

CANVASSERS ARE AT WORK SLOGAN FOR FRONTENAC

INVITING THE PEOPLE TO SUBSCRIBE TO VICTORY LOAN. "COME ON, LET'S FINISH THE JOB."

Public Speakers' Committee to Make Arrangements to Make Appeals At the Local Theatres.

The canvassers made their start on the Victory Loan drive on Monday in both the city and county and the citizens who are anxious to know the returns from each day's work should watch the hand of the Victory Loan Dial on the market square.

The public speakers' committee will make arrangements with the four city theatres for five minute addresses on the Victory Loan between the acts in order that the attention of the people may be constantly focused on the financial needs of the country and the duty they owe to her to make the Loan a success in order that it may be possible to pull through the period of reconstruction and plan our industries and trade on a proper basis and discharge all the obligations growing out of the great war that has just closed.

The war having withdrawn from Canada almost all sources of outside financial support, the country was forced to rely upon itself. The result is that three quarters of the outstanding securities of the Dominion of Canada are held internally.

The country is rich and her buying power, illustrated by its purchases in the United States, has doubled in four years. Its productiveness, as indicated in its sale of commodities in the United States, Great Britain and other countries, has increased three-fold since pre-war days.

Most gratifying is the fact that the expansion of war years has been continued into this, the first year of peace, and there is every indication that Canada, with its own strength by war, will continue to strive to ward even greater production and even greater trade.

The total returns made by the city canvassers on Monday amounted to $22,900. The day was stormy and handicapped the work very much.

CANANOQUE

(From Our Own Correspondent.) Oct. 28.—A very pretty wedding was solemnized last evening at the Methodist parsonage when Miss Lillian May Davidson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Davidson, Brock street, was united in marriage to James Orval Elliott, a prosperous young Kingston barber and son of the late James Elliott of this town.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. S. Lennon pastor of Grace church before near relatives of the contracting parties. The bride was attired in a handsome tailored suit of brown silver-tone with hat to match and was attended by Miss Margaret Kildie in a handsome gown of gray crepe de chine with ecru ette overdrills and hat to match.

The groom's interests were looked after by Daniel Davidson, brother of the bride. After the ceremony the bride and groom were entertained at a buffet luncheon served by the bride's parents. The bride was the recipient of numerous beautiful and useful tokens of esteem from her large circle of friends, among these a substantial cheque from her parents. The groom's gift to the bride was also a goodly-sized cheque to the bridesmaid a pin set with pearls and to the groomsmen a pearl tie pin.

Among the out-of-town guests were Miss Anna Saunders of Kingston and Mrs. George Vanalstyn of Collins Bay, aunt of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Elliott left at midnight for Toronto and western points to spend their honeymoon and on their return will take up residence at 230 Barrie street, Kingston.

Johnston and Frederick McConnell of Lansdowne comprise the canvassing team for the township.

GERMAN PUPILS STRIKE

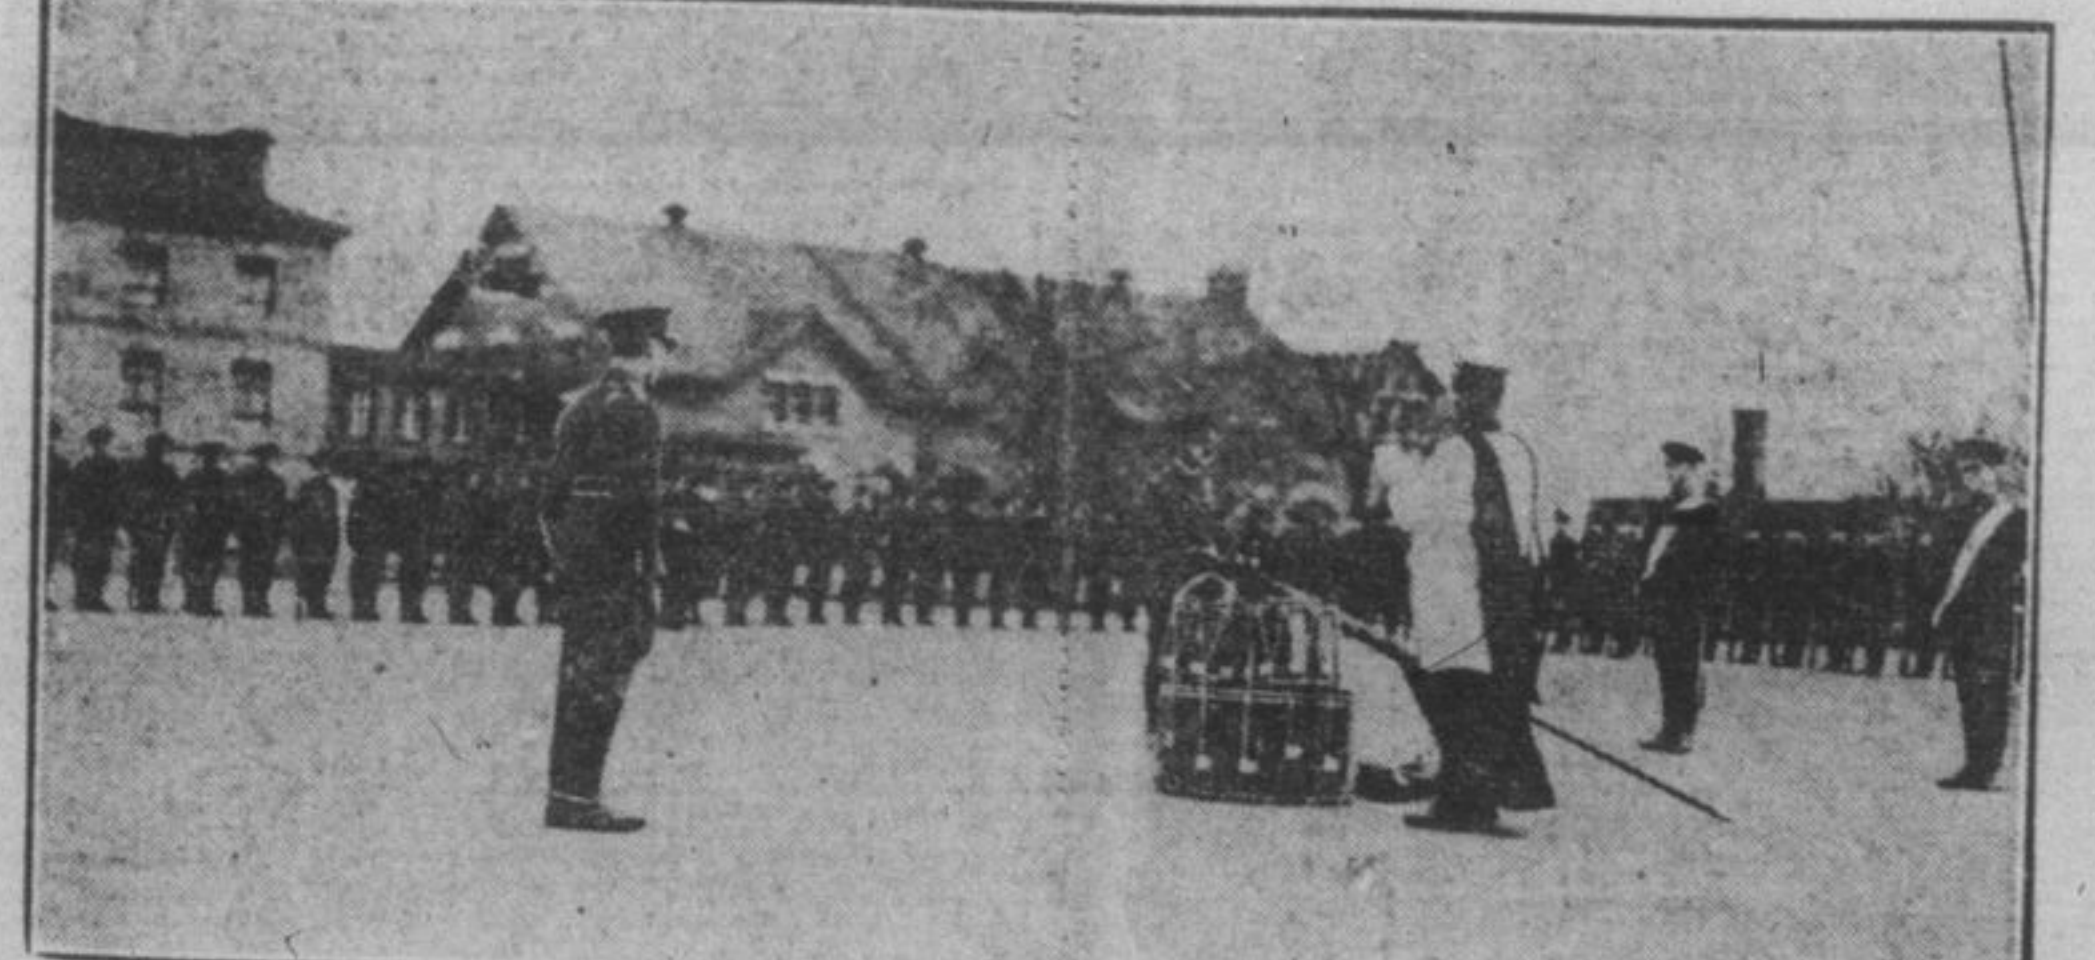

Decreases Against Picture of Ex-Kaiser to Blame.

Berlin, Oct. 28.—Strikes by pupils in the gymnasium and other high schools, having largely increased lately, the Minister of Education, Herr Haensisch decrees that the strikers must be immediately excluded and cannot re-enter any other high school without the minister's special permission. Both reactionary and republican papers blame Haensisch for the frequency of the strikes. The former say they are due to the minister's decrees against the picture of the ex-Kaiser, while the latter blame his tendency toward counter-revolutionary elements among the principals.

Read Whig Forty Years. Steven Jones of Westport, formerly of Crow Lake, who has been a subscriber of the Whig for the past forty years, was a caller at the Whig on Tuesday. Although his subscription has not expired he came to the Whig office for the purpose of renewing his paper for another year. The Whig hopes that Mr. Jones will be accompanied many more years to read the paper.

There is still no intimation from the legislative buildings of date set for the resignation of the Heazlet Government. It would seem that the Conservatives and Liberals are waiting for the U.F.O.-Labor coalition to make the first move. CADETS CONTINUE TO WIN

DEFEAT QUEEN'S JUNIOR RUGBY TEAM 20 TO 9.

The Students Were Too Light to Oppose the Sturdy Young Soldier Lads From Navy Bay.

The junior intercollegiate series played off another game on Monday afternoon at the Athletic Grounds, when Queen's met the R.M.C. eleven. The cadets went home with another victory to their credit, with a score of 20-9. The teams went on the field at 2:30 p.m. and a fast keen game ensued. Weight, hopelessly handicapped the Tricolor team, who were bowled over right along by the R.M.C. scrimmage. Some very nice tackling was seen on both sides and the formation and line work of the cadets was excellent. Mills, the Queen's flying wing, did some good work, and Dolan the quarter was in considerably better shape than at the last game. The best part of the game was a free fight that occurred in the last quarter, when Minnes of the Tricolor and Evans, the R.M.C. flying wing mixed things up for a while. They were separated, although both seemed very willing to continue.

VEToes PROHIBITION BILL

BUT U.S. HOUSE RE-PASSES IT OVER THE VETO.

The Senate Also to Get Busy—Dry Leaders Expect to Re-Pass the Measure Without Difficulty.

Washington, Oct. 28.—President Wilson unexpectedly vetoed the prohibition enforcement bill yesterday and within three hours the House had re-passed it over his veto by a vote of 176 to 55. The total vote was barely more than a majority of the entire membership.

Dry leaders in the senate immediately began laying plans to re-pass the bill there. They expect to ask unanimous consent for its consideration to-day, claiming enough votes to put it through. They expect to act on it by Wednesday at the latest.

The president refused to sign the bill because it included the enforcement of war-time prohibition. The objects of war-time prohibition, the president in his veto had been satisfied, and "sound public policy makes clear the reason and necessity for its repeal."

It would not be difficult, the president held for Congress to deal separately with the two issues. The veto hit Congress like a crack of lightning. The House, getting on its feet again, deserted its leaders, who wanted to defer consideration until Thursday so as to round up all the dry members. But the drys swept into the chamber and showed there was an overwhelming sentiment among them to give the Government ample weapons for dealing with the liquor traffic, now outlawed throughout the land.

Somebody had really professed to know that the president would veto the bill. Republicans and Democrats alike and the countless multitude that had sorrowfully watched the passing of the bars—thought it would become a law without his signature.

Attorney-General Palmer, it was said, had declared it constitutional. But the president, propped up in bed, dictated and then signed the veto message and sent it along to Congress, without worrying apparently about what Congress might do.

With re-passage of the law by the House, and the prospect of the same thing happening in the Senate, hope of the big "wet spell" that would run over the Christmas season vanished into thin air.

Prohibition leaders last night predicted that the refusal of the House to accept the president's veto meant that the sale of liquor would not be permitted again in the life of this and many other generations.

PREDICTS OPEN WINTER

Canadian Farmer Says the Weather Will Be Mild.

Buffalo, N.Y., Oct. 28.—More indications of an open winter are being received. The latest optimistic report came from J. G. Willett, who has a small farm a mile east of Crystal Beach. He is the first in from Canada with an open winter prediction.

Mr. Willett brought with him a newspaper office here a small box of strawberries, which he said he had plucked from plants in his yard. He insisted that the reporters taste them to test their splendid quality.

"They are growing in profusion this fall," said Willett. "We picked enough the other day to make a shortcake—you know one of those made out of a couple of buttered pieces of biscuit with a lot of fresh juicy berries 'in between. It was great."

"We've got a Marshal B. Wilder rosebush in our yard, too, and that is just having its third bloom. I never knew that bush to bloom in the fall before."

"Up under one of the eaves of our house is a little place where chipmunks stay each year. This is the first time since we have lived over there that it has not been stocked up with nuts, and there are plenty of nuts around this year."

"These things certainly point to an open winter and I am glad we are going to have mild weather."
