The Value Of The Home
The man who can afford to own a home—and the average man of reasonable earning capacity can—should make it his first concern to solve the problem. He will be aided in that task by studying the real estate offerings closely and investigating those which impress him favorably. He will thus be serving himself, his family and his city. To every such man, we would say "Get a home to rally around."

The members of the police force will appear in their blue helmets and single breasted coats on Saturday, and on the occasion of the visit of the Prince of Wales. The police department has been asked to provide two constables to head the procession to the cricket field.

Returns to Civil Life.
Major Thomas Ashmore Kidd, D.A.A. and Q.M.G., M.D. No. 3, who relinquishes office to resume civil life, has been one of the most popular officers on the headquarters' staff. He served with the 2nd Battalion early in the war, and was wounded at the second battle of Ypres.

No Indoor Baseball.
On account of the visit of the Prince on Saturday, there will be no game of indoor baseball in the Armories to-night. The Ottawa G.W.V.A. band will be using the armories to-morrow and men will be fixing the platform up for them to-day.

The City Dressing Up.
The city is taking on quite a gala appearance, as decorations for the visit of H.R.H. Prince of Wales are very much under way. From the G.T.R. station up Ontario street to the City Hall is just one mass of flags, whilst King street is beginning to look very much the same way.

The porch of the Frontenac hotel was pulled down on Thursday, and a new one is in the course of construction. The old one was pretty rotten, and it did not improve appearances very much. The hotel is also being well decorated for the ceremonies on Saturday.

An affidavit has now been received from Mr. Stephenson that neither he nor his car has been in Toronto for twenty-five years; and affidavits from his neighbors state that on Sunday, Oct. 12th, when the alleged offence was supposed to have been committed, Mr. Stephenson enjoyed the simple pleasures of his farm and attended divine service at Athens.

Fell Down Lamentably.
(Philadelphia Record)
According to "H" Johnson "we (the United States) have the greatest asset for peace there is on earth." If this is the case, how does the Senator explain the fact that for the past eight years the world has witnessed an almost unending succession of wars? The United States was just as much of an asset in 1911 as it is in 1919, but that did not prevent Italy from pouncing on Turkey in order to dispossess her of Tripoli. Nor did it check the Balkan States from combining in 1912 to drive the Turk out of Europe, or Serbia and Greece from joining hands in 1913 to defeat Bulgaria. As an asset for peace the United States fell down lamentably in 1914, when Germany and Austria started on their mad cam-

I lent a book to him;
He lent it to a friend;
The friend may take a whim
The favor to extend.
He'll lend it to another,
His sister or his brother,
And one of these days, maybe,
My book will be lent to me!
—Cartoons Magazine.

In youth, what is sometimes called genuine love is nothing more or less than genuine folly.
You had better be conspicuous by your absence if you know when two cranks are to meet, for peace.
It does not take half as much to drive a man to drink as it does to drive him away from it.
