COL. GALLOWAY RECALLS

THE VISIT OF THE PRINCE OF WALES IN 1860.

The Children Sang Patriotic Songs From Macdonald Park—Prince Heard Singing Aboard the Steamer.

By Lieut.-Col. James Galloway.

In 1860 the grandfather of the present Prince of Wales, who is to pay Kingston a visit next Saturday, was scheduled to visit this city, but other things interfered and the intended visit failed to materialize. The principal reason assigned for this state of things was that the Orangemen decided to take part in the procession (that had been arranged to pass under several arches that had been erected on Princess street.

Not only had arches been erected but the whole city was decorated and almost every house was illuminated in the evening. This was done by means of candles placed in the windows of the houses, these windows having rows of these candles on boards that ranged from top to the bottom. Electricity was not known then, but some gas was used also, but it might be assumed to illuminate the several buildings. As the Orangemen refused to capitulate to the desire of the Duke of Newcastle, who was the prince's sponsor during the trip, so the prince was not allowed to land.

It was stated on the quiet that he did land and spent an evening at the residence of James Morton, at Mortonwood, where Sir John Macdonald was always an honored guest. Whether this was a fact never came out.

There was a singing school conducted by a Mr. Yeomans, and numbered about two hundred children. The prince was brought to Kingston on the steamer of the same name and was met by the children down the river upon a boat owned by the Calvin Company. The singing indulged in on the trip was the only singing that the prince heard, for, notwithstanding that a grand stand was erected on the slope in Macdonald Park, facing east and the boat was anchored off that point and the children sang there, it is not believed that the volume of sound was sufficiently strong to reach the boat. The Kingston of to-day should not be behind the Kingston of that day in celebrating the coming of the present Prince of Wales.

As the present prince will not only be here, but spend two nights, a general illumination would add greatly to Kingston's good name as a patriotic city.

Letters to the Editor

County Did Not Favor Soldiers.
Cataract, Oct. 22.—(To the Editor): I notice in your issue of the 21st inst. an editorial headed "Soldiers and Their Votes," claiming that wherever possible returned soldiers were chosen for returning officers and also for enumerators. It may be so in the city, where they have a soldier representative, but take a look at the list of returning officers and enumerators of Frontenac county, particularly in Kingston township and you will find it was handed out in most cases to parties in order to whip them into line, but only in an exceptional case to returned soldiers.

ST. MARY'S CHOIR CLUB.

Held a Smoker and Concert Tuesday Evening.

An enjoyable smoker was given by St. Mary's choir club in the Y.I.C.B.A. hall on Tuesday evening. The Glee club also entertained the choir and was complimented upon the very fine programme. Rev. Father Lacey acted as chairman. Capt. the Rev. Fr. Nicholson and Rev. Fr. O'Farrell and Prof. Noury organist, were guests of honor. The programme was as follows:

Opening remarks by chairman; two musical selections by the Glee Club; songs by Rev. Fr. O'Farrell, Mr. Perry, Mr. Fournier, R. Marchand, J. McFarlane, N. A. Pearson and T. O'Connor. The different numbers reflected great credit upon the performers. Rev. Fr. O'Farrell's being a great treat. Rev. Fr. Nicholson by speech and song evoked great enthusiasm. Rev. Fr. Lacey proved himself an admirable entertainer. A vote of thanks was tendered to the Y.I.C.B.A. The final address was made by C. Cross, president of the club. Refreshments and smokes were served.

Lecture At The Grand.
On Friday evening, Sir Arthur Whitten Brown will lecture at the Grand Opera House, telling the complete story of the historic non-stop flight made by Capt. Alcock and himself. The following are a few of the facts about the great flight: Sir Arthur Whitten Brown was the navigator of the Vimy-Vickers-Rolls aeroplane. It was his great skill in navigating that made the flight possible.

The total time of the flight was sixteen hours, twelve minutes. Actual time from American coast to Irish coast, fifteen hours, fifty-seven minutes.

Alcock and Brown are the only two men who have stood in both Europe and America the same day.

Columbus took nearly three months to make the same journey. The flight was made in competition for the Daily Mail-Lord Northcliffe prize of $50,000 offered in 1913 for the first direct flight across the Atlantic without any assistance.

Both Lieut. Brown and Capt. Alcock were knighted by King George V. for their great deed of daring.

Sir Arthur Whitten Brown is born of American parents. He received a great part of his education in Pittsburgh.

The distance of the flight was 1,960 miles. The average speed was 120 miles per hour. The full story of the flight has never been read or told in America. Sir Arthur Whitten Brown tells details that are entirely unknown to us. His story will be illustrated with slides and motion pictures showing all the parts of the flight that could be taken.—Adv.
