

Overcoats

Your style preference is here, backed by the quality that will make the style last. That's what counts these days of high prices. No amount of skilful designing and clever pressing can take the place of good materials and expert tailoring—styles that meet the young man's fancy—brisk, vigorous styles reflecting the spirit of youth and action—Form-Fitting, Belted and half-belted Coats, high waist, broad lapel effects, with flare or straight line skirts—live materials that conform to the spirit of the design.

"Bringing Up Father" To-night.
The clever and enjoyable comedies of George McManus, "Bringing Up Father," which have been placed upon the stage by that astute manager and discoverer of cartoon celebrities, Gus Hill, will be the attraction at the Grand Opera House to-night with the customary matinee. Probably no caricature of recent years has won such popular acclaim as have the pictures of the good-natured Jiggs Mahoney and his wife, known the whole world over as "Mother." They are more or less a household word. Which goes to prove that the whole universe likes to laugh, no matter what the medium might be. In this particular instance the instrument of laughter is a three-act comedy with music, and containing a real story, plot and brimful of action of the kind that lingers in the soul. The title of the play? Quite important to be sure. It is called "Bringing Up Father in Society."—Advt.

Coming to the Grand.
For Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday the management of the Grand offer Douglas Fairbanks in his latest production, "One of the Boys." "Doug" is always seen in a picture that has all the holding power of a three ring circus, and this play is no exception to the rule. The scene is laid in a small South American republic and offers many opportunities for this talented star to exercise his athletic abilities and the many dramatic, and at the same time laughable, situations go to make up a play of exceptional power, and thrilling situations that this picture abounds with make the audience sit very straight in their seats and hold their breath through most of the play. There are eight reels of solid enjoyment in this picture, and the audience is sure to go home feeling well satisfied. The bill is completed by the reels of comedy and Pathe News and an act of splendid vaudeville that comes to Kingston highly recommended.—Advt.

At Griffin's.
William Farnum, the famous star of many big picture successes, will be seen at Griffin's, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday in his latest deluxe production, "Wolves of the Night," said to be the most powerfully dramatic picture in which this great screen star has been seen. "Wolves of the Night" stands out in bold relief among the many big successes of Mr. Farnum as a picture unsurpassed in melo-dramatic force. In it he possesses a role startling in the intensity of its pathos and extraordinary in its demands upon histrionic ability of the first order. It is a picture throbbing throughout with that acutely sympathetic element which holds an audience spell-bound, and terrific in the overwhelming power of its climax. "Wolves of the Night" is a great photoplay, carrying a great story, and is rich in romance and stirring action. Nothing that Farnum has done since "Les Miserables" equals in pathos and power his work in this photo-drama of love, high finance, of tragedy, conspiracy and revenge. See William Farnum at his greatest.—Advt.

At The Strand.
How a patient man's love may be killed by a woman who is too cold, and how later he may find his ideal in a child of warm, impulsive Italy, is told in "Human Desire," in which Anita Stewart is starred. The scenes of the picture are laid in Italy, and in and around New York City, and will be seen at the Strand on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Miss Stewart has the part of a little Italian girl who has been brought up in a convent. She never has seen a real baby, yet she loves babies more than anything else in the world, and daily brings lilies which she lays in the arms of the Frenchie Madonna, which stands in the convent where she lives. Two American women come there, and she asks them if there are real babies in the world. They tell her that there are lots of them in America, and that some of them are cold and hungry. This touches the heart of Berenice, the Italian girl, and she decides that she will go to America, and comfort the cold, hungry babies. So, after a great storm which breaks open the front door of the convent, she escapes and starts. On the beach she finds boy's clothes. Putting these on she is later found by an American, the lover of one of the women who came to the convent, and taken to his hotel. He decides to help such a pretty boy who seems without friends or money. He finds "he" is a girl, learns of her desire to go to America, and furnishes her with funds to do so. She misses a man whom he had cabled to meet her upon her arrival in the United States.—Advt.

AN UNDER-CURRENT AGAINST MONARCHY Said to Exist Among the Italian Forces of Gabriele D'Annunzio.

(Canadian Press Despatch)
The situation on the Adriatic as the result of Gabriele D'Annunzio's campaign has reached a grave crisis. Private advices leave no doubt that he intends to annex Dalmatia and attack Montenegro. The Jugo-Slavs are stated to have concentrated troops and to be prepared to resist aggression. A still more alarming report says a republican undercurrent directed against the Italian monarchy exists among D'Annunzio's forces. It is not known, however, whether the insurgent post-leader shares the reported ambition of this military element to attack the government.

GERMAN BARQUE IN TROUBLE.
Three Hundred and Fifty Miles off Halifax.
(Canadian Press Despatch)
Halifax, Nov. 22.—The German four-masted barque Paul is in distress 350 miles south-east of Halifax, and is asking for a tow from Halifax, but that it was understood this morning, could not be supplied, and a wireless message telling of her condition has been sent broadcast in the hope that steamers will be able to render her assistance.

WILL REPOPULATE FARMS OF ONTARIO

The New Minister Plans to Solve Problem of Rural Shortage.

Toronto, Nov. 22.—The Department of Agriculture of the new Provincial Government, working in conjunction with the Provincial Department of Lands, Forests and Mines, and the Immigration Department of the Dominion Government, are preparing to deliver a telling blow at the present problem of rural depopulation in Ontario. The exodus of farmers and farmers' sons to the urban centres of population has had, perhaps, the greatest direct effect of any one element upon the agricultural production of Ontario and an effort is to be made as soon as possible by Hon. Manning Doherty, Minister of Agriculture, and Hon. Beniah Bowman, Minister of Lands and Forests to repopulate the farms of this province to a considerable extent by a desirable class of immigrants from the British Isles.

The first step towards such action on the part of the new ministers will be taken when a conference will be held at the Parliament buildings between Hon. Manning Doherty and a representative of the Federal Department of Immigration.

Hon. M. Doherty stated that he proposed meeting this problem to as great an extent as possible by carefully selected immigration from the British Isles, who would be given every justifiable encouragement by the Ontario Government.

BRITISH SEA SPIRIT IS THE REAL THING

Admiral Jellicoe Says German Navy Failed For Want of It.

Vancouver, Nov. 22.—In a brief address before leaving for the East Admiral Jellicoe said:

"That our navy kept up absolutely to the mark during the war, was I think due to the fact that the British seaman has the real sea spirit. That is where they differed from the Germans. The principal reason the German navy broke up was because the Kaiser tried to install this spirit and I had an opportunity of seeing his efforts at Kiel regatta before the war. What he did succeed in doing was installing a system of splendid discipline, but he failed to inculcate the sea spirit. Sea-power is a very real thing and it is just as important to the farmer in the interior as to the coast resident for without command of the sea the farmer could not dispose of his product."

Vicar's Salary Hard Hit.

Great Harwood, Lancashire, Eng., Nov. 22.—The plight of the British middle class owing to the increased cost of living and the heavy taxing is instanced by the case of that famous scholar and gentleman, the Rev. A. F. Johnson, Vicar of Great Harwood, who complains that while other people have been getting increased wages and war bonuses he has had nothing and to-day is $500 a year worse off than he was before the war. He has contributed three sons to the war, each of whom has been wounded.

Municipal tramway employees of Greater Britain have decided to break away from the union of transport workers, as they are unwilling to take part in hopeless strikes.
