

GEO. A. WRIGHT
MACHINIST
Has removed from King Street to 40 PRINCESS STREET Repair work of all kinds.
Phone, shop 1264; Res., 1235

H. ROWLEY
House Painting and Paper Hanging. Estimates on work freely given.
WALL PAPER FOR SALE
340 BARRIE STREET.
PHONE 1264.

EMPIRE GROCERY
High Grade Groceries, Fruits and Vegetables, Cooked and Uncooked Meats.

Fresh Cut Flowers
Ferns, palms, funeral designs, floral sprays, wedding bouquets a side to order F. J. JOHNSON, Florist.
115 Brock St. Phone 228.

PHONE 1670
O. Aykroyd & Son
Carpenters and Builders
21 MAIN STREET

LEWIS ORR
820 King St. Phone 349
License No. 8-2748

G. WASHINGTON
PREPARED COFFEE
made in the cup at the table.
All size cans in stock.
Prompt Delivery.

THOMAS COPLEY
Telephone 987
Wanting anything done in the carpentry line. Estimates given on all kinds of repairs and new work; also hardwood floors of all kinds. All orders will receive prompt attention. Shop 24 Queen street.

D. COUPER
21-3 Princess Street Phone 74

DR. A. W. WINNETT
DENTAL SURGEON
Begs to announce that he has resumed his practice, corner Johnson and Wellington Streets, Kingston. Telephone 363.

The Marrison Studio recently destroyed by fire, has been rebuilt and equipped with the most up-to-date apparatus. It will be open for business on SATURDAY, OCTOBER 25th and the continuation of your patronage will be appreciated.
92 PRINCESS STREET
PHONE 1318W.

2 BIG BARGAINS
70c. Red Rose Tea . . . . 50c.
25c. Clark's Pork & Beans 18c.
Bon Marche Grocery
Cor. King and Earl Streets.
License No. 8-27149
Phone 1844.

Kingston Cement Products Factory
Makers of Hollow Damp-Proof Cement Blocks, Bricks, Sills, Lintels, and Drain Tiles, also Grave Vaults.
And all kinds of Ornamental Cement work.
Factory: cor. of Charles and Patrick streets.
PHONE 730W.
Mgr., H. F. NORMAN

MAVIS IRRESISTIBLE
A French imported line of Toilet Requisites, exclusive odor and finest quality which has made it vastly popular among those who appreciate something entirely different. Those who once use it, love it.
Talcum, Face Powder, Soap, Perfume and Toilet Water—each, and one an added delight. Fresh stock at Prouse's Drug Store
The Quality and Service Drug Store
PHONE 82.

SPLENDID FARM, 135 ACRES—
TWO MILES FROM CITY—
FOR SALE.
APPLY:—
W. H. GODWIN & SON
Real Estate & Insurance
39 Brock St. Phone 424

IT'S QUALITY
PURE ICE CREAM
We serve nothing but pure
ICE CREAM in our parlors.
Take home a pint or quart
of our bulk Ice Cream, for desert,
at dinner or supper.
Large assortment of
CONFECTIONERY
ZBAR'S
288 PRINCESS STREET
PHONE 1128.
A fund of caution is usually good collateral.
LACKIE'S BAKERY
HOME MADE
BREAD & PASTRY

PURE ICE CREAM
We serve nothing but pure
ICE CREAM in our parlors.
Take home a pint or quart
of our bulk Ice Cream, for desert,
at dinner or supper.
Large assortment of
CONFECTIONERY
ZBAR'S
288 PRINCESS STREET
PHONE 1128.
A fund of caution is usually good
collateral.

The Value Of The Home
The man who can afford to own a home—and the average man of reasonable earning capacity can—should make it his first concern to solve the problem. He will be aided in that task by studying the real estate offerings closely and investigating those which impress him favorably. He will thus be serving himself, his family and his city. To every such man, we would say "Get a home to truly around."
For the choicest lots, houses and locations, apply to:
Telephone 703 J. O. HUTTON
67 Clarence Street, Kingston

SERGE DRESSES
JUST RECEIVED A LARGE NUMBER OF LADIES' SERGE DRESSES—in black, brown and navy blue, in all the latest styles. Prices from $15.00 to $35.00.
FOR ONE WEEK ONLY
MEN'S OVERALS—black and blue striped, at cost price . . .
. . . $1.25 to $2.25
JOS. B. ABRAMSON
257 PRINCESS STREET. PHONE 1283J.
Our rent is low—our prices are low.

Kingston and Vicinity

To Dine With The Prince.
Gananogue will be represented at the dinner to the Prince of Wales in Kingston to-night, Mayor Wilson having received an invitation to be present.

Good Work On Address.
The work on the address presented to the Prince of Wales, by the Sons of England, was done by Frederick Trenner, young Kingstonian, and brought forth many complimentary remarks.

The Potato Crop.
The potato crop which is now being harvested is not proving generally good around Pictou, although there are some farmers who report excellent crops, both in quantity and quality. Hickory nuts are plentiful this year, which leads many to predict a very severe winter. Last autumn there were no hickory nuts and a very mild, bright winter followed.

Help Victory Loan.
The Victory Loan committee is preparing for the big campaign which is to be launched on Monday. Already a very attractive sign has been placed in front of the market house.

Many Work Trains.
At the present time, in view of the large amount of work being done on the Grand Trunk roadbed, ten work trains are operating out of Brockville daily. Six of these trains are running east and four west.

An Admirable Address.
To quote the best address of welcome to H.R.H. the Prince of Wales, is the one sent to him by the Great War Veterans' Association, Kingston branch. It was prepared by Eytan Warburton, secretary of the Branch here and it is a masterpiece.
It was shown to one of the most critical educationalists in the city, and he could find no fault in it. It was lofty in phrase and idea.

For Fall and Winter.
Prevost Brock street has a great assortment of Ready Made Clothing in suits and overcoats and a splendid assortment of Gents Furnishings, his order clothing department was never better assorted at extremely low prices.

Y.M.C.A. Class Resumes.
The young men who attended the business men's class of the Y.M.C.A. previous to the war are back "in the game" again. For the past few years this class had to be called off on account of so many of the young business men being away at the war.

At Four Royal Receptions.
Dr. A. W. Richardson, who will be a guest at the civic dinner to the Prince of Wales this evening has the unique distinction of having taken part in four receptions to royalty.
The first occasion was when he was a lad and sang with the boy chorists at a reception to Prince Arthur of Connaught, (now the Duke), an uncle of the Prince of Wales, at the opening of the Royal Arthur School, Montreal. The next occasion was the coronation of the late King Edward VII, grandfather of the Prince, and the last was the visit of the Duke of Cornwall and York (now King George V) the prince's worthy father, to Kingston in 1904.

Boys' Black Rubber Coats.
We have on sale boys' black rubber coats at the same price as last year, $2.98 each. Sizes 6 to 12 years. Just the thing for the fall rains.
—Corrigan's.

Will Raise Schooner.
The Donnelly Wrecking and Salvage Company have purchased the cargo of chestnut coal on the schooner Bertha Calkins, which was sunk recently at McDonald's Cove, in twenty feet of water. The company has also a contract to float the schooner for the owners.

Lived In Deseronto.
The late ex-Serg. W. J. DeForge, who was shot and killed in World War I, lived in Deseronto. For a number of years he was a G.N.W. telegraph operator and for

In Town For Doings.
Quite a large number of visitors from outside places arrived in the city on Friday afternoon, for the "doings" on Saturday, in regard to the visit of the Prince of Wales.

Yes, Why?
Deseronto Post: Put to January 16th, 1919, German preachers preached the German language in all German settlements in West Renfrew county, Eastern Ontario. And they are doing it to-day. Why?

ANCIENTS PLAYED TENNIS.
In Twelfth Century, Margot, a Woman. Was a Champion.
One must go back to the Greeks
and Romans for the origin of tennis, which descended to England by way of France, says the National Geographic Magazine. In the twelfth century a game with ball and plaited gut bat was played on horseback.
Then came "L boude", in which the horses were abandoned. This was a "royal game," at least from the time that Louis X died after excessive playing had induced chills.
Chaucer wrote: "But canstow playen racket to and fro," while the church
found it necessary to prohibit priests
on the continent from spending too much time upon it.
Margot was the Molla-Burstedt of
the twelfth century, famed especially
for her backhand stroke. Henry VIII
of England was a youthful devotee, while Louis XIV's heavy expense accounts show salaries paid to caretakers of his courts. Complaint was heard at one time that there were
"more tennis players in Paris than drunkards in England." In Shakespeare's Henry V. are these lines:—
"When we have match'd our rackets
to these balls
We will, in France, by God's grace
play a set
Shall strike his father's crown into
the hazard."
Manufacture of the accessories of the game became so flourishing an industry in England in the sixteenth century that appeal was made for a protective tariff against imported balls.
Until that century the hand continued to be used for batting, but soon the racket came into general use. A match, probably played on a Windsor Castle court, is recorded in which the King of Castile gave his opponent "fifteen" because the latter
used his hand.
Even tennis, like all medieval sport, was not free from the taint of gambling and charlatanism. It was charged that "certain craftie persons arranged for 'crack Lombard players to meet Henry VIII." The monarch was induced to make wag-
ers of large sums, he became suspicious and played only with amateurs. In one famous match the Emperor Maximilian was his partner, the two playing against the Prince of Orange and the Marquis of Brandenburg.

Brig-Gen. Ross' Lecture.
Hon. Brig-Gen. A. E. Ross, C. M. G. will give an illustrated lecture with stereopticon views on "The Great War" at St. Luke's hall, Monday October 27th. Tickets for sale by members of the choir.

Will Raise Schooner.
The Donnelly Wrecking and Salv-
age Company have purchased the
cargo of chestnut coal on the schooner Bertha Calkins, which was sunk
recently at McDonald's Cove, in twenty feet of water. The company
has also a contract to float the schooner for the owners.

Lived In Deseronto.
The late ex-Serg. W. J. DeForge,
who was shot and killed in World War I, lived in Deseronto. For
a number of years he was a
G.N.W. telegraph operator and for

Yes, Why?
Deseronto Post: Put to January
16th, 1919, German preachers
preached the German language in all German settlements in West Renfrew county, Eastern Ontario. And they are doing it to-day. Why?

Will Raise Schooner.
The Donnelly Wrecking and Salv-
age Company have purchased the
cargo of chestnut coal on the schooner Bertha Calkins, which was sunk
recently at McDonald's Cove, in twenty feet of water. The company
has also a contract to float the schooner for the owners.

Lived In Deseronto.
The late ex-Serg. W. J. DeForge,
who was shot and killed in World War I, lived in Deseronto. For
a number of years he was a
G.N.W. telegraph operator and for

Sunday Services in Churches

Queen's University—Convocation services begin Sunday, Oct. 26th at 3 p.m. Principal Taylor will preach in Grant Hall.

Wellington streets—Sunday school.
9.45 a.m. Service, 11 a.m.; subject, "Probation After Death." Wednesday, 8 p.m. testimonial meeting.
Public reading-room, same address, open every afternoon except Sunday, 3 to 5 o'clock. All are cordially invited to the service and the reading-room.

ANCIENTS PLAYED TENNIS.
In Twelfth Century, Margot, a Wo-
man. Was a Champion.
One must go back to the Greeks
and Romans for the origin of tennis,
which descended to England by way
of France, says the National Geographic Magazine. In the twelfth
century a game with ball and plaited
gut bat was played on horseback.
Then came "L boude", in which the
horses were abandoned. This was
a "royal game," at least from the time that Louis X died after excessive playing had induced chills.
Chaucer wrote: "But canstow playen
racket to and fro," while the church
found it necessary to prohibit priests
on the continent from spending too
much time upon it.
Margot was the Molla-Burstedt of
the twelfth century, famed especially
for her backhand stroke. Henry VIII
of England was a youthful devotee,
while Louis XIV's heavy expense ac-
counts show salaries paid to care-
takers of his courts. Complaint was
heard at one time that there were
"more tennis players in Paris than
drunkards in England." In Shake-
speare's Henry V. are these lines:—
"When we have match'd our rackets
to these balls
We will, in France, by God's grace
play a set
Shall strike his father's crown into
the hazard."
Manufacture of the accessories of
the game became so flourishing an
industry in England in the sixteenth
century that appeal was made for a protective tariff against imported
balls.
Until that century the hand continued to be used for batting, but
soon the racket came into general
use. A match, probably played on a Windsor Castle court, is recorded in
which the King of Castile gave his
opponent "fifteen" because the latter
used his hand.
Even tennis, like all medieval
sport, was not free from the taint of
gambling and charlatanism. It was
charged that "certain craftie persons arranged for 'crack Lombard
players to meet Henry VIII." The
monarch was induced to make wag-
ers of large sums, he became suspicious
and played only with amateurs. In
one famous match the Emperor Maxi-
milian was his partner, the two playing against the Prince of Orange and
the Marquis of Brandenburg.

Union Street Baptist Church— Rev. J. K. Fairclough, pastor. Evening services, 7 p.m.; Sunday school and Bible classes, 3 p.m. Everybody welcome.

Sydenham Street Church, Methodist—Rev. W. T. G. Brown, minister.
Services 11 a.m. and 7 p.m.; morning prayer, 11 a.m.; Sunday school, Toronto; evening prayer, Rev. A.
B. Ransom; class meeting, 9.45 a.m.; Bible school, 2.45 p.m.; men's club, 2.45 p.m.; Monday, 8 p.m. Epworth League; Wednesday, 8 p.m. the united meeting of Methodist churches, in the Sunday school hall.

ANCIENTS PLAYED TENNIS.
In Twelfth Century, Margot, a Wo-
man. Was a Champion.
One must go back to the Greeks
and Romans for the origin of tennis,
which descended to England by way
of France, says the National Geographic Magazine. In the twelfth
century a game with ball and plaited
gut bat was played on horseback.
Then came "L boude", in which the
horses were abandoned. This was
a "royal game," at least from the time that Louis X died after excessive playing had induced chills.
Chaucer wrote: "But canstow playen
racket to and fro," while the church
found it necessary to prohibit priests
on the continent from spending too
much time upon it.
Margot was the Molla-Burstedt of
the twelfth century, famed especially
for her backhand stroke. Henry VIII
of England was a youthful devotee,
while Louis XIV's heavy expense ac-
counts show salaries paid to care-
takers of his courts. Complaint was
heard at one time that there were
"more tennis players in Paris than
drunkards in England." In Shake-
speare's Henry V. are these lines:—
"When we have match'd our rackets
to these balls
We will, in France, by God's grace
play a set
Shall strike his father's crown into
the hazard."
Manufacture of the accessories of
the game became so flourishing an
industry in England in the sixteenth
century that appeal was made for a protective tariff against imported
balls.
Until that century the hand continued to be used for batting, but
soon the racket came into general
use. A match, probably played on a Windsor Castle court, is recorded in
which the King of Castile gave his
opponent "fifteen" because the latter
used his hand.
Even tennis, like all medieval
sport, was not free from the taint of
gambling and charlatanism. It was
charged that "certain craftie persons arranged for 'crack Lombard
players to meet Henry VIII." The
monarch was induced to make wag-
ers of large sums, he became suspicious
and played only with amateurs. In
one famous match the Emperor Maxi-
milian was his partner, the two playing against the Prince of Orange and
the Marquis of Brandenburg.

Chalmers' Church—Rev. R. J.
Wilson, M.A., D.D. minister. Services 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. conducted by Rev. D. C. Ramsay, M.A., of Belleville.

St. James' Church, corner Union and Arch streets—T. W. Savary, B.A., rector. The rectory, 152 Barrie street. 8 a.m., holy communion; 11 a.m., morning prayer and sermon, preacher, Rev. Dyson Hague, M.A., D.D. Toronto; 2 p.m., Sunday school; 7 p.m. evening prayer and sermon, preacher, Dr. Hague will speak especially to the men of the congregation.

ANCIENTS PLAYED TENNIS.
In Twelfth Century, Margot, a Wo-
man. Was a Champion.
One must go back to the Greeks
and Romans for the origin of tennis,
which descended to England by way
of France, says the National Geographic Magazine. In the twelfth
century a game with ball and plaited
gut bat was played on horseback.
Then came "L boude", in which the
horses were abandoned. This was
a "royal game," at least from the time that Louis X died after excessive playing had induced chills.
Chaucer wrote: "But canstow playen
racket to and fro," while the church
found it necessary to prohibit priests
on the continent from spending too
much time upon it.
Margot was the Molla-Burstedt of
the twelfth century, famed especially
for her backhand stroke. Henry VIII
of England was a youthful devotee,
while Louis XIV's heavy expense ac-
counts show salaries paid to care-
takers of his courts. Complaint was
heard at one time that there were
"more tennis players in Paris than
drunkards in England." In Shake-
speare's Henry V. are these lines:—
"When we have match'd our rackets
to these balls
We will, in France, by God's grace
play a set
Shall strike his father's crown into
the hazard."
Manufacture of the accessories of
the game became so flourishing an
industry in England in the sixteenth
century that appeal was made for a protective tariff against imported
balls.
Until that century the hand continued to be used for batting, but
soon the racket came into general
use. A match, probably played on a Windsor Castle court, is recorded in
which the King of Castile gave his
opponent "fifteen" because the latter
used his hand.
Even tennis, like all medieval
sport, was not free from the taint of
gambling and charlatanism. It was
charged that "certain craftie persons arranged for 'crack Lombard
players to meet Henry VIII." The
monarch was induced to make wag-
ers of large sums, he became suspicious
and played only with amateurs. In
one famous match the Emperor Maxi-
milian was his partner, the two playing against the Prince of Orange and
the Marquis of Brandenburg.

Calvary Congregational Church— Services 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. 11 a.m.
Mr. Rogers; 7 p.m. Miss McKenzie; Monday, 8 p.m. Young People's Society; Wednesday, 8 p.m., prayer meeting. All are welcome.

St. George's Cathedral—The Very Rev. G. L. Starr, M.A., D.D. Dean and Rector, 78 Wellington street, phone 2156. Rev. Cecil Wheat, M.
A., B.D., priest-vicar, 164 King street (phone 1629). Nineteenth Sunday After Trinity, 8 a.m., Holy Communion; 11 a.m. matins. Preacher, the Bishop of Ontario (the cathedral doors will not be open until 10.45 a.m.) 2 p.m. Sunday School and Bible class; 4 p.m. holy baptism; 7 p. m.; Evensong.

ANCIENTS PLAYED TENNIS.
In Twelfth Century, Margot, a Wo-
man. Was a Champion.
One must go back to the Greeks
and Romans for the origin of tennis,
which descended to England by way
of France, says the National Geographic Magazine. In the twelfth
century a game with ball and plaited
gut bat was played on horseback.
Then came "L boude", in which the
horses were abandoned. This was
a "royal game," at least from the time that Louis X died after excessive playing had induced chills.
Chaucer wrote: "But canstow playen
racket to and fro," while the church
found it necessary to prohibit priests
on the continent from spending too
much time upon it.
Margot was the Molla-Burstedt of
the twelfth century, famed especially
for her backhand stroke. Henry VIII
of England was a youthful devotee,
while Louis XIV's heavy expense ac-
counts show salaries paid to care-
takers of his courts. Complaint was
heard at one time that there were
"more tennis players in Paris than
drunkards in England." In Shake-
speare's Henry V. are these lines:—
"When we have match'd our rackets
to these balls
We will, in France, by God's grace
play a set
Shall strike his father's crown into
the hazard."
Manufacture of the accessories of
the game became so flourishing an
industry in England in the sixteenth
century that appeal was made for a protective tariff against imported
balls.
Until that century the hand continued to be used for batting, but
soon the racket came into general
use. A match, probably played on a Windsor Castle court, is recorded in
which the King of Castile gave his
opponent "fifteen" because the latter
used his hand.
Even tennis, like all medieval
sport, was not free from the taint of
gambling and charlatanism. It was
charged that "certain craftie persons arranged for 'crack Lombard
players to meet Henry VIII." The
monarch was induced to make wag-
ers of large sums, he became suspicious
and played only with amateurs. In
one famous match the Emperor Maxi-
milian was his partner, the two playing against the Prince of Orange and
the Marquis of Brandenburg.

First Baptist Church, Sydenham and Johnson streets—Rev. J. S. La-Flair, pastor. 11 a.m. "Victory"; 2.45 p.m. bible school; 7 p.m. "Safety First." For you—a rest and a hymnal, a welcome, in this homelike church.

St. Luke's Church—Nelson street.
Rev. J. de Peter Wright, M.A., B.D. Rector. 19th Sunday after Trinity. 11 a.m., morning prayer; 2.30 p.m., Sunday school and bible class; 4 p.m. holy baptism; 7 p.m., evening prayer. Music: special music will be rendered by the choir.
Trades and Labor Hall—Full gospel revival. Evangelist, C. Cross will speak in the Trades and Labor Hall (two doors north of the Hydro Electric), Sunday at 2.30 and 7.30 p.m.; Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at 8 p.m. Come and join us in prayer for a mighty revival.

ANCIENTS PLAYED TENNIS.
In Twelfth Century, Margot, a Wo-
man. Was a Champion.
One must go back to the Greeks
and Romans for the origin of tennis,
which descended to England by way
of France, says the National Geographic Magazine. In the twelfth
century a game with ball and plaited
gut bat was played on horseback.
Then came "L boude", in which the
horses were abandoned. This was
a "royal game," at least from the time that Louis X died after excessive playing had induced chills.
Chaucer wrote: "But canstow playen
racket to and fro," while the church
found it necessary to prohibit priests
on the continent from spending too
much time upon it.
Margot was the Molla-Burstedt of
the twelfth century, famed especially
for her backhand stroke. Henry VIII
of England was a youthful devotee,
while Louis XIV's heavy expense ac-
counts show salaries paid to care-
takers of his courts. Complaint was
heard at one time that there were
"more tennis players in Paris than
drunkards in England." In Shake-
speare's Henry V. are these lines:—
"When we have match'd our rackets
to these balls
We will, in France, by God's grace
play a set
Shall strike his father's crown into
the hazard."
Manufacture of the accessories of
the game became so flourishing an
industry in England in the sixteenth
century that appeal was made for a protective tariff against imported
balls.
Until that century the hand continued to be used for batting, but
soon the racket came into general
use. A match, probably played on a Windsor Castle court, is recorded in
which the King of Castile gave his
opponent "fifteen" because the latter
used his hand.
Even tennis, like all medieval
sport, was not free from the taint of
gambling and charlatanism. It was
charged that "certain craftie persons arranged for 'crack Lombard
players to meet Henry VIII." The
monarch was induced to make wag-
ers of large sums, he became suspicious
and played only with amateurs. In
one famous match the Emperor Maxi-
milian was his partner, the two playing against the Prince of Orange and
the Marquis of Brandenburg.

First Congregational Church, corner Johnson and Wellington—
Rev. R. D. Tannahill, B.A., B.D. minister. Services at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. Sunday school at 3 p.m. at Young People's Society Monday at 8 p.m. Mid-week service, Wednesday at 8 p.m.

St. George's Cathedral—The Very
Rev. G. L. Starr, M.A., D.D. Dean
and Rector, 78 Wellington street,
phone 2156. Rev. Cecil Wheat, M.
A., B.D., priest-vicar, 164 King street
(phone 1629). Nineteenth Sunday After Trinity, 8 a.m., Holy Communion; 11 a.m. matins. Preacher, the Bishop of Ontario (the cathedral
doors will not be open until 10.45
a.m.) 2 p.m. Sunday School and Bible class; 4 p.m. holy baptism; 7 p. m.; Evensong.

ANCIENTS PLAYED TENNIS.
In Twelfth Century, Margot, a Wo-
man. Was a Champion.
One must go back to the Greeks
and Romans for the origin of tennis,
which descended to England by way
of France, says the National Geographic Magazine. In the twelfth
century a game with ball and plaited
gut bat was played on horseback.
Then came "L boude", in which the
horses were abandoned. This was
a "royal game," at least from the time that Louis X died after excessive playing had induced chills.
Chaucer wrote: "But canstow playen
racket to and fro," while the church
found it necessary to prohibit priests
on the continent from spending too
much time upon it.
Margot was the Molla-Burstedt of
the twelfth century, famed especially
for her backhand stroke. Henry VIII
of England was a youthful devotee,
while Louis XIV's heavy expense ac-
counts show salaries paid to care-
takers of his courts. Complaint was
heard at one time that there were
"more tennis players in Paris than
drunkards in England." In Shake-
speare's Henry V. are these lines:—
"When we have match'd our rackets
to these balls
We will, in France, by God's grace
play a set
Shall strike his father's crown into
the hazard."
Manufacture of the accessories of
the game became so flourishing an
industry in England in the sixteenth
century that appeal was made for a protective tariff against imported
balls.
Until that century the hand continued to be used for batting, but
soon the racket came into general
use. A match, probably played on a Windsor Castle court, is recorded in
which the King of Castile gave his
opponent "fifteen" because the latter
used his hand.
Even tennis, like all medieval
sport, was not free from the taint of
gambling and charlatanism. It was
charged that "certain craftie persons arranged for 'crack Lombard
players to meet Henry VIII." The
monarch was induced to make wag-
ers of large sums, he became suspicious
and played only with amateurs. In
one famous match the Emperor Maxi-
milian was his partner, the two playing against the Prince of Orange and
the Marquis of Brandenburg.

Trades and Labor Hall—Full gospel revival. Evangelist, C. Cross will
speak in the Trades and Labor Hall
(two doors north of the Hydro Electric), Sunday at 2.30 and 7.30 p.m.; Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at 8 p.m. Come and join us in prayer for a mighty revival.

St. George's Cathedral—The Very
Rev. G. L. Starr, M.A., D.D. Dean
and Rector, 78 Wellington street,
phone 2156. Rev. Cecil Wheat, M.
A., B.D., priest-vicar, 164 King street
(phone 1629). Nineteenth Sunday After Trinity, 8 a.m., Holy Communion; 11 a.m. matins. Preacher, the Bishop of Ontario (the cathedral
doors will not be open until 10.45
a.m.) 2 p.m. Sunday School and Bible class; 4 p.m. holy baptism; 7 p. m.; Evensong.

ANCIENTS PLAYED TENNIS.
In Twelfth Century, Margot, a Wo-
man. Was a Champion.
One must go back to the Greeks
and Romans for the origin of tennis,
which descended to England by way
of France, says the National Geographic Magazine. In the twelfth
century a game with ball and plaited
gut bat was played on horseback.
Then came "L boude", in which the
horses were abandoned. This was
a "royal game," at least from the time that Louis X died after excessive playing had induced chills.
Chaucer wrote: "But canstow playen
racket to and fro," while the church
found it necessary to prohibit priests
on the continent from spending too
much time upon it.
Margot was the Molla-Burstedt of
the twelfth century, famed especially
for her backhand stroke. Henry VIII
of England was a youthful devotee,
while Louis XIV's heavy expense ac-
counts show salaries paid to care-
takers of his courts. Complaint was
heard at one time that there were
"more tennis players in Paris than
drunkards in England." In Shake-
speare's Henry V. are these lines:—
"When we have match'd our rackets
to these balls
We will, in France, by God's grace
play a set
Shall strike his father's crown into
the hazard."
Manufacture of the accessories of
the game became so flourishing an
industry in England in the sixteenth
century that appeal was made for a protective tariff against imported
balls.
Until that century the hand continued to be used for batting, but
soon the racket came into general
use. A match, probably played on a Windsor Castle court, is recorded in
which the King of Castile gave his
opponent "fifteen" because the latter
used his hand.
Even tennis, like all medieval
sport, was not free from the taint of
gambling and charlatanism. It was
charged that "certain craftie persons arranged for 'crack Lombard
players to meet Henry VIII." The
monarch was induced to make wag-
ers of large sums, he became suspicious
and played only with amateurs. In
one famous match the Emperor Maxi-
milian was his partner, the two playing against the Prince of Orange and
the Marquis of Brandenburg.

Cooke's Presbyterian Church, Brock street—The minister, Rev. W