EDWARD M'ARDLE FOUND MURDERED IN CHICAGO, ILL.

A former well-known resident of Kingston has met with foul play in Chicago, in the person of Edward M'ardle. He was a cousin of Mrs. Reynolds, 445 Alfred street, and the latter received a telegram on Saturday night, informing her that Mr. M'ardle had been found murdered. No particulars were given apart from the fact that he had been found murdered.

Mrs. Reynolds was anxious to secure further particulars, but on account of the big storm the telegraph wires were put out of business, and she was unable to do so.

Edward M'ardle was twenty-five years of age, and was cigarmaker by trade. Previous to leaving Kingston several years ago, he was employed at McGowan's cigar factory. He was married, and is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Ethel Tisdale, of Barriefield, and three children.

ORDER OF TRANSFER

Comes To Adjutant and Mrs. Smith—Kingston Is Sorry.

Adjutant A. J. Smith, local representative of the Salvation Army, has received orders to proceed to Ottawa and take up duties there. He will be succeeded by Adjutant Mahue of Belleville.

City officials and members of the various societies and churches engaged in social work in the city were sorry indeed when acquainted with the order, because of the very valuable work performed by Adjutant and Mrs. Smith during the six years that they have been in Kingston. The W.C.T.U., the National Council of women and kindred organizations are particularly affected by the departure of Mrs. Smith who, in addition to her many duties, also acted as police man. It is reported that an effort will be made to have the order cancelled, and most earnest representations are being prepared for transmission to the Salvation Army Headquarters, Toronto.

ALMA MATER SOCIETY

The Nominations Took Place on Saturday Evening.

At the regular meeting of the Alma Mater Society of Queen's University on Saturday evening, nominations for the ensuing year took place as follows: Honorary President, Prof. O. D. Skelton; president, J. H. Burry, B.A., and L. G. Keill, B.A., first vice-president, C. R. Belton and B. C. Throop; second vice-president, H. M. Thomas and K. R. Maitland; secretary, J. Greig and A. B. Ransom; treasurer, C. W. Houghton and W. G. Minner; clerk, C. P. McArthur and G. C. Mallory; athletic stick, V. L. Taft and K. E. Taylor; assistant secretary, Miss Lucille Corbett and Miss Jean Govan; rector, Brig.-Gen. A. E. Ross (acclamation).

During the evening a debate on the subject, "Resolved that government railroads should revert to private ownership" was held, and resulted in the judges, Prof. J. F. Macdonald and Prof. W. C. Clarke, giving a decision in favor of the affirmative. The debaters were J. S. Curtis and W. T. Brown of Art's 20 for the affirmative, and A. B. Ransom and C. Anderson, Art's 21 for the negative. The jazz band of Science '22 rendered selections.

A Greeting From California.

Postmaster James Stewart, secretary of St. Andrew's Society, sent the following message of greeting to W. G. Craig, who is spending the winter at Pasadena, California: "Greeting fra St. Andrew's Society. Guld health attend ye."

In reply Mr. Craig, who is one of the oldest members of the society, sent this note: "Thanks for the telegram. Take me back to Canada. To the land of the Maple Leaf. Where the sun is always shining. On my home that knows no grief. And when I see that Union Jack, I'll shout, 'Hurrah, I'm glad I'm back. In Canada, my Canada, And I'll sing 'God Save Our Gracious King.' In the land of the Maple Leaf."

Successful Revival Services.

The revival services conducted at the Trades and Labor Hall on Sunday afternoon and evening were a great success. R. E. Stornall conducted the services, and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Lankin, of Vancouver, B.C., took a prominent part. The afternoon service took place at 2.30 p.m., and the evening service at 7.30. There was a good attendance at both services, and at the conclusion testimonials were called for, and a large number responded. These services will be continued on Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday of this week.

Prof. J. L. Morrison, of Kingston, spoke before the Canadian Club in Toronto Monday afternoon on "With Albany in Palestine."

Biggs is a Friend of Good Roads Policy

He Would Extend the Ontario Highway to Every Part of The Province.

Motorists are a little better pleased with Hon. Mr. Biggs' latest declaration regarding his good roads policy for Ontario than they were about his utterance some days earlier. On the first occasion Mr. Biggs stated that the farmer would rather have thirty miles of road on which one thousand dollars a mile had been spent than one mile on which $30,000 had been spent. He thought "the fairest and most economical policy with regard to highway improvement would be one of continuous repair based on an even distribution of the funds available."

After discussing the subject with many good road enthusiasts and looking over a considerable part of the Provincial highway, Mr. Biggs now says that the Provincial highway should be 1,500 instead of 500 miles long and he would like to see it extended so as to touch every county in the Province. He believes it would be Ontario's best advertisement. Mr. Biggs, however, is strong for the encouragement of township roads.

Mr. Biggs was in Kingston on Friday in connection with the provincial highway.

JOSEPH JOYNER MEETS DEATH AT WATERTOWN

Struck by a Train While Returning Home—Formerly Lived in Kingston.

A sad accident occurred early Sunday morning at Watertown, N.Y., when Joseph Joyner, formerly of this city, lost his life while crossing the tracks at the New York Central station, where he was employed.

How the accident happened is not yet known, but it is supposed he was returning from night duty at an early hour, and in the darkness and storm, walked into a moving train. His body was found at half past five o'clock, Sunday morning, in a mangled condition.

He leaves a wife, formerly Miss Mabel Purdy of this city, one child, his father, at Komptville, two brothers, William at Oakville, and John at Alexandria, and two sisters, Mrs. George D. Gordon, Komptville, and Mrs. H. V. Callaghan, of this city.

PULLED FIRE ALARM; GUILTY BOY CAUGHT

Pleaded Guilty and is Allowed To Go on Suspended Sentence.

In the Juvenile Court on Monday morning, a lad aged ten years pleaded guilty to sending in a false alarm on Saturday. For some time the local fire department has been called out only to find that some person had sounded the fire alarm although there was no fire.

On Saturday morning Chief Armstrong got busy, with the result that on Monday morning the lad was before the court and allowed to go on a suspended sentence.

As the lad stated that he only sent in one alarm, it is thought there is still another lad working on the game.

A couple of lads were before the court charged with stealing a small wagon. The boys agreed to pay the cost of the wagon, so the case was settled.

LADIES' MUSICAL CLUB

An Excellent Programme was Rendered on Saturday Afternoon.

In spite of the inclement weather, there was a good attendance at the meeting of the Ladies' Musical Club in Convocation Hall, on Saturday afternoon. The programme was one of very high merit and was much enjoyed by all present. A number of new members were received into the club.

The programme included a duet by the Misses Nobes and Clough; vocal selections by Miss R. McLean; instrumentals by Harold Peck; vocal numbers by Miss Gertrude Munton; instrumentals by Miss Ena Barnes. Every number on the programme provided a fine treat, and all taking part are deserving of much praise for their work.

The Man Behind.

(Woodstock Sentinel-Review)

But, after all, the ballot is merely a means to an end. It is a very important means, but it is as easy to use it foolishly as it is to use it wisely; perhaps much easier. It is not the ballot itself that counts so much as what is behind the ballot.

Government Ships to Australia.

A Message From Santa Claus

Iceland, Dec. 1st.

Dear Children of Kingston:

Started from the North Pole yesterday, have landed here for the night in a big field of snow and ice. My reindeers are pulling their big load of goodies nearer to you every minute. Be good and Santa will be good to you. I am sending a big stuffed likeness of myself to Steacys in Kingston, who will put it in their window to remind you and your parents I'll soon be with you.

Your dear old friend,
SANTA.

P.S.—My fairies will answer your letters if you send them to Steacys—"The store with the Christmas spirit." S. K.

Please Shop Early

At Christmas time—more especially this Christmas—the early bird catches the best assortment of gifts. Labor conditions, a world shortage of merchandise make it impossible for us to replace even at advance prices many of our choice practical gifts, with which this shop abounds. This is not just "hot air," but like everything that appears in these "ads" the plain, unvarnished truth.

And quite apart from that don't you think you will be able to enjoy the Christmas season more if you have all your Xmas boxes packed away?

We might also add you will find our shopping service exceptional at this time, as we have augmented our sales-force for the Christmas trade—and our salespeople can give you so much more attention than they could possibly give during the rush of the last two weeks before Christmas. Of course, we'll be glad to see you at any time, but there really is no more opportune time for you than right now.

The Only Way. (Ottawa Journal)
More than ever education is necessary if the grave problems of the future are to be grappled with and solved; but education can only come if the democracies see to it that the men and women charged with the moulding of mind and character in our schools are of the highest type, intellectually and in every other need.
