Mr. and Mrs. Vincent came directly to Clayton and set up house-keeping in the little home in State street that Mr. Vincent had ready for his bride. Here they lived for ten years. They then purchased the pleasant property in South Water street which they have owned and occupied for over fifty years.

Two sons, Elmer D., who died several years ago, and William, of the latter name, were born in the village, and they also have four grandchildren, Mrs. Inez Carpenter, of Carthage; Carleton W. Vincent, of Carthage; Elmer D. Vincent, and Grovone E. Vincent, of Carthage, and four great-grandchildren.

Capt. Vincent sailed the Great Lakes for many years, and was master of several upper lakers during the twenty-one years he sailed. For thirteen years he superintended the care of Castle Rest, the beautiful summer home of George Pullman. Five years ago he retired from outside activities, and now devotes his time to caring for his garden and home. The attractive garden and lawn surrounding his home give evidence of his watchful care.

Capt. and Mrs. Vincent have been members of the Methodist Episcopal church in Clayton for over fifty years. Capt. Vincent is a member of Clayton Lodge, A. F. & A. M. and Calumet Chapter, O. E. S.

Wide-Awake Questions.

Here are a few questions for the wide-awake boys of Kingston. Can you answer all of them?

You can any day see a white horse, why do you never see a white colt?

How many different kinds of trees grow in your neighborhood, and what are the good for?

Why does a horse eat grass backward and a cow forward?

Why does a hop vine always wind one way, and a bean another?

Where should the inside of a chimney be bigger, at the top or bottom, and why?

Can you tell why a horse when tethered to a rope, always unravels it, while a cow always twists it into kinky knots?

Why do leaves turn upside down just before a rain?

What is the length of a horse's head—is it as long as a four barrel?

What animals have no upper teeth in front, and why?

Employees of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company won their demands for recognition of their union when Federal Judge Mayer announced that over fifty per cent of the men were members of the union.

Three persons were killed and a fourth badly injured when an automobile went over a high embankment near Lake Placid, N.Y., on Thursday.
