

WOUNDED BY RHEUMATISM

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" Brought Quick and Permanent Relief

MR. P. H. MCHUGH, 103 Church Street, Montreal.

December 10th, 1917. "I was a great sufferer from Rheumatism for over 16 years. I consulted specialists, took medicines, used lotions; but nothing did me good. Then, I began to use "Fruit-a-tives"; and in 15 days, the pain was easier and the Rheumatism was better. Gradually, "Fruit-a-tives" overcame my Rheumatism; and now, for five years, I have had no return of the trouble. Also, I had severe Eczema and Constipation, and "Fruit-a-tives" relieved me of these complaints; and in every way restored me to health." P. H. MCHUGH. 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. How Men From Canada Earned the Empire's Highest Tribute for Bravery in the Field of Battle.

For most conspicuous bravery and leadership when in charge of a section in attack. His section had the difficult task of mopping up cellars, craters and machine gun emplacements. Under his able direction all resistance was overcome successfully, and heavy casualties inflicted on the enemy. In one cellar he himself bayoneted three enemy and attacked single-handed several others in a crater, killing them all. On reaching the objective, a machine-gun was holding up the right flank, causing many casualties. Corporal Konowal rushed forward and entered the emplacement, killed the crew and brought the gun back to our lines. The next day he again attacked single-handed, another machine-gun emplacement, killed three of the crew and destroyed the gun and emplacement with explosives. This non-commissioned officer alone killed at least sixteen of the enemy, and during the two days' actual fighting carried on continuously his good work until severely wounded. Official Record.

CORP. FILIP KONOWAL, V.C.

His strong-hearted peasant courage did valiant service for Canada that day in the ruined mining village near Lens. On came his men every nerve tense, listening for the crack of the enemy gun. Two houses near the Arras road gave them particular trouble. Konowal entered one of these, and not seeing any person above ground fearlessly snatched up the cellar. Three rifles snapped at once, but Konowal was not hit. In the blackness of the cellar he fought each of his three assailants separately, and killed them all. He came into the light and his party went on. Konowal and his men went on down the road till they came to a crater just east of it and close to it. It contained machine guns, as was shown by the silent forms of many of the men of the first assaulting wave lying around the sides. Corp. Konowal made the crew pay for their work. He crawled up to the lip of the crater and inside he saw seven Germans hurrying to move the gun into a dugout. He fired one fell; again he fired and three more were left harmless. Then he sprang down the side of the cave and finished the other four with the bayonet. That ended the enemy resistance at that point, and Konowal and his men moved up to the front where the fight was still raging. The day wore on. Evening came and night settled down on the struggle. This was not the enemy's day for surrendering, counter-attack after counter-attack was thrown against the Canadians' new line. Darkness gave no rest to the men. The battlefield was ablaze with fire. When dawn came the fight was still raging. Then came a call for help from the 44th battalion, which was then engaged in fierce battle at the Green Crassier. A raid was to be made on a tunnel from which the enemy had been pouring streams of machine-gun fire. Corp. Konowal was sent with his section to the help of the 44th. Two charges of high explosive were exploded near the tunnel and then Konowal rushed into the black hole. He met the machine gun crew with his bayonet and killed them all. This brave fighting man worked unceasingly until he himself was severely wounded and was taken back to the hospital, but not before the official record gave him credit for killing 16 Germans. Filip Konowal was born in Russia in 1888. He enlisted in the 77th battalion in Ottawa in 1915, transferring to the 47th battalion overseas. (Registered according to the Copyright Act of Canada. Keep Children Well During Hot Weather

Every mother knows how fatal the hot summer months are to small children. Cholera infantum, diarrhoea, dysentery, colic and stomach troubles are rife at this time and often a precious little life is lost after only a few hours illness. The mother who keeps Baby's Own Tablets in the house feels safe. The occasional use of the Tablets prevent stomach and bowel troubles, or if trouble comes suddenly—as it generally does—the Tablets will bring the baby safely through. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

DEATH AT KEELERVILLE

Of Mrs. Alpheas Caird—Basket Picnic For Returned Soldiers. Keelerville, Sept. 11.—The death of Mrs. Alpheas Caird last Saturday at noon, cast a gloom over this community. Although deceased had been ill for some time and her recovery was expected. She was of a very kind disposition and a woman that will be missed very much. There are no children. Deceased was a Methodist in religion and very active in church work. The funeral on Monday was conducted to the Battersea Methodist church. Rev. E. Coddling preached the funeral sermon, and burial took place in the Sand Hill cemetery. The church was filled and the cortege from the house to the church was very large.

Quite a number attended Inverary fair yesterday; also a few went to Napanee fair. School has re-opened with Miss Alberta Thomas of Sydenham as teacher. Robert Tighe is doing a lot of ditching, which will make a great improvement to his farm. Mr. and Mrs. Jas. McLroy and Mr. and Mrs. Isaac McLroy motored to Leland Sunday. Miss Susie Sleeth is at Ottawa fair. Mr. and Mrs. Politta of Kingston, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lake of Carrying Place and Mrs. Isaac Lake of Battersea at John Robb's. Mr. and Mrs. Cummings of Joyceville, and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Ritchie of Cedar Lake at David Sleeth's on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Dixon and Master Willie at Wm. Sleeth's, Round Lake. Mrs. F. M. Dixon Sr. is under the doctor's care. Everybody is looking forward to the big basket picnic that is being held at Battersea for the returned soldiers next Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Orham Batter passed through here from Battersea to Jones' Falls to spend Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Chandler Bennett and family of Milburn visited here Sunday.

The death occurred on Friday last, at Smith's Falls of William J. Cleary, fourth son of Mr. and Mrs. James V. Cleary, Carleton Place, after an illness of three weeks. Mr. Cleary contracted a heavy cold, which developed into double pneumonia. The death took place on Wednesday at South Mountain of a former well known resident of Brockville Roy Heron. He had been ill for some weeks. He was a son of B. Heron, of South Mountain, and was twenty-three years of age. At a largely attended meeting of the Liberal-Conservative party of North Lanark, held in Carleton Place, Hon. Dr. R. F. Preston was unanimously selected the standard-bearer for the next election.

THE MAN ON WATCH

Queen's University is still addicted to Scotch. You notice that the Queen's principal did not go to a prohibition land to get professors of learning.

If the farmers' market prices showed a tendency to drop last Saturday they did not lose their balance and tittle.

It's not every Kingston preacher who is scholar enough to read the Greek burial service over the dead at the St. Paul's rector did. But then the Irish are gifted with the tongue.

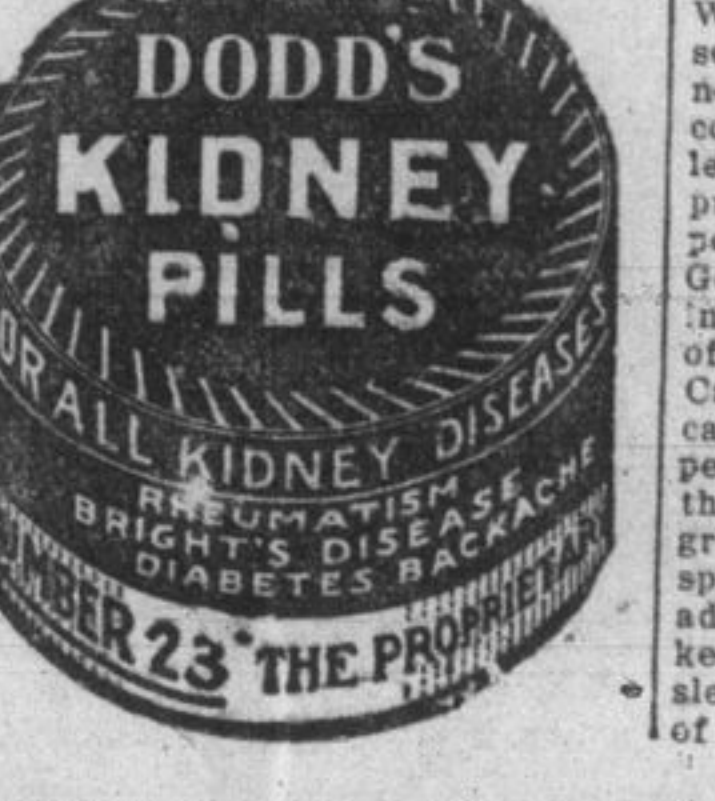

Sixty-dollar milk at Brockville is making Battersea jealous. However, the people around Battersea could not move east and take their lake with them.

No, we do not want the bag back on your life, although we have had many pleasant times in the best kind of them.

According to a labor man, contractors need grading just as well as the labor union boys. No doubt of it. There are contractors and bum contractors.

The provincial elections will show just how "united" the farmers are, or if they are under the old political discipline.

If the temperance act does not require to be repealed, it certainly is badly in need of renovation. Kingston would take a few paces forward if it had a few more G. Y.

Chowwa. G. Y. has become a public benefactor. More power to him.

If Kingston could get a new hotel, a new library and two hundred new residences in the next two years, we would all go dippy.

A Cincinnati Presbyterian minister believes in the value of prayer and is offering a petition for the success of the baseball team of that German brewers' city. Let the Kingston ministers get to work and pray for the opening of the locomotive works.

Apparently the Prince of Wales thinks more of a game of golf than a Queen's University honorary degree, as on the revised programme his golf game comes first. Perhaps he needs bracing up on the links to stand the academic honor.

Kingston women should be just as good boycotters of foodstuffs as the women of Chicago, only it should be stipulated that there must be no sticks or stones thrown.

Would the Prince of Wales object to connecting up with a six-pound black bass on the Sunday afternoon he will spend here? The Governor-General had a quiet little fish that Sabbath morning at Kingston Mills just before he went to Dean Starr's church. Perhaps the Duke will put the Prince just to that fishing hole. —THE TOWN WATCHMAN.

ST. JOHN WOMAN FEDERAL CANDIDATE

Mrs. Minnie Bell Adney May Be First Woman in Dominion House.

St. John, N.B., Sept. 12.—Mrs. Minnie Bell Adney, music teacher, and a daughter of the founder of the Women's Sharpe Orchard and Nurseries, near Woodstock, N.B., announced herself as a candidate in the coming Federal bye-election in Carleton-Victoria. Mrs. Adney's card, published in the Carleton County papers, says she will support the Union Government, but stands for reduction in the cost of living and eradication of corruption and profiteering from Canadian public life. She also advocates a fuller measure in the re-employment for returned soldiers, some-thing dignified and worthy of the great Canada that sent them forth, speaking in terms of their material advancement and prosperity and keeping the pace with those that sleep in Flanders fields, the saviours of the world.

The Reason for the Referendum Ballot

THE Government realizes that The Ontario Temperance Act is unsatisfactory, both to the great majority of the people and as well to the officials sworn to carry out its provisions.

In introducing the Referendum, Premier Hearst said: "During the past year the methods provided by The Ontario Temperance Act for dispensing such liquors as may lawfully be sold, have not proven as satisfactory as the Government would like. The Government is most anxious, as far as possible, to remedy any abuses and relieve any inconveniences that exist."

To Relieve this Totally Unsatisfactory Condition the Referendum Ballot is Provided

The Referendum Ballot gives the people of Ontario an opportunity to repeal The Ontario Temperance Act. By voting "Yes" to all four questions, the people of Ontario will enable the Government to repeal the unsatisfactory Ontario Temperance Act and enact sane, moderate legislation which will permit the general sale of non-intoxicating beer containing 2.51% alcohol by weight, whilst restricting the sale of pure spirituous liquors and light wines to Government agencies.

The members of the Citizens' Liberty League and the great majority of the people of Ontario do not and will not sanction a return of the bar with the unrestricted sale of spirituous liquors. The League wishes a sane, moderate compromise to meet the reaction against a too drastic prohibitory measure which has resulted in all sorts of evasions and brought the law into contempt, thus tending to destroy our national life as sober, law-abiding citizens.

For these reasons, all fair-minded, thinking citizens will vote "Yes" to the four questions on the Referendum Ballot.
