Many passenger trains will be cut off if the soft coal strike continues. Will the airplane then come into its own? An aerial trip, say, to Montreal, would be a pretty cold one during a Canadian winter's day, though perhaps one wouldn't mind the cold on the way back.

When asked if he intended to resign from the Hydro Commission. Hon, I. B. Lucas, ex-attonery-general, replied: "I am not doing any thinking at all these days." But wasn't this same failure to "do any thinking" on the part of Mr. Lucas and his fellow ministers largely responsible for the downfall of the Hearst government?

Some day good sense will reign again, so let's throw up our hats; some day we'll all be same again. our belfries free from bats. Some day we'll quit our colory and buckle down to toll, cut out the rant and droolery, and make the kettle boil. Some day we'll tire of clamoring and pawing up the ground, of knocking and of hammering, of yawps and empty sound. We'll tire of all the driveling of loud windsamming men, and we'll go swiftly swiveling to our old jobs again. The brawny handed carpenter, will pass the windsmiths by; his plane, when he has sharp-ened her, will make the shavings fly. The blacksmith blithely, gaudily, will make his bellows roar, and he will fire out bodily the strike-suggesting bore.
