PORTSMOUTH IS INDIGNANT

OVER LACK OF GOVERNMENT ATTENTION GIVEN IT

The Justice Department to Be Politely Requested to Build Walk to Mowat Hospital and Keep Roads in Repair.

The village of Portsmouth is highly indignant over the neglect and indifference of the Government to the municipality. Over a year ago the penitentiary authorities started to build a concrete sidewalk from Front street to the Mowat hospital, but abandoned the work before it was half finished, with the result that sick and injured soldiers have to trudge through the mud as best they can for nearly half a mile to the street car line. The plank sidewalk was taken up preparatory to laying the stone walk. This condition has existed for more than a year, although the warden of the penitentiary at that time, promised repeatedly to have the work carried out. The reeve and members of the village council explain that by taking over some of the best properties, the Dominion Government has deprived them of large revenues, and they are determined that it shall do its just share toward the upkeep of the roads and sidewalks. Petitions will be addressed to the Minister of Justice and if they are not favorably received, a deputation consisting of the council, supported by representatives from the A. and N. Veterans and the G.W. V. A. will wait upon Sir Henry Draxton, who represents the constituency and request that the Government build the sidewalk complained of and keep up the roads. The village has lost nearly $600 in taxes by the recent acquirement of valuable properties by the Government. The penitentiary occupies the best property. With nearly 600 men to find employment for it seem hard to understand why the requirements of the village in roadwork and sidewalk are not met. The penitentiary also owns the quarry in the village.

Theatrical

At The Grand.

For tonight and Friday matinee only the management of the Grand Opera House has secured an excellent programme of high class photographs and feature vaudeville. The reel feature will be "Peck's Bad Girl" with charming Mabel Normand in the stellar role. Miss Normand's name is known throughout the moving picture world as the leader of comedy artistes. With this star, there is not an instant when the picture drags and the audience is held spellbound during the entire five reels by the splendid acting of this clever little Tom-Boy comedienne. Other films on the bill will be an interesting news number, a comedy and other feature. An act of superior vaudeville will complete a well balanced programme for tonight and tomorrow matinee only—Advt.

"Mutt and Jeff's Dream."

The next attraction out of the ordinary is underlined to hold the boards at the Grand Opera House on Saturday, October 25th, matinee and night. The new play is the latest version of the famous comics of "Bud" Fisher and is entitled "Mutt and Jeff's Dream." It is in three acts and five scenes and includes twenty original musical numbers contributed by Harold Wright and Seymour Furch. Manager Gus Hill has surrounded the noted funmakers with an exceptional cast composed of thirty clever people selected from the cream of vaudeville, farce, musical comedy and the legitimate stage. If you have enjoyed Mutt and Jeff in the past you will no doubt find infinite joy in this riot of laughter, hilarity, melody and screams. It is brand new in every respect and should more than perpetuate the popularity of the two cartoon heroes whose names are synonymous of mirth, entertainment and joy eternal.—Advt.

At Griffin's.

Where will you find a greater screen hero than "Bill Hart." Echo the famous motion picture star? Echo answers where? In his newest Arcraft picture "Wagon Tracks," which will be shown at Griffin's to-day, Friday and Saturday, he portrays a fight in the desert, leading a wagon train across the deserts and mountains toward the golden west by way of the historic old Santa Fe trail.

There are battles with Indians, a struggle with gamblers, a revenge motive, and love and adventure galore. The role selected for the star is a great one—that of a typical plainsman—of the Kit Carson type of frontiersman. He is a man who fears nothing, who is quick to champion a just cause and as quick to punish those he deems guilty of wrong. No one who sees this picture will soon forget it. It will be a vivid memory for months afterwards. Our usual line of added photoplay attractions will also be shown, as well as an splendid programme of vaudeville, which cannot fail to please even the most fastidious.—Advt.

At The Strand.

Norma Talmadge's latest Select Picture, "The Way of a Woman," which opens the Strand Theatre tonight, was adapted from the well-known stage play, "Nancy Lee," by Eugene Walter. It is a fast moving story of American life to-day.

Nancy Lee, a young southern girl, is stifled by the hereditary family pride which keeps her parents poor, stricken and makes them insist that she refuse to marry Anthony Weir, whom she really loves, because his social standing does not come up to the Lee tradition. In an attempt to ease their financial burden, she becomes the wife of a dissolute New Yorker, George Trevor, and comes north to live with him.

In the speedy set in which her husband travels, Nancy soon finds herself emeshed in many difficult situations from which she makes every effort to free herself, only to get into greater trouble. Finally, Trevor dies and she finds herself a widow, penniless, friendless and in debt.

How she manages to get herself on her feet again—and even wins back the love of the man she has always wanted, makes a grippingly dramatic tale in which Norma Talmadge's artistry shines brilliantly.—Advt.

DRAPER-BYRON WEDDING

At the Home of the Bride's Parents, Johnson Street.

At 7 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 15th, at the residence of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Byron, 469 Johnson street, a pretty house wedding was solemnized, when Ruby Madeline, their youngest daughter, was united in marriage to Charles William Draper, only son of the late Mrs. George Draper, Gravenhurst. The house was beautifully decorated with autumn leaves, white pink and white streamers decorated the tables. Streamers and autumn leaves falling from the chandelier decorated the cake in the centre of the table.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. T. G. Brown, of Sydenham Street Methodist church. The bride, who was unattended, was given away by her father. As Miss Alice O'Brien played the wedding march, the bride entered the parlor, leaning on the arm of her father, under the arch of leaves to greet the waiting groom. She looked charming in her bridal gown of white silk with an overskirt of beaded net, and trimmings of beaded fringe. She wore a long net veil with embroidery edging falling from the side and caught at the back, over her pretty dark brown hair, in the shape of a fan, and fastened with a band of beads. She wore a corsage bouquet of pink roses and maiden-hair ferns, also a string of pearls.

During the signing of the register Miss O'Brien played sweetly "I Love You Truly," while the many guests sang. At the close of the ceremony a delicious dinner was served at eight o'clock, the bride cutting the first piece of wedding cake, the remainder of the evening being spent in music and singing until the hour of midnight, when the happy couple left, amidst a shower of confetti and good wishes, for Muskoka and other points. Upon their return they will reside at the bride's home.

The bride's travelling suit was of grey broadcloth, trimmed with buttons and hat to match, also a taupe wolf fur, the gift of the groom. The bride's gift to the groom was a beautiful signet ring. The presents were numerous and beautiful, being mostly of silver and cut glass, showing the great esteem in which the young couple were held among their many friends.

On their arrival at the groom's home at Gravenhurst they were greeted with a reception.

Frontenac Cheese Board.

There were only 120 boxes of cheese boarded on the Frontenac Cheese Board Thursday. The bids were opened by J. R. Forster at 25c. f.o.b. Montreal, and raised to 25 3/4 c. by L. W. Murphy, but the bayers refused the bids. The board then adjourned for two weeks to meet at 1:30 p.m. Nov. 6th.

Case May Be Settled.

The two young men from Wolfe Island, charged with an offense against a girl under the age of sixteen years, have not appeared before Justice of Peace George Hunter as yet. There is a chance that Justice of the Peace Allison of Wolfe Island can settle the case out of court.
