A BIG MEETING IN CITY HALL

Where Election Returns Were Received And Announced.

KINGSTON'S NEW MEMBER

GIVEN ENTHUSIASTIC RECEPTION AND MADE ADDRESS.

Delivered Strong Appeal in Support of the Peace Loan—Dr. J. W. Edwards Given Stormy Time—Addresses by Anthony Rankin, Hon. A. E. Ross and others.

An audience that filled the City Hall to overflowing, gathered on Monday night, to hear the election returns and to listen to the programme of addresses arranged for. The crowd was so great that Ontario Hall had to be opened for an overflow meeting. Not in years has this historic hall held such a large assemblage, showing the interest the people of Kingston and the county (for there were many people from the county) had in the elections of Monday.

Sir Henry Drayton, Minister of Finance, elected by acclamation as Kingston's member in the House of Commons, was present, and he was given a most enthusiastic welcome. In his address, he made a strong appeal for every citizen to support the coming Peace Loan.

Brig-Gen. Hon. A. E. Ross was also one of the speakers, and he, too, was given a grand reception. Other speakers were Dr. J. W. Edwards, M.P., who was given quite a stormy time by one section of the audience, when he dwelt on the question of an eight-hour day for the labor men; Anthony Rankin, member-elect for Frontenac county in the Ontario legislature; Mayor Newman, who presided; R. J. Carson and Elmer Davis.

Two special wires, one from the C.P.R. and the other from the G.N.W., were placed in the City Hall, near the platform, and the returns from the various constituencies were read as they were received by W. R. Givens and Elmer Davis. The platform was filled with ladies and gentlemen, and during the evening S. A. Salisbury's orchestra provided a fine programme of music.

Mayor Newman, in opening the meeting, stated that he was pleased to see such a large attendance, which showed the interest the people of the city and county were taking in the elections. He congratulated the citizens on having elected Sir Henry Drayton as representative at Ottawa, and Brig-Gen. Hon. A. E. Ross for Toronto.

The first announcement made by Mr. Givens was to the effect that Anthony Rankin had been elected in the county of Frontenac, and this was received with loud applause.

R. J. Carson expressed his pleasure at the election of Sir Henry Drayton. He said he felt sure the interests of Kingston would be well looked after by Sir Henry.

Thanked His Supporters.
Anthony Rankin was received with loud cheers, and in a neat address, he thanked his supporters. He said he had not only the Conservatives but Liberals to thank for his victory, and also mentioned the fact that he had been supported by the ladies. He gave the credit of his election to the fact that he was running as a supporter of the Hearst government. The temperance question he said, was the big issue. The farmers had a right to stand together but the speaker said that he had always stood for the interests of agriculture, and intended to do so in the future.

Mr. Rankin told about one lady, aged ninety-eight years, who had gone to the polls to support him.

Given Stormy Time.

compliment to the audience when he said: "This is the largest and best looking crowd I ever addressed."

Dr. Edwards congratulated Brigadier-General Hon. A. E. Ross and Sir Henry Drayton, on their election, and paid a warm tribute to both. He believed that Sir Henry Drayton appreciated the honor conferred upon him, and he also believed that he would take as deep an interest in the city, as if he had lived in Kingston all his life.

Dr. Edwards assured his audience that they would hear more about the terminal elevator being erected in Kingston.

"Kingston is the proper place for this elevator, and it must be built here," he added. The speaker had in view the helping out of the farmers of the country, so that they could buy their bran and shorts here at a much lower price.

"We have had a great deal of unrest growing out of the war," said Dr. Edwards, "I think that we should try and steady ourselves, and get back to normal, and it will take some time to do that."

Previewing the elections for the legislature, Dr. Edwards said he was surprised to see the U.F.O. candidates and the labor men in the one bed. Labor men were out for eight hours a day, while the farmers could not get their work done in twelve hours.

The speaker could not understand why the farmers wanted to defeat the Hearst government, which had done so much for agriculture. He declared that there had never been a government in Toronto which had done so much for agriculture as the Hearst government had done in the last four or five years. He could not understand why the farmer wanted to put this government out. He had asked the question many times, and had never been able to get an answer. Was it because the farmers wanted increased grants?

"What about the eight-hour a day?" asked someone in the audience.

"There are many who think that the men should not get the eight-hour-a-day," replied Dr. Edwards.

At this, one section of the audience raised an uproar, and endeavored to heckle the speaker in his address, but he stayed with it.

"And I will make you agree with me on this," said Dr. Edwards, who took the interruption good naturedly.

"If what I have said was not true you would have had the eight-hour-a-day day speaker. Now why don't you cheer?"

The farmer has eight hours before dinner and eight hours afterwards," said another voice, and at this the audience burst into laughter.

Continuing his address, Dr. Edwards said the country had certain rights in this country, and he hoped that the day would never come when the laboring men would have to work for such a wage that would prevent their children from having the same chance as the children of the rich. Those who had demanded the eight-hour day, as well as other demands, did not represent all the people of Ontario.

Brig-Gen. Ross.
Brig-Gen. Hon. A. E. Ross was given a most enthusiastic reception, and in his address he spoke of the good work of the Royal Military College in the war. "I do not know of any institution that has done more to win the war," added the speaker.

All of the graduates of this college, with the exception of one or two, went over the top with their men. The college also has at its head, Gen. Macdonell, an old friend of mine. If there ever was a good soldier he is one. He served in South Africa, where he was wounded, and in this last war he was shot through the shoulder, but refused to go to England, and returned to the front with an arm he could not use." (Loud applause.)

The speaker also took occasion to thank the electors of Kingston for retaining him to the legislature by acclamation. In the days to come he would treat Grits and Tories, rich and poor, alike. His interests would be to do for everyone. He would give his support every time to the case of a returned soldier, who was not getting a fair deal. He referred to some cases now receiving his attention.

Elmer Davis referred to the election of Sir Henry Drayton and congratulated him, stating that it was the first occasion on which the seat for Ottawa went by acclamation in Kingston. This was certainly a great honor for Sir Henry.

Sir Henry Drayton.
Sir Henry Drayton was the last speaker, and as he arose he was given a grand reception. "Fellow citizens, how do you do?" was his first greeting to the audience, and it was greeted with loud applause. He said he was very proud of the honor of representing Kingston at Ottawa. He was born in the barracks, in Kingston, the son of a soldier, and was very proud to know that this city had given ten per cent. of her population for service overseas.

"I am going to work to the best of my ability and to the best of my judgment, not only for the interests of Kingston, but for the interests of Canada, and the interests of Canada are also the interests of Kingston."

Sir Henry then spoke about the Peace Loan about to be launched. This money was required by Canada, and every cent of it would be spent in Canada. The money was needed, and needed badly. The war was not over yet so far as the finances were concerned. It was the business of the people to see that this money was raised.

IN MEMORIAM.
In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Edward Stanislaus Murphy, Joyceville, who departed this life Oct. 21st, 1918. The month of October again is here. To us the saddest of all the year. Because it took our dear son and brother away. Just a year ago to-day. Sadly and suddenly was the call. Of him so dearly loved by all. He is remembered as well to-day. As the day he passed from us away. Ever remembered by his Mother, Brothers and Sisters, Joyceville, Oct. 20th, 1919.

Some men are known by the fruits of other people's labor. Good as well as bad reputation is established by publicity. In some instances now and then is altogether too frequent. The too suspicious man is seldom, if ever, the happy one.

If Constipated, Bilious or Headachy, take "Cascarets"

Sick headache, biliousness, coated tongue, or sour, gassy stomach—always trace this to torpid liver; delayed fermenting food in the bowels. Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep.
