ERNESTTOWN'S EXHIBITION

AT ODESSA ON FRIDAY THE BEST ON RECORD.

Besides the High-Class Agricultural Exhibit, There Were Horse Races and Baseball.

The Ernesttown Agricultural Society's eighty-fourth annual exhibition was held at Odessa on Friday, and it was undoubtedly the best on record. There were fully 3,000 people present, although the forenoon was cloudy and the roads wet in many places from the heavy rain of Thursday night. In the afternoon the sun came out and it was very pleasant. Refreshment booths were placed about the spacious grounds and the sum of $21 was realized from ground rent. The gate receipts were large.

Besides the agricultural exhibits, which were of the highest class, horse races and baseball were among the attractions, all of which were very much enjoyed. The Great War Veterans' brass band of Kingston played all the afternoon, and in the evening a concert and dances took place in the township hall, where the young folks had a splendid time.

The township of Ernesttown is one of the oldest in Upper Canada, being settled by the U.E. Loyalists in 1783, from whom most of the present residents are descended. For eighty-four years the township fair has been the one great event that brought all of the people together in competition and in social intercourse—an event that stimulated them to new enterprises, with the result that it is one of the best agricultural districts in the province. This fact was observable in the quality of the horses, cattle, sheep, hogs and fowl as well as in the field crops and fruits that were exhibited. Mr. Smythe, of Cataraugus, and J. Madden, of Napanee, were judges of field crops, dairy products and fruits.

The women's department, too, was very comprehensive, including superior examples of needle work, dairy products, cooking, knitted work, embroidery, etc. The main hall was a great centre of attraction, particularly to the women and young folks. Mrs. Anderson, of Napanee, was the judge of fancy work and cooking.

Horses were shown in four classes, draught, general purpose, carriage and roadsters, and the judge, H. W. Graham, of Carp, expressed himself as being highly pleased with the standard of those exhibited, particularly with the draught and general purpose horses, which were chiefly Percherons and Clydes. Chester Card, of Odessa, had a beautiful mare and foal, and James Creighton, of Perericksburg, a mare, foal and yearling. In these exhibits there is no evidence of the automobile and tractor superceding the horse, the value of which is properly understood by these farmers. Cattle were represented by the Holsteins and Ayrshires. The exhibitors were C. W. Neville, of Switzerville, who captured prizes at Kingston for Cotswald sheep; J. A. MacFarlane, Frank Smith, George Robinson, C. W. Lucas and Fenton Reid, of Odessa; J. Joyce and C. W. Hawley, of Napanee, were the judges. There was a very large exhibit of sheep, among the exhibitors being C. W. Neville, Cotswalds; Wesley Dawson, of Napanee, Oxford; and Southdowns; J. A. MacFarlane, of Odessa, Oxford; and S. G. Hogle, of Violet, Oxford. Mr. Springstead, of Napanee, was the judge of sheep and hogs. Frank Keill was a large exhibitor of Tamworth hogs and poultry. Mr. Keill carried off a number of prizes for hogs and fowl at the Kingston Industrial last week.

Too much praise cannot be bestowed upon the exhibitors of stock for their zeal in bringing their animals to the fair over wet roads, for they contributed in large measure to its success. The horse races gave great pleasure to all. The track was a little heavy at first, improved. Maxwell, owned by H. Revell, of Ernesttown, won the green race, and Laura Pointer, owned by J. Lowry, won the free-for-all, after five heats. In this race Alvarado, owned by Mr. Thompson, and Little Todd, owned by Mr. Fenwick, gave a good account of themselves, each having a first. In the running race, Reo, owned and mounted by Mr. Balance, of Napanee, won from Topsy, owned and driven by Leslie Ruttan, of Bath. The results by heats:

Green race:
Maxwell, H. Revell, Ernesttown . . . 1 1
Exaltum, A. Stein, Kingston 3 3 2
Joe, Willis Unger, Morven . . . 2 2 2
Free-for-all:
Laura Pointer, J. Lowry 3 1 1 2 1
Alvarado, Mr. Thompson 2 3 2 1 2
Little Todd, Mr. Fenwick 1 2 3 3 3
Teddy B., Mr. Smith . . . 4 4 4 dr.
Running race:
Reo, Mr. Balance, Napanee . . . 1 1
Topsy, Leslie Ruttan, Bath . . . 2 2
The race officials were: Starter, T. K. Nicholson; Judges, J. S. Wilder, William Yeale, Fred Laidley, all of Kingston. Mr. Nicholson was highly commended for his ability as a starter. He is one of Kingston's foremost horsemen and his services were highly appreciated.

Among the special prizes offered at the fair was one by the Royal Bank of Canada for the best addressed envelope. There was a very large number of competitors and the winners were: Susie Young, of Bath, first; Helen Asseltine, of Wilton, second; and Eleanor Balock, of S.S. No. 2, third. The specimens were so good that it was very difficult to make a choice between them.

The baseball game was played between Adolphustown and Napanee and was won by Adolphustown by a score of 15 to 7. It was a very good game, considering the condition of the field. Adolphustown got an early lead and kept it to the end. The lineup was:

Napanee—Wolfe, 1b.; Babcock, 2b.; Loucks, 1f.; Houghton, c.f.; Brooks, r.f.; McNeil, s.s.; McCullagh, p.; Adolphustown—Creezer, c.f.; Prout, r.f.; R. Roblin, 2b.; Allison, c.; J. Duff, 3b.; A. Crew, 1b.; A. Allen, 1f.; Carter, s.s.; Smith, p. Umpire—Walter Schultz, of Kingston.

The fair officials were: T. C. Graham, president; A. M. Fraser, secretary-treasurer; G. W. Lucas and W. M. Clark, horse committee; Fenton Reid, superintendent of cattle, sheep and swine; W. G. Clark and Blake Switzer, superintendents of general manufacturing, fine arts and painting; Daly L. Boice, superintendent of poultry, grain, dairy products and vegetables. These gentlemen have for many years been zealous promoters of agriculture in the township and are congratulated upon the success of their efforts this year.

KINGSTON EVENTS 25 YEARS AGO.

General Booth, of the Salvation Army, spoke to several thousand people at the Market Square. A golf match was played between Kingston and Ottawa, and Kingston won. The Kingston team was composed of T. Harley, J. Cappon, G. A. Robinson, Col. Cotton, Dr. R. T. Walkem, Major Drury and Capt. Lee. Capt. Joseph Dix arrived home from Gananoque, after completing his season with the steamer Loreler. The city and Portsmouth rugby teams are hard at practice, and some lively games are expected.

Attorney-General Worried. Hon. L. B. Lucas, attorney-general, will spend most of his time between now and polling day in his own constituency of Centre Grey. He had a majority of 87 at the last election, but he seems to be imbued with the idea that he will require to fight hard in order to retain his seat.
