THE ROUTE OF THE PARADE

FOR THE VISIT OF THE PRINCE OF WALES.

His Highness Will Arrive At 10 a.m. Over the Grand Trunk Railway—Civic Reception Follows At Cricket Field—Programme of the Day's Ceremonies.

The Prince of Wales will arrive over the Grand Trunk Railway at 10 o'clock on Saturday morning, and proceed through the streets as follows: Along Ontario street past the City Hall, up Brock street to King along King to Clarence, up Clarence to Wellington and along Wellington to West, down West street to the Macdonald monument at which point the procession will enter the City Park and cross to Bagot street, returning to West street and thence to the cricket field where the civic reception will take place.

The following is the order of the programme to be carried out at the Cricket Field: Salute; children's song, "God Bless the Prince of Wales"; Mayor Newman presents aldermen to His Royal Highness; Major General Williams presents staff to his Royal Highness; Civic address; Prince's reply; children's song; presentation of medals; children's song; inspection of veterans; kicking off football; dismissed.

From the cricket field the Royal party will proceed up Barrie street to Princess, down Princess to Ontario and along Ontario street to the Royal Military College where His Royal Highness will inspect the cadets and present colors.

At 3 p.m. His Royal Highness will go to the golf links where he will play a game of golf.

At 4.30 Queen's University will confer upon the Prince of Wales the degree of doctor of laws.

At 8.30 p.m. a civic dinner will be tendered to His Royal Highness and staff in the city hall.

Theatrical

At the Grand. Simon-pure comedy of the kind that institutes itself into our very marrow and makes life one long, and blissful song, is promised in the latest Mutt and Jeff series which is undeniably the attraction at the Grand Opera House on Saturday, October 25th, matinee and night. Those who have had the good fortune of already witnessing this piece of genuine tomfoolery and fun pronounce it as the final word in up-to-date stage entertainment and modern producing. It is in three rollicking acts and is entitled "Mutt and Jeff's Dream." The plot naturally permits those two wonderfully humorous cartoon personages ample opportunities to display their talent for arousing mirth, which has been their quota since their gifted creator, Bud Fisher first brought them into the lime light of fame and happiness. Gus Hill has supplied a capable cast with twenty fascinating and captivating pretty girls, who will assist in disporting themselves in a galaxy of tuneful songs, clever dances and a gorgeous display of gowns.—Advt.

At Griffin's. Last evening a crowded house greeted the initial showing of William S. Hart's new picture "Wagon Tracks." Mr. Hart plays the part of a guide whose experiences are one series of sensational adventures in a day when adventure was every real man's middle name. The picture is believed by Mr. Hart to be one of his best and certainly if time and effort are of any consequence in a picture his judgment is well based for there has been no stinting in either respect. The picture is accurate historically and afforded many admirers of Bill Hart, delightful entertainment.

Our superior programme of vaudeville, also proved exceptionally pleasing, and consists of three good acts headed by The Nelson Duo, character singers, who made a big hit last evening and supplied some splendid songs; Dremo and Goodwin in a delightful singing and dancing act; and Minnie Dubey, the girl with two voices, who performed in a very remarkable manner.

Don't miss this programme if you can possibly help it, and its equal will not be seen in Kingston for some time.—Advt.

At the Strand. Last night's programme at the Strand Theatre was received with much enthusiasm by the large audience, the feature picture, "The Way of a Woman," starring Norma Talmadge, is one of Miss Talmadge's best efforts, exhibiting such notable successes as "The Heart of Wetton," "The New Moon," etc. The story deals with Nancy, the eldest daughter of the fine old Lee family of Virginia who finds at the age twenty-one that her whole life and happiness are being sacrificed to the empty family tradition. She was made to give up Anthony Weir, the man she loves, because her father thinks he is not "good enough." She turns against the family pride and decides to marry George Trevor, an impossible New York boulevardier, for the material advantages he can bring to her family. In the end, however, Anthony realizes that his love is greater than his doubt, and the romance comes to a happy ending.

The balance of the programme, "The Outlaw," featuring Bushman and Bayne, is exceptional entertainment for a fill-in subject. A Harold Lloyd comedy and a weekly review also add variety and pleasure.—Advt.

"Nan" On The Job. The members of the 21st Battalion Club are taking no chances that "Nan," the goat, will be on parade on Saturday morning when the Great War Veterans will be inspected by His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales. To make sure that "Nan" would be on the job, the C.O. of the 21st Battalion went out to the Mowat hospital on Friday afternoon and brought the goat into the city.

PLACE VICTORY LOAN DIAL

ON THE GABLE OF THE MARKET BUILDING.

To Show How the Campaign Progresses—Decorations to Remain Up For the Loan Week.

A meeting of the Victory Loan canvassers took place Friday morning for the purpose of defining the territory of each. Victory Loan posters have been sent out to all merchants, who are asked to co-operate with the committee by placing them in a conspicuous place in their windows.

A splendid organization meeting was held at Battersea Tuesday night, at which H. C. Nickle, J. M. Hughes and Mr. Robertson spoke on the Loan. There were 150 people present and much enthusiasm was shown. Other meetings in the townships are being arranged.

The decorations on the City Hall are to remain up after the departure of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, and the merchants are asked to leave their decorations up, if possible, for the Loan week.

A dial is being placed on the gable of the market building and every day the hand will move as the figures mount to the objective, showing citizens how the bonds are being taken up.

Ottawa G.W.V.A. Band. The Ottawa G.W.V.A. band, which has just returned from a tour of the U.S.A. is visiting Kingston this week-end. This band, consisting of forty pieces, under the leadership of Lieut. W. T. James, is recognized as one of the leading military bands in this country. The public should not miss this opportunity of a musical treat, and should attend one or both of the promenade concerts in the armouries, Saturday afternoon and evening.

Owing to a previous engagement, it is very much regretted that the band will be unable to give a sacred concert on Sunday evening, as they have to leave Kingston for Ottawa on that date.

Queen's Dramatic Society. Queen's Dramatic Society held its first try-out Thursday night, and a large number of aspiring "Henry Irvings" were on deck. It was decided to stage "Frelawney of the Wells," and work in this connection will be started at once. J. Burry is president of the Society and Mr. Gates is coach.
