R. E. KENT AGAIN ELECTED

AS CHAIRMAN OF GENERAL HOSPITAL BOARD OF GOVERNORS.

Total Expenditure Last Year, $114,805.26—Only Careful Management Prevented a Large Deficit.

After a short monthly meeting, which took place in the boardroom of Kingston General Hospital on Monday afternoon, the Board of Governors proceeded with the annual meeting and the election of officers for the year. The nominating committee presented the following names, which were unanimously agreed to: R. E. Kent, chairman; F. G. Lockett, vice-chairman; A. F. Chown, honorary secretary; R. F. Elliott, William Jackson, Harold Davis, committee of management; G. Y. Chown, representing Queen's University.

Very interesting and satisfactory reports were brought in by the chairman, superintendent of nurses, Miss C. Boskill, Nurses' Alumnae and Woman's Aid Society. A hearty vote of thanks was passed by the governors for these reports and also for the good work which they intimated had been done.

Several of the members present expressed their keen satisfaction that Mr. Kent was willing to take the chairmanship for another year. It was stated that although there had been many good efficient chairmen probably no one had given the time and attention to the hospital that Mr. Kent had done, as it came to his lot to guide the hospital during the difficult days of the war which were not only strenuous in every department, but in which it was exceedingly difficult to procure such help as would guarantee efficient service. Mr. Kent, on the other hand, thanked the committee of management for the assistance given him in the work, and he was very pleased that the same men had consented to act again.

The total expenditure, in other words the cost of running the hospital for the year, was the largest in its history, amounting to $114,805.26. Only the most careful and wise handling of the finances prevented a large deficit.

The superintendent of nurses' report contained the statement that 141 had applied for admission to the training school. This speaks well for the popularity of the hospital as a means of training for the nursing profession. Twenty-two nurses graduated during the year, and it was reported that there were 20 deaths among the nurses, notwithstanding the epidemic of influenza, during which so many nurses lost their lives in other places.

The members present were: R. E. Kent (chairman), F. G. Lockett (vice-chairman), A. Shaw, E. N. F. McParlane, G. E. Hague, William Jackson, Prof. D. H. Marshall, Dr. R. W. Garrett, A. F. Chown and Jas. A. Minnes.

Visiting governors for the month are Dr. Garrett and James A. Minnes.

And in Heaven with joy to greet him,
Where no farewell tears are shed.

"Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends."

I cannot say, and I will not say,
That he is dead, he is just away,
With a cheery smile and a wave of the hand,
He has wandered into an unknown land,
And left us wondering how very fair,
It needs not be, since he lingers there,
And you, Oh you, who the widest years,
For the old-time step and the glad return,
Think of him faring on as dear
In the love of there, as the love of here,
Think of him still as the same, I say,
He is not dead, he is just away.
—Mother, brothers and sisters.

R. WALDRON

Theatrical

At The Grand.

A crook who is after the biggest game in the world, a girl's heart, is the newest character portrayed by Geo. Walsh, in the latest William Fox production, "Luck and Pluck", which opened at the Grand yesterday. Walsh is seen in an amazing series of stunts, all of which tend to break up a desperate gang of enemy secret agents who have been using the daughter of an American Intelligence Officer as their dupe. He steals everything he can in his efforts to aid the girl. He does nothing actually dishonorable, however. In the end he rescues her from almost certain death, after the Germans have abducted her with a view to taking her to Germany on a submarine. For thrills, this picture is about the best in which Walsh has appeared, and in addition combines patriotism with a real, live American story. There is another special feature picture "Comradeship" with Lily Elsie in the stellar role. This picture deals with the war-time and the reconstruction period in England, and among other interesting scenes, shows London at the time of the signing of the armistice. One of the favorite Mutt and Jeff cartoon comedies and "The Ozars" in their amusing novelty act of high class vaudeville complete the bill for tonight and tomorrow.—Adv.

At Griffin's.

Beautiful Elsie Ferguson charmed another large audience at Griffin's last evening, where she was shown "The Marriage Price," one of her most recent pictures, and one which cannot fail to please all who see it. The story deals with a girl of extravagant tastes, who suddenly loses her income, and is reduced to poverty, and who spurns the offer made from a rich but blunt westerner, believing all the time that she loved the other man, who later proves to be a despicable cad, and it is only after a long time, when the true-hearted westerner shows up the other man in his real colors that she learns she has loved him always. Some beautiful settings and excellent photography lend additional attraction to the production, and taken as a whole it is one of the best Miss Ferguson has been seen in in some time. A special Outing picture and other good subjects are shown in conjunction with the above feature and make up a programme of excellent merit, which should be seen by everyone.—Adv.
