At the Grand. If you are not a Mutt and Jeff convert (this seems impossible in view of the fact that not to know or to have heard about them is like missing something from the curriculum of your education) you are bound to get into the charmed circle after you have witnessed their latest version of "Bud" Fisher's famous comedy, who will disseminate chunks of infectious laughter, screams, joy, happiness, wit, action, music, song, revelry and what not? It is entertainment easily understood and assimilated by the masses as well as the classes and at the same time contributing to the gaiety and bliss of the nation. We also might add that Mutt and Jeff are an institution. However, in their new piece, entitled "Mutt and Jeff's Dream," divided into three acts and five scenes, they have the success of their careers. Gus Hill, as usual is sponsor for the production. The management of the Grand presents one of the latest Fox Film productions, "Married in Haste," with Albert Ray and Ellnor Fair. With these two stars in one picture the patrons of the Grand are assured of many hearty laughs and plenty of dramatic incidents that add so largely to the enjoyment of any picture. The title almost explains itself, as one has only to think of the many embarrassing situations that are met with in such cases, and which are so amusing to the bystander. Miss Fair and Mr. Ray have excellent support in this picture and with the splendid photography make this feature one that is well worth while. There will also be one of those very funny Mutt and Jeff cartoon comedies and other pictures of merit. This bill will be completed by an act of superior vaudeville and will be seen for the first three days of the week only.—Advt.

Coming to the Grand. For Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday the management of the Grand presents one of the latest Fox Film productions, "Married in Haste," with Albert Ray and Ellnor Fair. With these two stars in one picture the patrons of the Grand are assured of many hearty laughs and plenty of dramatic incidents that add so largely to the enjoyment of any picture. The title almost explains itself, as one has only to think of the many embarrassing situations that are met with in such cases, and which are so amusing to the bystander. Miss Fair and Mr. Ray have excellent support in this picture and with the splendid photography make this feature one that is well worth while. There will also be one of those very funny Mutt and Jeff cartoon comedies and other pictures of merit. At Griffin's. To-night will be the last opportunity to see the splendid bill which has been attracting capacity houses to Griffin's during the last two days, and is headlined by that versatile star Wm. S. Hart in "Wagon Tracks," his newest picture.

In this picture Bill Hart is seen as the public love to see him—as a real red-blooded and relentless character with honor as his greatest ideal and bravery his second nature. It starts in Kansas and ends up somewhere along the Santa Fe trail. A romantic love interest is involved, but the thrills of the desert struggle against privation and marauders proves most fascinating. Mr. Hart is supported by a cast of exceptionally interest, headed by Jane Novak.

At the Strand. Another bang-up show for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday all comedy, a show that will make you laugh all the time you are in the theatre. The feature "A Lady's Name," starring Constance Talmadge will make you laugh and laugh, and laugh some more. A succession of amusing and exciting events showing the adventures of an enterprising and whimsical young woman who advertises for a husband in the columns of the story. She is Mabel Vere, a writer, whose reason for the advertisement is to secure new material for a novel. She is engaged to a priggish young man who naturally objects to her methods. After breaking her engagement with her fiancé, being blackmailed by a butler, and changing her role from a writer to cook she becomes engaged to Nock Corcoran, the third and last applicant.

Added to this will be "A Broadway Saint" featuring Montague Love. The story is a new one, that of a young fellow from the country who comes to New York and doesn't fall a victim to the bright lights. But when he returns to the country on a visit to his people, the fact that he has lived in New York gets him into all kinds of trouble. There's a laugh every minute in this picture. Be sure and see it and give yourself a treat.

Notes About The Royal Visit. Mayor Newman was kept busy hanging on to his silk hat as he sat beside the Prince in the car which carried His Royal Highness and His Worship to the cricket field. It was a windy morning. The Prince looked as if he had just risen from bed and had received a hurry call at that. But he just looked too "sweet for anything" to the young ladies. The Prince waved his hand to the cheering multitudes all along the route. He was a bonnie prince.

Gospel Services. The regular gospel meeting will be held in Orange Hall (ground floor), Sunday evening, Oct. 26th, at seven o'clock. Frederick K. Peer, Toronto, will be the preacher. All are welcome.

TO AGREE UPON NEW CLAUSE IN THE ALIEN BILL

(Canadian Press Despatch) London, Oct. 25.—Members of Lloyd-George's Cabinet conferred with some of their supporters in the House of Commons to-day relative to the situation which has arisen through the defeat on Thursday of the Government amendment to the Alien Bill. It was stated during the day that an understanding had been arrived at by which a new clause in the bill would be acceptable to the members of the House. It is expected in this way to surmount the difficulty which brought about the defeat of the former amendment and to avoid the abandonment of the bill.

PRINCE SAW NAPANE THROUGH CAR WINDOW

His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales took a peep at the town of Napanea through the car window, as his train slowly passed through there Saturday morning, on the way to Kingston. The train did not stop, but quite a crowd gathered at the station, and as the train passed through the Prince waved his hand and there was loud cheering.

DECORATIONS EXCELLENT.

The City Buildings Front Was a Mass of Color. The downtown decorations in honor of the Prince of Wales' visit were very fine. The best dressed place of course were the city buildings, the front of which was a mass of color in beautiful design. Other places that were worthy of special mention were: The G.T.R. station, the customs house, the post office, the Golden Lion block, the fire stations, the Bank of Montreal, the Whig building, Bank of Commerce, great war veterans and Army and Navy Veterans' buildings.

The Kingston police made a fine appearance on Saturday, when they turned out with their blue helmets, single-breasted coats and white gloves. Citizens commented on their good appearance.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of William H. Hartman, who died October 24th, one year ago:

He has gone, but not forgotten, And as dawn another year, In our lonely hours of thinking, Thoughts of him are ever dear.

Yet again we hope to meet him, When the day of life is fled, And in Heaven with joy to greet him, Where no farewell tears are shed. —Greatly missed, and deeply mourned by father, mother, sisters and brothers.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of our dear father, Mr. John H. Bird, who passed away on October 25th, 1919.

Dear father, how we miss you, As the weeks and months pass by, But it is God's blessed promise That we shall meet thee in the sky.

Short and sudden was the call, Of one we dearly loved by all. The blow was great, the shock severe, We little thought his death so near, And only those who love can tell, The pain at saying the last farewell. —From wife, daughters and sons.
