

It's Time For Your Winter Overcoat

Melton's Scotch Weaves, Homespun, new English fabrics, finest made Overcoats, Motor Coats, Street Overcoats, Rain-proof Overcoats. It is really a wonderful exhibit—one that we know you would really want to see—$27.50 to $55.00.

The Newest Thing

The revival of the Double-Breasted Suit—in styles for young men—high chested, snug-waisted, broad lapels, flared skirts—the jauntiest, snappiest styles you've ever seen—$30 up to $45.

Livingstons

75-77-79 BROCK STREET.

"If Off Your Route It Pays to Walk"

We close at 5.30 p.m. Saturdays 9 p.m.

A MEDICAL MAN SPEAKS

IN SUPPORT OF CHRISTIAN SCIENCE ON TUESDAY EVENING.

Dr. John M. Tut, of Boston, Gives an Excellent Address in the Christian Science Church.

A large gathering was present Tuesday evening in the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Johnson street, to hear Dr. John M. Tut, C.S.B., Boston, on "Christian Science."

In opening his remarks, the speaker stated that Christian Science has come to humanity in response to its cry, "Create in me a clean heart, O God, and renew a right spirit within me, restore unto me the joy of Thy salvation." It has come to restore health in the place of sickness, righteousness in the place of sin, supply in the place of want, understanding in the place of ignorance. Through the restorative ministry of Christian Science multitudes to-day rejoice in newness of life. These individuals, bodily saved and spiritually awakened, are not incompetent, but representative citizens of the community. Many were Christians, all now are striving to be. Unquestionably there is a mighty power in this influence which has touched lives and blessed them, which has made bad men good, and good men better.

Dr. Tut then went on to explain his own personal experience as to the wonder and power of Christian Science. He told how he had graduated from a standard medical college, but he felt all along that the supreme authority on cause and effect, the one exhaustive study of man and His Maker is neglected. The entire tendency of material medicine is away from the spiritual. Christian Science honors and respects that class of physicians whose lives are devoted to the alleviation of suffering, whose interest in mankind is not selfish or political. To such noble men and women, Christian Scientists say "Let there be no strife," for to the extent that we labor for humanity "We be brethren." The radical cure and prevention of disease must come, not through drugs, not through material methods, but through improved mental states. Better thinking makes better bodies. Just as better thinking makes better morals and Christian Science is the religion of right thinking.

Dr. Tut dwelt at some length on the universal panacea, deploring the separation between spiritual and material medicine. He then explained the start of the great Christian Science, and to whom it was due, Mary Eddy Baker, a plain everyday woman who became filled with the spirit of the Lord, and she remained the remainder of her life to use the power that the Lord gave her to heal the sick, for she was certain that disease as well as sin was mental in origin. Christian Scientists desire nothing so much as the power of God unto salvation, so richly enjoyed by them, because to them understood, shall be made available to their fellow men. That is why all over the earth men and women are devoting their lives to Christian Science, to the restorative ministry of healing the sick and saving the sinner.

Theatrical

Mabel Normand in "Mickey." "Mickey," probably the greatest picture play of the season, which ran for sixteen weeks to capacity business at the Grand Opera House, Toronto, is returning to the Grand here for three days, commencing Thursday, October 15th, this week. Owing to the many requests received by the management that it be brought back. The picture speaks for itself. It is a narrative cleverly constructed with a combination of characters that are to be found in everyday life interpreted by an excellent cast headed by the talented little screen star, Mabel Normand. It is doubtful whether Miss Normand has appeared in a more acceptable offering. The comedy is wholesome and delightful and has that appeal that creates a desire to see the picture again and again. The story leads up to a series of adventures that are exciting and thrilling. The episode of the horse race showing the track, the crowds, the horses, the stables, the jockeys' quarters and the race itself are especially effective and stir the enthusiasm of the spectator. This scene in itself would make the ordinary picture a feature production.—Adv.

At the Strand.

Alice Brady, in "The Indestructible Wife," which Select Pictures offers to the Strand Theatre on Thursday, takes the role of an athletic wife who causes her husband much worry and distress in his efforts to keep up with her. He finally adopts Shakespeare's idea and succeeds in taming her, as Petruchio did the Shrew.

Charlotte Field Ordway is the strenuous bride of Jimmy Ordway. The honeymoon is one ceaseless round of golfing, tramping, riding, boating, swimming, polo-playing, mountain-climbing, et cetera—and Charlotte returns to her parents' home dragging her exhausted young husband behind her. That same evening a large house-party arrives at the invitation of the tireless Charlotte.

Jimmy is tired out and bewildered. At last he takes counsel with his male friends. They plot to entertain Charlotte uninterruptedly in relays, and not to let up until she drops. Jimmy accidentally meets Brandy, a professional athlete and an old friend of his. Seeing in him just the person to tire out Charlotte, he begs him to become a member of his household. Brandy accepts.

Everybody helps to make things lively enough for Charlotte. She is kept on the jump every minute by all the men. The first to rebel are the servants, who can get no rest. They leave.

Meanwhile Brandy has found in the indefatigable Charlotte a woman after his own heart—the first female he has ever met who can keep going as long and as hard as he can. He monopolizes her. Meanwhile Julia Cleves sets about to console Jim. Brandy is soon "on" to their growing intimacy and one day he bluntly tells Charlotte that since her husband is infatuated with Julia, she should divorce Jim and marry him. Charlotte does not believe it, until Brandy shows her Jim and Julia blowing smoke kisses.

Jim loves Charlotte more than ever but he realizes he has forfeited her respect. He talks things over with his friend, Schuyler Horne; they decide to kidnap Charlotte and tame her as Petruchio did the Shrew. Charlotte is kidnaped but secretly enjoys the game. Brandy comes to rescue her. He insults her and she throws him down the steps of the boathouse, in which she has been kept a prisoner, and into the water. Jim sees Brandy's exit and is delighted. Everything is smoothed out and Charlotte expends her stupendous energy getting dinner for thirty hungry people.—Adv.

At Griffin's.

The entertaining programme now being exhibited at Griffin's drew another large audience last evening, who were highly delighted with it. The feature picture, "Bill Henry," starring Charles Ray, was a huge success. Mr. Ray never had a more delightful role than in this his latest picture, in which he appears as salesman whose specialty is an electric vibrator. Then enters the girl into his life and also a dishonest real estate dealer, who later has occasion to rue the day he was borne when he seeks to hoodwink "Bill Henry." There is a remarkable poker game, a terrible fistie battle, etc. It was certainly relished by the audience.

Our vaudeville is also another pleasing item of our programme. It consists of Kendalls, auto doll, the maid of mystery, a combination of human and mystic, which completely baffles the audience, and holds their undivided attention throughout the act. McNair, the comedy juggler, is another good one, and Mabel Duggan, the singing comedienne, renders some excellent songs which greatly pleased all present last night.

Don't miss this bill to-night, when it will be shown for the last time.—Adv.

IN MARINE CIRCLES

Movements of Vessels Reported Along the Harbor.

Steamer Nevada passed up, en route to Port Dalhousie.

Steamer Omaha passed down from Port Colbourne to Montreal.

Steamer Maple Grove passed up light, from Montreal en route to Port Colbourne.

Government steamer Loretta is in port, at Swift's Wharf.

Steamer Belleville from Toronto, with package freight.

The steamer Conestoga cleared for Milwaukee, after discharging cargo of corn at Richardson's elevator.

The steamer Jex cleared for Oswego Tuesday afternoon.

Kingston Mills Wedding. Kingston Mills, Oct. 14.—At the Church of the Holy Name, Kingston Mills, on Monday, Oct. 6th, the marriage was solemnized of Miss Emily Fowler, youngest daughter of James Fowler, Mount Chesney, to Joseph Keyes, of Joyceville. Rev. Father Kingsley officiated. The bride was attended by Miss Stella Ingoldisby, Kingston, while the best man was the groom's brother, Victor Keyes. Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Keyes left on a short honeymoon trip to the west, and on their return will reside in Joyceville.

Rankin has not left his resignation in the hands of a clique. He will be a representative of no class or creed, but of the interests of the country as a whole.—Adv.

HANSON, GROZIER & EDGAR PRINTING--All--Kinds

20 Market Street :: Kingston

DAILY MEMORANDUM.

Reception Grant Hall, 8. Cheese Board, Thursday, 1.30. "Bill Henry," 8.15. Installation at Queen's, Thursday, 2.30. See top of Page Three, right hand corner for probabilities.

BORN.

COCHRANE—In Kingston, on October 14th, 1919, to Captain and Mrs. James Cochran, 133 Colborne street, a son.

MARRIED.

HAINES—TIMMERMAN—In Kingston, on October 11th, 1919, by the Rev. J. A. Wadsworth, minister, Wallace daughter of Mrs. N. Timmerman, to Wallace Hubert Haines, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Adams, both of Kingston.

DIED.

LATREMOUILLE—In Toronto, on Oct. 14th, 1919, Alma Henrietta, aged 3 years and 7 months, eldest daughter of Mr. P. A. Latremouille and Mrs. Latremouille (nee Antonia Beaudry) of this city.

MILNE—In Kingston, on October 15th, 1919, Robert Milne, 133 Raglan street, a son.

NEBITT—In Kingston, on Wednesday, Oct. 15, 1919, Robert William Nesbitt, in his 70th year.

Funeral from his late residence, 227 Johnston street, Friday, October 17th, service at the house at 2 o'clock. Funeral 2.30. Funeral private.

IN MEMORIAM

In ever loving memory of 15th Bimanche McBroome, beloved wife of Dr. A. G. Randall, who passed away Oct. 15th, 1918.

In all our hearts you are fondly remembered, dearer than words can tell. Sadly missed by husband, mother and father, sisters, brothers and little daughter.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Hiram Onda, who departed this life one year to-day, Oct. 15th, 1918, in Tschorne, Ont.

"Gone but not forgotten." More and more each day we miss him. Friends may think the wound is healed, but they do not know the sorrow that lies within our hearts concealed.—Father, sisters, brothers.

JAMES REID

The Old Firm of Undertakers, 254 and 356 PRINCESS STREET Phone 147 for Ambulance.

ROBERT J. REID

The Leading Undertaker, Phone 577. 230 Princess Street.

M. P. KEYES

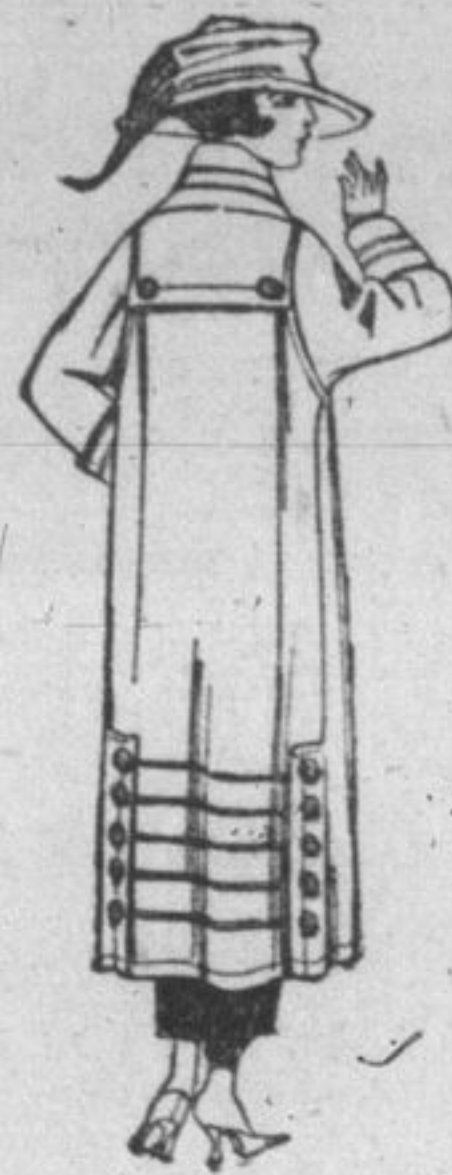

Undertaker and Embalmer, Undertaking Parlors, 228 Princess St. Ambulance Phone 1839.

JOHN CORNELIUS

Undertaker and Embalmer, Parlors: 27 Princess Street Phone 599

Thursday Coat Day

At Laidlaw's

Coats for Women and Misses of cloth, plush, plain and fur trimmed.

The coat season is here and Laidlaw's are prepared to meet the demand for that necessary winter wrap with values that are far better than present market allows one to anticipate.

Every Coat

Whether of the highest or the lowest price, is the best value that could be bought for the money. Each Coat embodies as much style, quality and workmanship that can be put into the garment at that price.

A Variety In Models Is A Great Feature

Especially at $25, $30, $35, $40, $50 and up

You are invited to see these Coats to-morrow. Remember we never urge a customer to buy.

John Laidlaw & Son

Men's Dull Finish Gun Metal Side Leather Boot Suitable For Young Man's Wear

Here is a boot at a price—it is a good shape and one that will give good wear. It is about 1/2 the price of an ordinary boot to-day, and as we have only a few pairs left we think it a good buy if a person was to anticipate a little and even buy two pairs.

Lockett's

WE ARE SHOWING

An unusual collection of charming gowns for afternoon and evening wear.

Dresses of Georgette, handsomely trimmed with beads. Dresses of Tricolette, with beautiful silk embroidery.

Dresses of Silk and Satin, combined with Crepe and Net.

All the latest New York styles and at very attractive prices.

R. WALDRON