The Value Of The Home
The man who can afford to own a home—and the average man of reasonable earning capacity can—should make it his first concern to solve the problem. He will be aided in this task by studying the real estate offerings closely and investigating those which impress him favorably. He will thus be serving himself, his family and his city. To every such man, we would say "Get a home to rally around."

CAPTAIN COOKE FEELS FINE NOW

Veteran Conductor Praises Tanlac for Overcoming His Troubles.
"A few bottles of Tanlac have made me feel just like a new man," was the statement made by Capt. F. M. Cooke, residing at 144 East Winifred St., St. Paul, Minn., recently. Captain Cooke has been a conductor on the Great Northern Railroad for fifteen years and is one of the most popular men in the service of the company.
"For years," continued Captain Cooke, "I suffered from stomach trouble and had scarcely any appetite, and what little I ate disagreed with me so that I would become terribly nauseated. Gas would form on my stomach and affect my heart so I could hardly breathe. I had terrible headaches that would last for two or three weeks at a time and nearly drive me wild, and I would become so dizzy at times that I would have to grab hold of something to keep from falling. My nerves got in such bad shape I could sleep very little, and I would get up in the morning feeling dull and heavy and all run down.
"Nothing I tried seemed to do me any good, and I kept getting worse all the time. A few weeks ago some one suggested that I try Tanlac and I got a bottle and began taking it, and after taking two bottles I felt a great deal better. I have a fine appetite now, and what I eat agrees with me perfectly. Gas has quit forming in my stomach and I am not troubled with shortness of breath. I never have any more headaches or dizzy spells and can sleep fine, and get up in the morning feeling full of life and energy. I never felt better in my life, and feel at least ten years younger. I am very grateful for what this Tanlac has done for me."
Tanlac is sold in Kingston by A. P. Chown, in Plevna, by Gilbert Ostler, in Battersby, by C. S. Clark, in Fernleigh, by Ervin Martin, in Ardock, by W. J. Scullion, in Sharbot Lake, by W. J. Cannon.—Adv.

Acquitted of Charge.
Peter Williams, an Indian, was before Judge Deroche, at Belleville, charged with arson. It was alleged that the accused caused the destruction of a shack on Mud Creek, owned by one Abraham Brant and used by him for trapping and hunting purposes. The result of the trial was that Williams was acquitted.

Imported Hens.
F. C. Keeler, a well known farmer residing on the Prescott road a short distance east of Brockville, has imported ten of the finest Ancona hens procurable in the United States. He has also purchased the James Burns estate farm, situated below Maitland, on which he intends planting 1,000 McIntosh apple trees.

Service At Grant Hall.
The first of the series of Sunday services was held at Grant Hall on Sunday afternoon. Principal Bruce Taylor was the speaker and he preached a forceful sermon, taking as his text, Proverbs xlii, 3: "The slothful man saith there is a lion without, I shall be slain on the streets." The speaker dwelt on faith and stated that it was principle put into practice. "If you have faith in Jesus Christ," he said, "why don't you follow Him."

"Mutt and Jeff" at Grand.
Guss Hill's production of "Mutt and Jeff" at the Grand Opera House on Saturday both afternoon and evening was greeted with large audiences. Harry Kay and George Beach, who play the part of Mutt and Jeff, are exceptionally good. Miss Effie Pearson, who appears as Jeff's niece was probably the outstanding lady in the show, judging from the applause she received after her songs. The chorus is composed of twelve fine looking girls.

THE PRINCE OF WALES INTERESTED IN "NAN"

Patted Mascot of the 21st Battalion and Asked Concerning Her.
"Nan," the goat that served as mascot for the 21st Battalion, took a prominent part in the reception to His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales at the Cricket Field Saturday. "Nan" formed up with the rest of the veterans, under the charge of "Scotty" Nelson, who served with the 21st Battalion. The Prince spotted the goat, and asked about her career, and was much interested when he found that "Nan" had been to the front and had served in France, Belgium and Germany, and patted her most affectionately.

"What Battalion did she serve in?" asked His Royal Highness, and when told that it was the 21st his Royal Highness said, "That's the good old Second Division."
"Nan" was with the boys of the 21st from the time the battalion was organized until they came back to Kingston, and is now being cared for at the Mowat Hospital here. Returnees, scattered all over Canada know "Nan."

JOURNALISTS WITH PRINCE

A Party of Distinguished Newspapermen Making the Tour.
The distinguished entourage of the Prince of Wales includes nine newspapermen, of whom six represent English newspapers, one represents the United Press of America, one represents the French-Canadian newspapers, and one the English newspapers of Canada, through the Canadian Press, Limited, as well as the Associated Press of America.

Why Stay Fat? You Can Reduce

The answer of most fat people is that it is too hard, too troublesome and too dangerous to force the weight down. However, in Marmola, Prescription Tablets, all these difficulties are overcome. They are absolutely harmless, do not require dieting or exercise, and have no adverse effects on the system. A large case is sold by druggists at $1. Or if preferable, they can be obtained by sending price direct to the Marmola Co., 854 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich. Now that you know this you have no excuse for being too fat, but can reduce two, three or four pounds a week without fear of bad after-effects.

The Prince At Ernestown.
On Saturday morning the train carrying His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales arrived at Ernestown station at 1.30 o'clock where it remained until after nine o'clock, and when it left for Kingston. Very few people know that the train was on the siding, so for that reason they were unable to see the Prince. The few people who got the news in time arrived at the station in time to see His Royal Highness on the rear of the observation car.

Prince Takes No Chances.
The London Advertiser has the following:
"Edward, Prince of Wales, has a canny British streak in him, and when it has met some Americans prior to his visit here.
G. T. R. Inspector Crombie is authority for the following illustrative story: At Niagara Falls, the prince was wearing mufflers in the light, fedora. Some Americans there to see him called:
"Take off your hat; we want a photo."
"It is a new hat, and I don't want to lose it," replied his royal highness.

Lord's Day Alliance Work.
Rev. D. W. Snider, of Toronto, representing the Lord's Day Alliance, was the preacher at the morning service at Sydenham Street Methodist church on Sunday. The speaker referred to the fact that when the Peace Treaty was made the great clause whereby twenty-four hours out of each week must be set aside for rest, free from labor. He claimed that during the war the alliance had made it impossible to buy Sunday papers on the streets of the towns and cities. The alliance is also endeavoring to stop the sale of gasoline on Sunday for pleasure riding.

Campbell, writing for the London Times. He is one of the oldest members of the staff of that historic newspaper, for which he worked in France during the war. He left Cologne only last July to join the royal party on its tour of Canada.
W. T. Massey of the Daily Telegraph staff served with Allenby in Egypt and Mesopotamia. He is a chosen friend of the distinguished soldier, and is the official historian of the Mesopotamian campaign.
Percival Phillips, giant amongst war correspondents, represents the Daily Express, for which he has reported wars, big and little, during the last fifteen years. He is returning to England at once to take up his work in Europe for his paper. He was born and "raised" in Pittsburg, but has lived in Europe for nearly twenty years.
Warner Allen, Paris correspondent for the Morning Post, is writing for his paper. He served in France throughout the war.
Douglas Newton, the novelist, is writing for the Daily Chronicle, with which he has been connected for many years.
Edward Cotes, who is writing for Reuter's Agency, is an Anglo-Indian. He is one of the best-known newspapermen in the Indian Empire, and has done big work in organizing the Associated Press of India.
The English newspapers of Canada are served by F. G. Aldham through the Canadian Press, Limited, the national news service which links Canadian daily newspapers by leased wire from coast to coast. Mr. Aldham also represents the Associated Press of America.
Joseph Barnard, the brilliant editor of l'Evenement (Quebec), represents the French-Canadian press.
Fred Griffin of the staff of the Toronto Star represents the United Press Association of America.

PRINCE OF WALES' PLUME

Was Purchased By Late Overton S. Gildersleeve In 1860.
James P. Gildersleeve informs the Whig that the glass plume of the Prince of Wales, which constituted the chief illumination on the city hall platform Saturday night at the civic banquet to His Royal Highness, was purchased by his elder brother, the late Overton S. Gildersleeve, who was mayor of Kingston for several years. Mr. Gildersleeve secured the beautiful ornament for the visit of the then Prince of Wales to this city in 1860. It remained in the Gildersleeve family until four years ago when Mrs. C. F. Gildersleeve presented it to the city, and the plume has since been deposited in the city building. It was broken, and Capt. Frederick Reid of the fire department wired it together. The plume decorated the Gildersleeve residence front when the present king visited Kingston in 1901, and now it has been viewed by the heir to the throne who bears the title of Prince of Wales.

The Best Christmas Present.

How can you make your money go further for Christmas cheer than with a year's subscription to The Youth's Companion? It brings so much into a household—its stories for readers of all ages, its serious and informing contributions, its editorial pages, its intelligent and trustworthy comment on the great and tragic events of the time, its wit and humor.
