THE WANNA II WAS BURNED

MOTOR BOAT EXPLOSION EN-DANGERS FOUR LIVES.

Two Watertown and Clayton Men Have Thrilling Experience in St. Lawrence—One Blown Into River.

Watertown, N.Y., Aug. 27.—George C. Sherman of this city, George W. Mercler and Gus Seymour of Clayton, and William Lambert of this city had a thrilling experience Monday afternoon when the engine of Mr. Sherman's motor boat, Wanna II, exploded without warning near Grindstone Island in the St. Lawrence.

Mr. Sherman was thrown into the water. He hid himself of a heavy raincoat and took refuge on a table which he found floating nearby until rescued by men in a rowboat.

The other three men were blown into the air by the explosion but landed in the boat. The clothing of Mercler and Lambert caught fire and both were burned slightly.

Mr. Lambert leaped into the river and swam to a rowboat towed behind the launch. He took his companions from the burning craft and picked up Mr. Sherman.

The Wanna II was burned to the water. The cause of the explosion has not been determined.

MORMONS WILL NOT PURCHASE T. I. PARK

Not Likely that Majority Stock Will Pass From E. T. Shepard.

A meeting was held in the Tabernacle, Thousand Island Park, Saturday night of about 200 cottage owners to consider the future of the park. From the discussion it appears that E. T. Shepard, who owns a majority of the stock of the association, has entered into a contract with Charles Collier, to sell his stock to Collier on this contract. Collier has paid $1,000 and he has until October 1st to pay the balance of the $20,000. Collier has tried to sell the stock to the cottage owners, but has not succeeded in doing so. To facilitate the transfer in case the cottage owners decided to buy, Collier assigned the contract to his wife who is at the park.

After extended discussion by the cottage owners no motion was made to buy the Shepard-Collier stock and so no action was taken. It does not seem probable that the contract would be fulfilled in the time specified and if it is not Mr. Shepard will continue the owner of the stock. The charter of the association protects the moral and religious character of the park as well as the original charter did. Mr. Collier has gone to Chicago and it is understood is continuing his efforts to dispose of his purchase. It was stated he had notified the Mormons that under no condition would he sell to them. Negotiations had been pending to sell to the Mormons.

Shepard Makes Statement.

That Mormons will be totally excluded from ownership in the Thousand Island Park Association is indicated in the statement made by E. T. Shepard, Syracuse, N.Y., in which he declared that Charles Collier, Toronto, had wired to an official of the Mormon church that "under no circumstances would the stock in the association be sold to them."

Mr. Shepard said that it was true that Collier possessed an option on 60 per cent. of the outstanding stock and that he had paid $1,000 to Mr. Shepard for it. It is proposed now that this stock be taken out by residents of the park, a joint purchase being made.

It appears that Collier represented to him that he had letters from Salt Lake City and from a high officer of the Mormon church in New York City to the effect that they wished to obtain control of the property.

"We aren't sure that the Mormons were interested in this," said Mr. Shepard. "It may be a bluff."

He said that the option cost Collier $1,000 and that another thousand dollars had probably been spent by the agent in attempting to dispose of that option.

Collier expected to realize on his option by forming a holding company, he said, the stock being sold to that company. This is the course now being followed.

What may happen between now and October 1st is worrying the staid folk of the park, many of whom have had their cottages here since the early 70's.

This gem of the Thousand Island region has been under the control of the Methodist Church for nearly 30 years. The park proper on Wesley Island has nearly 500 cottages, holding a summer population of about 3,500, mostly Methodists.

GREAT ACTIVITY IN BRITISH TRADE

Deduced From Volume of Transportation in London and Other Large Towns.

London, Aug. 27.—The special writer for The Daily Mail on trade conditions in Great Britain, who has asserted that a survey of the situation does not confirm that the trend of events is all in favor of America's export trade and that exportation on a considerable scale is about to begin says in an article:

"Evidence of the activity of the trade of the country is to be deduced from the amount of transportation in the streets of London and other large towns, which not only consists of the traffic of the country is to be deduced from the amount of transportation in the streets of London and other large towns, which not only consists of goods from overseas, but comprises a large amount of export traffic bound for the various railway terminals.

"This street traffic has been growing in volume for the past two weeks. It includes private motor lorries, purchased from the war office, vehicles of forwarding companies and railway vans of every description. Much traffic cannot be accepted at the railway stations, as the inward traffic is so great that the efforts recently made to utilize the coastal services are beginning to have some effect.

"The export trade in the direction of the continent also is growing in volume. Some forty vessels sailed from Shields Friday and Saturday direct for the continent, ten from Swansea and thirty others from South Wales ports."

MODESTY TO RETURN TO THE DANCE ROOM

The Old Waltz Is Coming Back—A Fifty-Fifty Push Basis.

New York, Aug. 27.—Modesty and respectability will prevail in dance rooms now, according to the official forecast at the second annual convention of the American National Association of Masters of Dancing held here today.

Three hundred members from all parts of Canada and the United States attended, and Fenton Bott, president of the association, voiced the prediction.

"The old waltz is coming back—is already back," he said, "and there will be no new dances—only a few modifications. For instance, ladies who have been pushed backward over the ball room floor too much will go forward on a fifty-fifty basis with the men."

LIMIT OF LUXURY ON WHEELS.

Family Auto Truck Is Like Palace Sleeping Car.

Designers of special auto bodies evidently are striving to achieve the limit of luxury on wheels. Now the president of an Indiana motor concern has made a two-ton truck into a veritable rolling hotel, with sleeping compartments for four persons inside and a comfortable berth in front for the driver. All conveniences, such as broken facilities, light and water supply, are provided, and there are plenty of lockers and regular windows. The car is described and pictured in the September Popular Mechanics Magazine.
