FAIR CLOSSES SATURDAY

IT WAS THE BEST EXHIBITION IN KINGSTON'S HISTORY

The Agricultural Exhibits and the Horse Races Were Noteworthy — Eight Thousand People Attended Fair on Friday.

The Kingston Industrial comes to a close today, and this evening the work of removing the portable articles that made up the equipment will be well under way.

From the standpoint of the thousands who had the privilege of attending, the Fair of 1919 was the greatest in the history of Kingston. The agricultural exhibits are regarded as the best ever entered, not only of horses but also of stock, vegetables, dairy produce, field crops and fancy and useful work. One heard on every hand only words of the highest commendation. The attractions afforded the visitors opportunities for amusement and all were heartily enjoyed. No better horse races could be produced on any circuit than were contested on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, and they have made Kingston a point of interest that cannot be rivaled outside of Ottawa and Toronto.

The management was greatly pleased with Friday's attendance. Had the weather been favorable from the start there is no doubt that the gate receipts would have been very much larger. At this writing it is impossible to even approximate the receipts or to give any idea of the financial returns, but the information will be announced shortly. On Friday there was an attendance of about 8,000.

On Saturday morning Rev. Brother Wilford of La Trappe, Que., liberated his pigeons for their long flight of 300 miles home, and this evening their arrival will be announced to the people of Kingston. The Chantrelle fowl were the chief attraction to poultry men, and it is likely that as the merits of this famous Canadian breed come to be known it will become the popular fowl in the barnyards of Frontenac county.

It was unfortunate that the prize-winning horses could not be kept on the grounds until the end of the fair, so that they could have been seen in the grand parade. The reason given was that the shelter provided was not satisfactory for the length of time, particularly in bad weather. But the parade of animals on Friday afternoon was very good nevertheless, and the owners of the prize-winning cattle had every right to be proud. Everybody enjoyed this sight and only wished that the procession could have been a longer one.

Balloon Ascent.
Great crowds witnessed the thrilling balloon ascent and parachute descent by Mr. Stewart of Montreal. Mr. Stewart ascended to a great height in a balloon and then dropped in a double parachute. He fell rapidly for a few seconds until the parachute filled out and then descended slowly to earth. A few moments after leaving the balloon, he disengaged himself from one parachute and continued the descent in the other. He made a perfect drop, landing on the sidewalk outside the main entrance of the grounds. It was one of the finest parachute drops seen here in years.

The Horse Races.
Manager Bushell is certainly to be congratulated on the horses he produced for the races at this year's exhibition. Yesterday saw all Kingston track records beaten when "Mussell Shell" won out in the "free for all" race. The large crowds present were delighted with the trotting, the like of which was never before seen in Kingston.

The best time in the "free for all" was in the fourth and last heat, when "Mussell Shell," owned by C. Cinderella of North Bay, covered the mile in a fraction better than 2:12, which broke by over two seconds any previous time on this track.

The 2.25 class race was also a hustler, good starts and exciting finishes being the feature in all the heats.

2.25 Class—
Justo the Great, Mr. Griffin, Brockville . . . 1 1 1
Dolly Patch, O. L. May, Smithfield . . . 3 2 2
Robert Patch, W. Orr, Belleville . . . 2 3 3
Laura Pointer, J. Lowry, Kingston . . . 4 4 4
Time—2:24 1/4, 2:24 1/2, 2:24 3/4.

Free for All—
Mussell Shell, Cinderella, North Bay . . . 3 1 1 1
Grand Opera, J. Brennan . . . 1 2 3 2
Mansfield, Jas. MacDonell, Toronto . . . 2 3 2 3
Time—2:10; 2:14 1/2; 2:13 1/2; 2:12.

Other Features.
The cadets of the Royal Military College gave their third and final exhibition of physical drill before an interested crowd. The feature of the display was the formation of pyramids by the cadets, who were loudly applauded.

Both Canadian and German airplanes were giving passenger flights during the afternoon.

Peter Kilduff's Exhibit
Among the exhibitors at the Industrial Exhibition this year, is a former Kingstonian, Peter A. Kilduff, of Ottawa, who showed in the main building, an interesting miniature set of horseshoes, blacksmiths' and stone cutters' tools. The stone cutters' tools represents three old-time mechanics, viz., Donald, Hayes, Lansdowne, Jas. Matthews and Jos. Kelly, Ottawa. These goods were made by Mr. Kilduff's father in a blacksmith shop, situated on Johnson street, this city, during the early history of Kingston. Mr. Kilduff showed the Whig a quotation from this paper printed on Sept. 23 h. 1853, which had the following reference to his father in this exhibit:

"Peter Kilduff of this city is personally superintending his case of hammered steel work consisting of sets of stone-masons' and stone-cutters' tools, masons' hammers, marsh hammers, stone-cutters' chisels and a superb hush hammer containing 225 teeth at one end and 224 at the other, making a total of 549 teeth in one hammer, and a polished steel anchor suitable for a yacht, also six pairs polished steel horse shoes.

This exhibit took first prizes at the following provincial exhibitions held at Toronto, 1846, Hamilton 1847, Cobourg, 1848, Kingston, 1849, Niagara, 1850, Brockville, 1851, Toronto, 1852, Hamilton, 1853, London, 1854, Cobourg, 1855, Kingston, 1856, and Brantford, 1859.

Mr. Kilduff has had many fine offers for this exhibit but has refused to dispose of them as an example of hand workmanship that can scarcely be excelled. He won diplomas at Ottawa in 1857 and 1919, and got a first prize at Kingston in 1919.

DRAGGED CREW OFF BARGE
When The Hilda Broke Away From the Thompson.

The barge Hilda, which broke from its convoy, the tug D. G. Thompson, on Wednesday, is lost west of Galloup islands. Its crew, L. Conliffe, P. Thibeault and J. King, were brought to Cape Vincent on the tug, after having been dragged from the derelict barge. They left yesterday in an endeavor to locate the lost tow. The barge is owned by the Montreal Transportation Company and carried $35,000 worth of wheat.

The tug had two barges in tow, the Cold Wave and Hilda, and the Hilda's rudder was carried away by the sea when she became unmanageable.

The tug managed to get the crew off by throwing lines to them and dragging them aboard.
