Doctors who give orders for liquor as a medicine will have to see to it that their patients stick to the rules and not take an overdose. It is hard to get people to take a full dose of the ordinary medicine.

Some person is always trying to take the joy out of life. It is hard to get boots, and now the milk dealers threaten to close up shop. Some of these days the "bootleggers" will have made their pile and they will be putting up the shutters too.

Our old troublemaker, the false alarm bell, is in our midst again. The City Council should offer a liberal reward for the capture of this fellow. Outside of the Kaiser, he is the most popular man with Fire Chief Armstrong's squad. Get a dose of tar and feathers ready for him in case he is caught.

In these days when everything is so dear, it is most refreshing to read that the Civic Utilities has under consideration a reduction in gas and water rates. Every little bit helps. More power to the Civic Utilities.

When will egg sandwiches be as popular as the luscious counters as they were some time ago? Only the millionaires can indulge in such luxuries now. Ham and eggs used to be the popular "eats" in the restaurants but oh boy, not now!

Arctics and storm shoes for men, women and children—warm, fleece-lined—will keep out snow and slush. Nothing like Arctics for comfort.
