Theatrical

At the Grand.
"One Week of Life," Pauline Frederick's new Goldwyn Picture, will be seen at the Grand for the first time to-night, and tells an interesting story, as might be expected, from so able a playwright as Cosmo Hamilton. Mrs. Kingsley Sherwood is bored alike with her society life and her hypochondriac husband. As usual, there is a plot. The woman frankly voices her desire to steal away and spend a week of life with the man she loves, but conventions will not allow it. At this point the man meets a girl of highest principles, Marion Roche. He induces her to take the place of Mrs. Sherwood in the latter's home, explaining that she will only encounter the husband at dinner. As his most powerful argument, he lies and says that Mrs. Sherwood is prevented from visiting her sick child in the country through the restrictions of her husband. Marion reluctantly consents. What happens to this curious quartet promises to make screen history. There is another fine feature, and with the comedies and other reels and an act of college variety, this bill is sure to make a big hit. This programme will be seen to-night, Friday and Saturday.—Adv.

"Experience" Coming.
"Experience," aptly described as the most wonderful play in America, now in its sixth season of remarkable prosperity, will be presented by F. Ray Comstock and Morris Gest at the Grand Opera House one night only, Tuesday, November 18th. The career of "Experience" in the past few years has been little less than remarkable, and the announcement of the coming of this big dramatic and comedy success is sure to result in capacity houses. Six years ago Messrs. Comstock and Gest produced this play for the first time, and since then it has played in most of the big cities of the United States from coast to coast and has enjoyed remarkable endorsement from press and clergy everywhere it has been presented. Now for its sixth season the managers have provided a complete new scenic production and new costumes for the ladies in the company. The cast has been selected with great care, and will be one of the strongest that has ever presented this wonderful morality play.—Adv.

At Griffin's.
Appearing in one of the most remarkable productions ever seen in this city, Lina Cavalieri, the beautiful Paramount star, and world-famed diva, will be seen in her splendid portrayal of the Duchess of Gismonda, in the photoplay, "Love's Conquest," which will headline the programme at Griffin's to-day, Friday and Saturday. Not since "The Eternal Temptress," in which this famous star was displayed at this playhouse, has this charming actress been seen to such splendid advantage as in her portrayal of this ardent role, so filled with the romance of mediaeval times, manners and customs. The picture is one of great dramatic interest, and the production in every respect is a masterpiece. In the portrayal of the role of Gismonda the fine dramatic talent of Mme. Cavallieri is strained to the utmost, but she acquits herself with satisfying artistry. In the portrayal of this role Mme. Cavallieri wears her famous jewels, which long have been a source of amazement and delight to operative devotees. Don't miss this picture or you will miss one of the best productions of the season.—Adv.

At The Strand.
Like the greatest of all his stage successes, "Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford" is Hale Hamilton's new picture play, a peppery comedy-drama called "The Four Flusher" in which he will appear at the Strand theatre on Friday and Saturday. The role portrayed by the forceful young Metro star, that of Lon Withers, a young New York clerk who puts on a big front in a daring bid for a big contract, is very similar to that made famous by him in the sensational stage success in which he was seen in all quarters of the globe. Different from either "After His Own Heart," "Five Thousand and an Hour," or even "Full o' Pep" is this newest vehicle of Hamilton's, which is an original story written especially for him by Isola Forrester and Max Page. It is a breezy, powerful tale of finance, generously sprinkled throughout with gripping adventure and a beautiful love theme, produced under the direction of Harry L. Franklin at the Metro studios in an atmosphere of luxury and wealth. Supporting Mr. Hamilton in "The Four Flusher" are Ruth Stonehouse, Louis Fitzroy, Harry Holden, Ralph Bell, Robert Badger, Frederic Malatesta and Elsie Conley. Mr. Hamilton is said to be at his best in this new picture, which gives him the fullest scope for his remarkable comedy talents.—Adv.

ICE BUILDING ON FIRE.
Brigade Had a Call Early on Thursday Morning.
The fire brigade had a call at 1.50 a.m. Thursday to the Kingston Ice Company's premises on the corner of King and Colingwood streets. The building was in flames then, but the brigade soon had the blaze under control. The cause of the fire is at present unknown. The rafters and the front of the building were pretty badly gutted. The damage will amount to $500.
Mayor Newman, who lives near by the scene of the fire, was out watching the work of the firemen, and he took occasion to compliment them on the fast run they had made.

Queen's Wireless Club.
An organization meeting of a wireless club was held at Queen's, and a fair number of the dot and dash enthusiasts were present. Those officers were elected: Prof. L. W. Gill, honorary president; W. A. Marson, president; Mr. McLeod, vice-president; Mr. Blake, secretary-treasurer; G. Hepburn, critic; and John Miller, orator. It was decided to try and obtain a site in the city on which to rear an aerial, and it is very possible in the near future that there will be an inter-university wireless club. Great interest is being shown in the project at Queen's, and a large number of the students are going into it.

ADMITTED SELLING LIQUOR

MAGISTRATE IMPOSED FINE OF $200 AND COSTS IN COURT

A Charge of Theft Was Laid Over for a Week—Case Against Young Man For Selling Liquor Was Dismissed.
Selling liquor is a most profitable business if you do not get caught. Bernard Birmingham got caught, and in Police Court on Thursday morning, he pleaded guilty to selling liquor without a license, and was fined $200 and costs. The fine was paid, and as the charge was laid by the police, this money goes into the coffers of the city.

Russell Northmore is accused of stealing a watch and other articles, the property of one John Barclay, but the case was laid over for a week. The accused was arrested on Wednesday by Constable Thomas Mullinger.

A young man, who was accused of selling liquor without a license, and whose case has been adjourned on two occasions, again appeared before the court, but the charge was dismissed as there was no evidence against him.

DOINGS AT THE Y.M.C.A.

Annual Bible Class Supper on Friday Evening.

One of the new prospects of the Y.M.C.A. is a junior business men's basket ball league, the need for which has been suggested by the increasing number of old players appearing twice a week now in the gymnasium.

The Sunday morning bible class boys are joyfully anticipating their annual sociable night which is scheduled Friday at 8:30, when the Mother's Council of the "Y" will indulge these young students of the good book in a tempting supper which will be followed by a programme.

The return to the gymnasium of many of the overseas members has raised an insistent clamor for the reorganization of the Sunday school basket ball league which was a great feature in pre-war days. It is likely that a meeting of Sunday school representatives will be called at an early date, and all Sunday school superintendents will do well to see that their schools are represented in this clean sport.

The members are wondering when the painters are going to come in and work that long talked of transformation in the Boys' Club room, dining room and kitchen.

The boys are getting keyed up for the annual membership campaign, and indications are it will be a "humdinger."

TWAS A GREAT SUCCESS.

Bazaar Held Under Auspices of St. Mark's Church Guild.

The annual bazaar, under the auspices of St. Mark's church Guild, Barriefield, was held on Wednesday afternoon in the Barriefield hall, and was voted by all as the most successful event held in the history of the guild. There was a good attendance.

The hall was very beautifully decorated with flags and bunting. The general management of the tables was under the direction of Mrs. S. Brooks, the president. The various tables were well arranged, and presented a splendid array of nice things.

They included a fancy work table, home made table, tea table, ice cream and candy, home-made candy and other sweets. Each table was ably presided over by Mrs. E. Murray looked after the duties at the door. The proceeds will amount to over $275, and of this $260 will be clear profit.

The many ladies who helped to make the affair a success are deserving of much credit for the result of their efforts.
